Autocratic Powers Given Manager Under Charter; People Do Not Name Him

PARTITION OF COUNTY SEEN IN DOCUMENT

Organic Law of Proposed City and County Merger Printed in Tribune Today for An Analysis by Eastbay Voters

Borough System Not Uniform With No Home Rule Authority Left to Trustees; List of Jobs Almost Endless

Beginning and ending with clauses that recognize the probability of county division and bearing a number of late-hour changes the charter for the proposed city and county of Alameda is completed and ready for submission by the Board of Freeholders. The text in full appears in other columns of today's TRIBUNE. While no date for the election has been set, it is not likely to be held until the latter part of December. The boast is being openly made that a strenuous effort will be put forth to collect a fund of $50,000 from "those particularly interested" to "put over" the charter.

The charter provides for a city manager form of government under which an appointed manager shall have full administrative and appointive powers. He is to name most all of the county officers and employees and may remove any of them at will. The sheriff, county clerk, treasurer, tax collector, recorder, coroner, public administrator, sealer, horticultural commissioner, city attorney and dozens of others are to be appointed by the manager, the assessor, auditor and district attorney being the only officers, outside of the judiciary and councilmen, in whose choice the public is to have a voice.

COUNTY DIVISION IS CONTEMPLATED AT START.

The charter contemplates county division in its first section wherein it states that if the whole county shall favor its adoption the new city and county shall be called "Alameda," but that if a smaller part, including Oakland as the essential city, should favor while the rest opposed, the new city and county that includes Oakland shall be known as "Oakland." It is without the province of the charter to say what the sections left out are to do, but under existing laws both Alameda and Berkeley can form separate city and county governments. It is generally conceded that the first proposition will fail as it requires a majority favorable vote in each of the incorporated cities and towns.

At the close the alternative proposal, which makes division of Alameda county a certainty if Oakland votes for the charter in the second election by a vote large enough to carry it, is stated in entirety and in the legal form prescribed to prepare for the submission of the charter adapted to the smaller limits at another election. This paragraph means that if Berkeley, Alameda, or any incorporated municipality registers an unfavorable vote that new limits may be drawn leaving those places out. In the cases of cities like Piedmont or Emeryville, surrounded by Oakland, the vote of the citizens does not count for they are forced into the city and county. It is the paragraph that opens the way for Berkeley to form its own city and county and for the formation of one or two other cities and counties besides.

MANAGER TO BE CHOSEN BY COUNCIL OF SEVEN.

The city manager, who is given almost unlimited control of the city's affairs, is to be chosen by a council of seven elected from districts outlined in the charter. He is to be paid not less than $12,000 a year. While he appoints practically all of the city officials the public has no word in his election.

Peculiarly the one limit placed on the manager offsets any argument that may be advanced for the "dictator" form of government. Unlike most cities where the manager plan has been tried, in this case he may be removed by a simple majority of the council. While the charter says that the councilmen shall not influence him in the appointment of officials the power wielded over him by four votes of the seven in the council opens the way for political squabbles, continual changing of managers, a patronage ring, and general confusion.

In most cities using the manager plan a public hearing is necessary for discharge of the manager, or a vote of two-thirds or three-fourths of the council.

PECULIAR POWERS GIVEN CORONER.

A peculiar error in the drafting of the charter is one that would give to the coroner the duties of public administrator. "He shall have and exercise all powers conferred and discharge all duties imposed upon public administrators," says the charter, which uses the same language in another paragraph regarding the public administrator. The effect would be to provide for two public administrators and no coroner until some change could be made.

It is impossible in the law to make immediate correction of the mistake which will have to continue through the election. At a later date, if the charter is adopted, an amendment may be proposed and another election will be necessary in order to give the county a coroner.

Arbitrary Powers Of City Manager

Under the charter submitted by the Board of Freeholders the city manager, who is not to be elected by the people, will have, in addition to full administrative powers, the appointment of the following officers:

Sheriff.
County Clerk.
Treasurer.
Tax Collector.
Recorder.
Coroner.
Public Administrator.
Sealer.
Horticultural Commissioner.
Purchasing Agent.
Director Public Works.
Chief of Police.
Fire Chief.
Board of Library Trustees.
Board of Health.
Park Commission.
Recreation Commission.
Board of Public Service.
Harbor Commission.

If the manager, or, in few cases, the council, thinks it necessary to have such boards or officials he may name:

Fish and Game Commission.
Public Defender.
Live Stock Inspector.
City Planning Commission.
Public Utilities Board.

In addition he has complete administrative power, may remove any officers selected by him, has direction over utilities, prepares budget, recommends measures to council and the boroughs, examine affairs of council or boroughs, appoints such advisory boards as he may deem necessary, and name his secretary and deputies.

He is to be paid not less than $12,000 a year and is named by the city council.

Pair Gives Away Baby to Provide For 'Own Future'

Mother Parts With First-Born Though Father of Child Earns $5 a Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The insistence on the part of a young married couple that they desire to part with their four-week-old baby boy, giving him to strangers found through a want ad, startled spectators in Superior Judge Shortall's court today.

The presiding jurist at first, unable to reconcile himself with the situation, had almost decided to try an experiment with mother love but finally complied with the wishes of father and mother and legalized the giving away of the babe.

Harry Bolger, a mechanic employed by a can company, and his wife Helen were the couple who obtained legal guardianship papers over Jack White, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John White of 1656 Ellis street. The Whites carried the babe into court.

"HAD TO LOOK OUT FOR FUTURE," THEY SAID.

They declared that they wanted to give up their first born because the husband earned but $5 a day and they had to look out for the future.

"I can hardly believe my ears," declared the court. "Don't you love your child?"

"Yes, I like little Jack," responded Mrs. White, "but we have to look out for our own future. I can't afford to keep him."

It developed that White, an auto mechanic, earns $5 a day. He told Judge Shortall he thought he could look after his wife and son on that but he repeated the assertion of his wife. "We have to look out for the future."

PARENTS OF NEITHER HAD BEEN WEALTHY.

When the court inquired as to whether the parents of the couple had been wealthy, they responded in the negative.

"Supposing your fathers and mothers had given you up similarly?" interrogated Judge Shortall, but to no purpose.

Mrs. Bolger stated that she had no children, that the Whites were strangers to her, but that she would welcome the baby into her home and bring it up as her own.

INQUIRY INTO MOTOR PLATE AWARD ASKED

Governor Urged to Investigate Letting of $1,375,000 Job to L. A. Concern When Oakland Made Lower Bid

Bonds and $250,000 Forfeit Pledge Offered by Local Men Fail to Bring Result; Daniels Gives Explanation

Investigation of the awarding of a contract by the State Board of Control for automobile plates to a Los Angeles concern over the lower bid of an Oakland company is being asked today of Governor Stephens, the State Motor Vehicle Department, the State Purchasing Agent, and the Board of Control. The award, according to C. De Witt De Mar, managing director of the Schartzer Illuminated License Plate company, means that the state will be forced to pay $19,000 more for the plates and an additional $14,000 because of an exclusive saving in the copyrighted "two-in-one" containers the Shartzer company was ready to furnish.

De Mar charges flatly that the reasons given by the board, that the Shartzer company was not equipped to do the work on time, are not true and that in the situation there is evidence of an attempt to throttle a Northern California industry in favor of the southern firm that has held the contract in the past. He also says that this southern firm, the Kettle company, has been forced to turn over a part of the contract to another company, and that it has been, on two other occasions, late in delivering the plates.

$250,000 FORFEIT OFFERED STATE.

To guarantee that the Oakland firm would make delivery, De Mar says, Norman De Vaux, president of the Chevrolet company, and John R. Miliar, of the California Cotton Mills, and president of the California Manufacturers' association, appeared in Sacramento. Bonds equal to the amount of the contract and $250,000 forfeit were offered by these men who are directors of the Shartzer company, says De Mar, and in addition the plants of the California Cap company and Chevrolet company were available. The cap company has the necessary dies and the motor company is equipped for the enameling work.

Interested in finding out why the lowest contract was not let are the Uptown Association, the Chamber of Commerce, and a number of citizens including members of the legislative delegation.

At Sacramento today G. B. Daniels, chairman of the Board of Control, repeated that the contract was not awarded to the Oakland company because it was not believed that it could turn out the job on time.

DANIELS EXPLAINS LETTING CONTRACT.

"The engineering report is here on file," said Daniels, "and it is to the effect that the Shartzer company was not equipped to furnish us the plates on time. The company did not have the steel, or the dies or the facilities and it was not feasible to award it the work. It is essential that the license plates be delivered on time or the state loses more money than is involved in the difference of price. It is necessary in case of delay to send out cards, then to call them back, and to send out the plates. When a large volume is handled this amounts to thousands of dollars.

"It is not true that the Kettle people have let out a part of their contract to the Norton company of Oakland. What the Norton company is making are the containers, for which the contract was let before the Shartzer people appeared with their container. No one but the Kettle company is making license plates and we have information on hand to show that they are ready to make delivery. The engineering department made a complete examination and the contract was let after the Board of Control, the purchasing agent and the Motor Vehicle department had sat in meeting. If we could have seen any way of saving money we would have done so.

$1,375,000 IS INVOLVED IN LICENSE CONTRACT.

"The question of bonds for guaranty of delivery was not made formally but, even so, would have made little difference as there are so many causes for delay that do not require forfeiture. They really mean little."

Daniels also denied that any Southern California pressure had been brought to bear but intimated that delegations from other points closer to the Shartzer factory had been active. He said that the Board of Control was satisfied that the proper action had been taken and would stand by its position.

The story of the license plate contract started when the state called for bids for approximately $1,375,000 worth of work. There were seven or eight firms to respond and the lowest bid was that of the Shartzer Company, one-half cent less on each pair.

The board then discovered an error in the specifications, which called for four paintings instead of two, and threw out all of the bids. When new bids were called for, the Shartzer Company was again low this time by two cents.

OAKLAND MANUFACTURER RELATES COMPLAINT.

Then, according to De Mar, pressure was brought to bear on the state officials to make it appear that the company could not carry out the contract on time. An engineer, Major Skegg of the Highway Commission, was delegated to make an investigation. De Mar wishes to know why a highway commission employee should be used in investigating a manufacturing plant. According to De Mar, Major Skegg reported that the company could get out the work,

BRITISH ASK IRISH TO NEW PEACE PARLEY

Reply to De Valera's Last Note Invites the Sinn Feiners to Discuss Erin Issues On Their Merits, Not Principles

Next Conference Is Proposed for About September 20 and Belief Expressed That It Will Meet in Scotland

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—President de Valera was invited to bring Irish plenipotentiaries to meet with a special committee of the British cabinet and discuss the Irish situation face to face on or about September 20, in a note sent by the cabinet to Ireland yesterday and made public today.

The British note points out to De Valera that government by consent of the governed is a fundamental part of the British constitution, but insists that such a principle cannot be accepted as a basis for the proposed conference.

Ireland must remain with the empire, the British note says. The note said:

"The principle of government by consent of the governed is a fundamental part of British constitutional development, but we cannot accept as a basis for a practical conference and interpretation of that principle which will commit us to grant any demands you might present even to the extent of setting up a republic and repudiating the crown. You are aware that a conference on such a basis is impossible.

ASKED TO DISCUSS PROPOSALS ON MERITS.

"So applied, the principle of government by consent of the governed would undermine the fabric of any democratic state and drive the civilized world to tribalism.

"On the other hand, we invite you to discuss our proposals on their merits.

"In order that you may not doubt the scope or sincerity of our intentions, it is open to you to raise at the conference the subject of guarantees on any reasonable point, without prejudicing the proposals."

"His majesty's government is loath to believe that you will insist upon rejecting our proposals without a conference. To decline to discuss a settlement which will bestow upon Irish people the fullest freedom for national development within the empire can only mean that you repudiate all allegiance to the crown and all membership of the British commonwealth.

SUGGESTS CONFERENCE BE HELD AT INVERNESS.

"If we are to draw this inference from your letter further discussions will serve no useful purpose and all conferences would be vain. If, however, we are mistaken, as I still hope, and if your real objection to the proposals is that they offer Ireland less than the liberty we described, that objection could be explained at be conference.

"You will agree that this correspondence has lasted long enough.

"The government, therefore, asks a definite reply to whether you are prepared to enter a conference to ascertain how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire can best be reconciled to British national aspirations.

"I suggest that such conference be held at Inverness on September 20."

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—With the British cabinet's note to Eamonn de Valera proposing a peace conference September 20 due at Dublin today belief was strong that the Sinn Fein will accept and will return an answer to Premier Lloyd George within a few days.

The morning newspapers were cautious in their comment. The attitude of the press was summed up by the Daily Telegraph which headed its editorial "Suspense."

"The determination is expressed," said the Daily Telegraph, "to explore every avenue in an attempt to ascertain the will of the mass of the Irish people before ceasing pacific measures. The decision to cease note writing is generally applauded."

It is understood that the proposal is made to hold the Anglo-Irish peace conference at Inverness, Scotland, where the cabinet met yesterday and drafted the Irish note, but it is not yet definitely determined where the parley will take place, if it is held.

PROPOSAL FOR TIME LIMIT IS REJECTED.

It is believed that de Valera's statement in Dublin on Tuesday and his sharp references to a possible English ultimatum was chiefly responsible for the rejection of the proposal that a time limit be given to the Sinn Fein for acceptance or rejection of the six main points in the original English peace offer. The suggestion of an ultimatum was made at the Inverness cabinet meeting, but was voted down.

If the peace parley is held it is probable that the English delegation will be a large one, consisting of Premier Lloyd George, Lord Birkenhead, the lord chancellor; Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary; Austen Chamberlain, government spokesman in the house of commons; Winston Churchill, colonial minister; Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland; Home Secretary Edward Shortt; Sir Lamington Worthington-Evans and the Rt. Hon. Robert Monro.

In the event of a deadlock in the Irish negotiations parliament will be summoned immediately, said an Inverness despatch to the Evening News.

Unemployed Attack Officers; Try to Seize Buildings in Several Big Cities.

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Demonstrations by the unemployed were held throughout England yesterday, and in several cities serious disorders were narrowly averted.

An ugly spirit was in evidence at Bristol, where a crowd attacked the building occupied by the board of guardians and clashed with the police. Banners were broken and a red flag was captured by the police. Finally, the gates before the building were opened and a large body of constables charged upon the crowd, which was dispersed, but the windows in a hundred shops were smashed by the manifestants.

Exciting scenes were witnessed in Liverpool. After an encounter with the police, unemployed workers presented to the council a ten-minute ultimatum, threatening that at the expiration of that time they would not be responsible for the consequences. The lord mayor assured the leaders in the demonstration that a plan would be formulated for finding work.

One of the notable demonstrations occurred in Wales, where 4000 people marched across the mountains from Abertillery to Tredgar, a distance of 12 miles.

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—The services of Boston's unemployed were offered at auction today on Boston Common by Urbain Ledoux, their self-styled shepherd. The men stripped to the waist as Ledoux from the auction block announced their abilities. None found a bid for his services.

A woman promised this and others agreed to furnish shoes and clothing, while a Grand Army veteran promised a dollar.

A promise of a home for a week from one bidder and $2 from an other was made when William Davis was put up. A dog belonging to one of Ledoux' company was sold for $5 and then returned to its owner.

SHOTS FIRED IN HUNT FOR ROY GARDNER

Reports of Guns Heard On McNeil Island, Where Posse Is Seeking Fugitive Bandit; New Clews Are Discovered

Prison Warden Is Scored for His Delay in Notifying Federal Authorities of the Escape; Old Cabins Found

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 8.—A report that guards conducting the search for Roy Gardner, hunted mail bandit, fired upon a man seen in the underbrush on the west side of McNeil's Island at 3 o'clock this morning was received by Warden Thomas Maloney at noon today.

The report to the warden was made by telephone from three different ranch houses. The warden at once despatched a squad of men under the direction of Postal Inspector Case to thoroughly search the vicinity where the shots were said to have been fired.

Because of the wild nature of the terrain in this section of the island, Maloney has been unable to communicate with his various searching parties.

DESERTED CABINS MAY AID FUGITIVE.

For the most part they are working in groups of two and three and will not report back to the prison before nightfall.

The reported shooting, together with clews that developed yesterday, only serve to strengthen the warden's opinion that Gardner is still marooned on the island.

Other prison attaches, however, are beginning to lose confidence in the warden's theory.

Discovery of three apparently deserted cabins by searchers today disclosed the fact that Gardner would have but little difficulty in obtaining civilian clothes and plenty of food.

GARDNER MAY HAVE CIVILIAN CLOTHING.

It is highly probable, some of the searchers believe, that Gardner came across one of these cabins and changed clothes, destroying his prison garb, later swam across to the mainland and now is miles away from the prison.

Bitter criticism of Warden Maloney for his failure to notify the Tacoma and Seattle police and Seattle federal officers of the prison break the day it occurred was voiced here today, by police. Circulars of the escape were not received until nearly forty-eight hours after the break. Police declare if Gardner reached the mainland, he has a long start and probably is far away by this time.

W. F. Case, postal inspector, who took part in the hunt for Gardner following his escape near Castle Rock last June while being brought to McNeil island, and who measured Gardner's footprints at that time, was at the prison yesterday. He closely examined the footprints found on the west shore of the island and declared they are Gardner's.

AUTHORITIES DENY ESCAPE WEEK AGO.

Though prison authorities are certain that Gardner has not escaped from the island, they now admit that his chances for making good his break for liberty are better than ever. The guards thought for a time they had Gardner cornered in a small strip of timbered land.

They say Gardner has eluded them and he must be hiding in the densely timbered part of the island.

The theory that Gardner was wounded at the time of the escape when Everett Impyn was killed and Lowardus Bogart was badly shot through the left lung while trying to escape with him, was definitely discarded today. Careful check shows that none of the residents has been asked by the bandit for aid of any kind.

Reports that Gardner actually escaped from the prison more than a week ago were being denied by prison authorities. The rumor still persists, however, that Gardner got away several days ago and that the news was kept quiet by prison officials.

League Accused of Discriminating Against Neutrals in World War.

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—The delay of the allies in settling the mandate question was laid to the United States by Lord Robert Cecil of England, in a speech before the League of Nations assembly today. Lord Robert Cecil submitted a resolution asking the League council to define the terms of the mandate forthwith "regretting the previous delay in doing so."

Lord Robert's speech and his resolution stirred up the assembly, and when he concluded there was an excited buzz of conversation. Some of the delegates interpreted the speech and the resolution as a direct slap at the United States, which came at a time when the United States is engaged in negotiations with the allies on the question of mandates.

GENEVA, Sept. 8 (By the Associated Press). — Charges that the League of Nations had been extravagant and had discriminated against countries which remained neutral in the World War were made by H. J. Almar Branting of Sweden at this morning's session of the League Assembly. He also criticised the action of the council of the league in awarding the Aland Islands to Finland, saying he regretted "that the council took into consideration arguments that ought not to apply."

Branting suggested that the members of the league might cut off their contributions if the league did not succeed in producing results more in accord with its fundamental principles.

Lord Robert Cecil, who represents South Africa in the Assembly, praised the frankness of Branting, but defended the secretariat of the league from his charges of extravagance and partiality.

the people but by the council and, as he is to be given $100 a month additional salary, a $2,500 fund for entertaining guests, and a $500 fund for urgent necessity, the place is one that will be sought after. The method of choice for this place, that is more than honorary, might easily result in the formation of council cliques, the development of council animosities, and inter-council politics. There is a provision in the council that allows the mayor to spend the $3,000 in extra funds without presenting any vouchers.

In the matter of the election of councilmen in a county urban and suburban the body of Oakland's electorate can have little to say. At any time the council decides there is an emergency the mayor is placed in charge of the police.

There is left open the appointment of any number of employees, and a loophole in the civil service provisions provides for the evading of the competitive examinations. Various departments are given directors, most of them named by the manager, and these directors name subordinates. For instance, the director of public works names the superintendent of streets, building inspector and chief electrician. The city attorney appoints all assistants and is bound by no civil service rules. Neither is the manager asked to comply with civil service regulations in the appointment of his assistants. There is nothing to limit the number of employees or to guarantee any reduction in salary rolls.

PROVISION OF SYSTEM OF CIVIL SERVICE.

In the civil service provisions there is one that officers requiring "peculiar and exceptional qualifications of scientific or expert character" may be omitted from competition on recommendation of the council. In this case it is not considered that the scientific or expert employee is best discovered by a test of knowledge, and the way is open to classify any man who is to be rewarded politically as "an expert." There also is not specified any provision for an appeal by a discharged employee, unless it is contemplated the procedure of present board or state civil service shall apply.

The list of officers and employees includes clerks in the boroughs, special constabulary for the sheriff, and assistants in all of the departments. In but few instances are any limits placed and, in those instances, they are nullified by provisions that the council may at any time increase the number. In place of deputy county officials there are borough officials and "such assistants as are necessary" and in place of deputy sheriffs there is established a constabulary to police the county. There is as much business to transact, if not more, than in the present county and there must be men to perform the duties. In providing for these men the existing limitations to number are, in effect, removed.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO BE NAMED BY MAYOR.

The public is to have no voice in the selection of a board of education, that duty being one of the few given to the mayor. The other commissions and boards, and there are a large number stipulated and provided for if considered necessary, are named by the manager.

After providing for a metropolitan council of seven members at $250 a month each, the charter outlines the districts.

The boroughs of Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville, Hayward, Livermore, Oakland, Piedmont, Pleasanton, and San Leandro are created in a section which also defines the limits of these boroughs. Each borough is to elect a board of trustees of five members who shall serve without compensation. The borough clerk shall be appointed by the manager. Except to recommend the appointment of the borough clerk the board of trustees of the boroughs of Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville, Oakland, Piedmont and San Leandro shall have no power to name or appoint any person or board to execute any of the duties of the borough. These duties are to be performed by officers of the city and county.

The boards of trustees may establish residential zones and may recommend to the council measures for passage.

PERSONNEL OF JUDICIARY SYSTEM DEFINED.

The charter provides for nine judges of municipal courts and a presiding judge. It provides for the election of a district attorney at $5,000 a year and for the appointment of his assistants. The auditor, also to be elected, is to receive $5,000 a year. The women's division of the police court, the public defender who shall be appointed when the council determines that public welfare requires him, and the public utilities commission are innovations of the charter. The recall is made a simple recall and is not a new election at the same time.

A provision that would work hardship on the candidate with a small fund at his disposal is one that would allow any man running for office to have printed placards bearing his picture, his history and a statement of the office to which he aspires. The candidate is to pay for this and the county undertakes to mail it with sample ballots to the electorate. A number of these placards in the envelope with the ballots will add considerably to the mailing cost and the man who cannot afford the expense will be among the taxpayers who will pay for the mailing of his rival's literature.

The charter outlines the districts, provides for salaries of $250 a month for the councilmen, and contains the necessary legal description of duties to be performed. It represents exhaustive work, contains several new departures and is the first to be submitted that includes the alternative proposal.

It is a voluminous document and should be read in its entirety. It is estimated that the cost of the various elections made necessary by the charter agitation will cost the taxpayers of Alameda county upward of $100,000, which means about 5 cents on the tax levy.

Russian Children Distorted By Hunger, U. S. Girl Finds

ASTRAKHAN, Russia, by courier, wireless and cable via Moscow, Berlin and London, Sept. 8.—Here on the edge of the Caspian sea I have come to the end of the great Russian famine area on the Volga.

I am beyond the sound of the heartrending plea of starving women for bread and beyond the sight of children whom hunger has squeezed and distorted.

In the towns and villages, communes and children's homes we have seen what the war, the blockade, the revolution and, worst of all, the drought, have done to the people of this great granary of the Russians. In the children's homes the abandoned babies were so weak and sick when brought in that 300 out of 480 died.

Driving across the plains I met long lines of hungry people trekking from the villages with all their possessions in boxes and bales.

One large group encamped on the plain outside of a town was a third of an entire village's population. Their peasant spokesman told me a third already had gone to Siberia and would send back word about conditions there. When we were leaving Samara we saw a man and a woman in rags die on the beach at the foot of our gangplank. They had fought their way in a small boat to the edge of the town, bringing four children with them. The parents gave up the fight for their own lives only when help for the children was in sight.

By ANNA LOUISE STRONG,
Special Correspondent International News Service.

EN ROUTE FROM MOSCOW TO THE SAMARA FAMINE AREA, Sept. 8.—Before leaving Moscow; I had an exclusive interview with Miss Margaret Thorpe of the American Society of Friends (Quakers), who had just returned from the Samara district after an investigation of conditions there.

"I saw four dead children carried through the streets by children of 10 or 12 years of age," she told me. "My first sight as I opened a railroad station door was a dead child lying in a corner.

"In one government station, 42 of the 429 child inmates died in one week.

"I saw children hunting through garbage like dogs.

"Others dropped against the wall, exhausted and with their eyes gazing vacantly. They were awaiting death indifferently; only occasionally a moan was heard.

"Mothers say they hope the cholera will kill their children quick and thus save them from the slow death by starvation.

"Soup, medicines and food are the chief needs in the crisis which is sure to become general throughout Europe if relief on a large scale does not come quickly."

Bourse Is Closed To Prevent Panic

By FRANK E. MASON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Directors of the Berlin bourse decided today to close the exchange for one week. They justified their action by explaining that the "mad fluctuations of the mark" and unprecedented stock speculations gave indications there might be a panic.

Alameda Asks Review Of Train-Cut Order

ALAMEDA, Sept. 8.—City Attorney Locke is filing an appeal today, before the State Railroad Commission, asking for a rehearing of the decision permitting the Southern Pacific company to cut its transbay service.

Locke's appeal is based upon the grounds that the decision is a discrimination in favor of Oakland and Berkeley as against Alameda. In addition to requesting the commission to reconsider the award to the company allowing them to cut out the early and late ferry boats between Alameda and San Francisco, he is also asking that the 1:20 Horseshoe train be run into the business section of Alameda.

Identity of River Victim Under Inquiry

RICHMOND, Sept. 8.—Efforts to identify the body of a man found today in the San Joaquin river above Antioch have been started by the coroner's office here. The man, it is believed, was drowned two weeks ago.

A description by which the authorities hope to learn of the name and residence of the man reads: "Height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 155 pounds, three gold teeth in left lower jaw, black and white striped shirt, blue overalls, tan lace shoes and leather belt."

The man wore a gold ring bearing grapes carved in two colors of gold and carrying an inscription inside, "Alaska Gold." The body is at the office of Deputy Coroner Preston at Antioch.

INVESTIGATION OF AUTO PLATE AWARD ASKED BY STATE

Bid of Oakland Was Lowest, But Job Went to L. A., Governor Told.

especially if the last part was to be made by January 15, the plates not being needed until February 1. It is Daniels' contention that the Skegg report was unfavorable.

Norman De Vaux and J. R. Millar then guaranteed that the work could be done. They said that the California Cap Company, which made more hand-grenades during the war than any other company, had dies and was prepared to do the work if needed, and that the Chevrolet plant's great enameling works were ready to do that part. For security De Vaux offered $250,000 and bonds for the full contract amount.

LOS ANGELES COMPANY IS AWARDED JOB.

The contract was then awarded to the Kettle Company of Los Angeles, at $19,000 additional cost. No investigation, De Mar says, was made of any other plant despite the fact that the Kettle people have been late in delivery on two occasions. Present ovens at the Shartzer company, it was said, allow for a capacity of 8000 plates an hour, and steel for the first part of the order was on hand. In addition the contracts for the rest of the steel to be laid down within twenty days at the municipal wharf, were made. The Chamber of Commerce, Uptown Association, E. W. Williams of the Taxpayers' Association and others appeared before the board, and assurances of the financial standing of the company were forwarded, but no explanation, save that the state did not believe delivery could be made, was forthcoming.

The Shartzer company then directed letters to all of the officials concerned, asking for reconsideration of the action. These letters were followed by others to the governor and the other officials, again asking why it was that but one firm was investigated, and demanding an inquiry into the whole affair.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO ORDER INVESTIGATION.

The Shartzer company claims that it is able to turn out plates for all of the states west of the Rockies, and that, as evidence of its ability to deliver goods, the state of Utah, which gave it a contract for numbers, has followed the order with another for the load plates for that state.

"We are demanding an investigation and an adequate explanation," said De Mar, "and until we get it, we cannot help but believe there has been a deliberate attempt to throttle a new industry in favor of one that has held the contract in the past."

Soviet Refuses Relief Workers Right to Probe

Proposed Investigation Sneer At Fate of Starving Land.

MOSCOW, Sept. 8 (By the Associated Press).—The Russian Soviet government has declined to permit the international Russian relief commission recently appointed by the allied supreme council to investigate condition in Russia preparatory to aiding in famine relief.

This decision was made known today through a note forwarded by C. T. Chitcherin, Soviet foreign minister, to England, Italy, France and Belgium. The note says the Soviet government regards the appointment of Joseph Noulens of France as chairman "as a monstrous sneer at the fate of starving Russia."

Composer Boosts For Home Musicians

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Between four and five hundred million dollars a year are taken from America by foreign musicians, partly because Americans refuse to appreciate their own talent, William J. McCoy, composer and member of the Bohemian Club, told members of the Rotary Club yesterday.

"Do you know that 600 million dollars are spent every year in the United States for music?" McCoy asked. "Do you also know that between 400 millions and 500 millions of this sum goes to foreigners whom we import to compose for us and play our music? But some people try to tell us that we have to import our composers and our musicians; that we can't raise our own! I say we can, and we are slowly finding it out. What's this talk about American music not being good music? Piffle, tush-tush, pooh-pooh! Stuff and nonsense!

"Nothing to it. Americans can compose and produce music as good as anybody, if you will only give them a chance. Now, I'm not against foreigners; I like 'em, and delight in their music as much as anybody, but I also like Americans and their compositions and their performances.

"We Americans have brains and ability equal to any in the world, and all we have to do is to properly encourage our native talent to get the best in the world.

"In Paris nobody but a Frenchman gets an opportunity to have his compositions tried out, but in America it is almost impossible for anybody to butt in unless he is a foreigner. All I ask is a fair chance for American composers and American performers."

Miss Zylpha Allen rendered Chopin's Scherzo, B flat minor. Eugene Blanchard and Charles Keeler made appeals for the music festival, and Louis Alera performed on the accordeon.

Illinois School Ends Home Work, Teaches Dancing

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Examinations and home study have been abolished in the South Evanston suburban schools, Superintendent W. N. Nichols, announced today. Also children may go home at any hour their parents desire.

Examinations, he said, were merely an effort to cram a child's head full of facts and then see how many he remembered. Home study he characterized as "the bugbear of school children," and examinations as "antiquated tyranny."

Dancing, gymnastic and home economics will be taught in night classes which will continue as late as 10 p. m.

MILLER DEMANDS $460,000 IN SUIT

Charging that his business was damaged to the amount of $460,000 as a result of alleged machinations of a so-called milk trust, F. E. Miller, ice cream manufacturer, today filed suit for that amount against the Walnut Creamery Company and other corporations and individuals, through his attorneys Dunn, White and Aiken.

The suit was filed in the form of a cross complaint in the battle between Miller and the Walnut Creamery Company and others who some weeks ago obtained an injunction restraining Miller from selling milk in bottles. The creamery claimed the injunction on the ground of an alleged agreement with Miller, entered into at the time that the Walnut Creamery purchased Miller's creamery business.

In today's cross-complaint Miller alleges that the sum of $1470 of the original purchase price agreed upon is still unpaid.

Four Hurt in Auto Crash in San Francisco

Early Morning Motorists Hit Police After Smashing Into Other Car.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Four persons, including one woman, were painfully injured in an automobile collision at Ocean avenue and Mission streets at 6 o'clock this morning. The accident occurred in a heavy fog which prevented the driver of one car from seeing a machine ahead of him on the highway. Those hurt were:

J. Santucci, Continental hotel, vaudeville performer, lacerated scalp.

Gillis was driving the car and according to his story told to the surgeons at the Central emergency hospital, he was coasting down a hill with his power shut off. Suddenly a machine loomed up ahead. He threw over his wheel but struck either the back of the other automobile or its fender. His car careened and crashed into a telegraph pole. Miss Westley and Shapiro, who were riding in the rear seat, were thrown out but Gillis and Santucci remained in the machine which turned over on its side. All injured were taken to the Central emergency hospital.

MAN, DAUGHTER HURT AS TRAIN DRAGS AUTO.

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Their automobile dragged a half block by a Southern Pacific electric train of the Ellsworth line at Shattuck avenue and Woolsey street last evening, A. A. Young, San Francisco and Oakland businessman, and his daughter, Miss Bonita Young, 18, of Los Angeles, narrowly escaped death.

In the car also was Mrs. Young, who escaped without injury. Young and his daughter were taken to the emergency hospital in the police ambulance, where they were treated for shock and abrasions.

The automobile was virtually a wreck. Young, who has offices at 268 Market street, San Francisco, resides at 478 Forty-first street, Oakland.

Manners of U. S. College Men Praised

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—American college men are very gentlemanly, according to John Cowper Powys, who is delivering a series of lectures at the University.

Comparing the California students with those of the older universities of England, Dr. Powys declares that they have all of the attributes of cultured gentlemen, and believes that the education offered by the university accentuates these characteristics. "Culture is the most important thing to be gained from a college education," he says, "and next in importance are a sensitive imagination, sympathy, love of nature, love of books and love of art.

"Co-education," according to Dr. Powys, "is an interesting experiment, and much better for women than for men."

BELL PROTESTS INNOCENCE OF CHARGES MADE

Berkeley City Auditor Claims He Is Not Opposed to Market.

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Denial of City Auditor Elmer Bell that he has acted in opposition to the city market and a statement that his course has been directed by legal decision and opinion, was the reply given today to the movement for a recall election started by the Berkeley State Housewives' League. Bell has refused to pay bills contracted by the Berkeley Municipal Market, according to Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon president of the league. The statement of Bell, made today, follows:

In the stand I have taken in behalf of the taxpayers of Berkeley I have merely followed the decisions handed down by Judge Everett Brown of the Superior court and the opinions given also by City Attorney Frank V. Cornish of Berkeley. I am personally not opposed to the municipal market and there has been no reason why such a statement should be advanced. The statement of the newly-appointed assistant city attorney, Lemuel Sanderson, that I am responsible for such opposition and am in receipt of support in these proceedings by the commission men is an emphatic invention and is grossly unfair to an employee of the city, who sees only his duty in the step he has taken.

Bell denies he paid any funds out of his own pocket to any attorney for legal advice in the matter and says that his motives are prompted entirely by legal decisions.

The Housewives' League, according to Mrs. Cleverdon, will meet this week to start the recall movement. Suit to force Bell to pay the bills has been brought by Mayor Louis Bartlett, and is held to be a test case. It is being heard before Judge James G. Quinn. It is the contention of Bell and his advisers that the market violates the provisions of the charter and that he is without legal authority to pay city money for its debts. Lemuel Sanderson, assistant city attorney, is representing Mayor Bartlett in the action, and R. E. Bell of Berkeley represents Bell. Decision will be rendered on Monday.

$3,200,000,000 Needed in Taxes, Declares Mellon

Secretary of Treasury Tells Committee Changes in Tax Bill Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Congress must provide $3,200,000,000 in taxes in the pending revenue bill, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon told the Senate finance committee today.

"If promised governmental economies are made effective that sum will be sufficient to meet the government's needs," Mellon said.

He recommended specific changes in the tax bill passed by the House which, he said, would make certain the collection of the necessary amount.

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The sales tax as a practical method of simplifying the complicated tax system imposed upon the American people by the world war was one of a series of revenue revision proposals on which the Senate finance committee split today when Secretary of the Treasury Mellon appeared before it in closed executive session.

Mellon previously expressed himself to Republican members of the committee as inclined favorably toward the sales tax plan suggested by Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah, but opposed to its adoption at this time.

It is known that both Mellon and House Republican Leader Mondell have urged upon President Harding that the sales tax be withheld until next year when they suggested it might be used to finance the service men's pension plan the administration is planning to advance prior to the Congressional election next fall as a substitute for the so-called soldiers' bonus.

New York Gangsters Battle in Streets

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—War has broken out here between Manhattan and Brooklyn gangsters. Invading Manhattan during the night, Brooklyn gangsters in an automobile engaged in a revolver battle with a number of their rivals near Fifty-eighth street and Ninth avenue. Police joined in the shooting.

Paul Michelid, 50, a spectator, was shot in the arm. Five men were arrested.

A dispute over bootleg profits and the murder of "Googoo" Knox, last week, are believed to have started the feud.

Hostilities started Tuesday night, when shots were fired on a street corner in the tenderloin. One of the gang doing the shooting was said to have been a woman.

LARGE INCREASE IN SCHOOL ROLLS SHOWN BY TABLE

528 Per Cent Gain Indicated for Vocational High in Last Five Years.

Large increases in the enrollment of city schools, especially in East Oakland, are disclosed in a table furnished by Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunter, showing the percentage of growth since the fiscal year 1915-16.

Laurel school, for instance, has gained 170 per cent in those five years. The high schools far exceeded this, with 528 per cent for vocational and 348 for university.

The school with the smallest growth is Grant school, out on Broadway, which increased only 1 per cent, while the Bay school grew only 2 per cent, partially because no more pupils can get into it.

Soldier and Nurse of Civil War, Over 75, Are Married

WILLIAM WALLACE, a veteran of the Civil War, and his bride who was formerly Mrs. Melisa J. Dailey. They were married at a military wedding ceremony yesterday in Memorial Hall.

Arrangements for Wedding Are Made by Veterans' Bodies.

A Civil War romance after seventy-five years had passed over the heads of the couple, reached a climax yesterday when Mrs. Melisa J. Bailey, past captain and prominent worker of the Women and Girls of Sixty-one, and William Wallace, a member of the G. A. R., were married by Rev. G. H. Hillerman of the First Lutheran church at a wedding ceremony in Memorial hall. Several hundred members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women and Girls of Sixty-one, together with friends and visitors of both organizations were guests at the ceremony.

The arrangements for the wedding were made by both of the Civil War organizations and were a surprise to the couple. The hall was gay with baskets of roses and the national colors. The members of both organizations weer seated on each side of the hall, while friends and visitors crowded the lobby.

Mrs. Viola Murphy, captain of the Women of Sixty-one, who presided at the ceremony, acted as the matron of honor. Mrs. Jeannette Lott was the bridesmaid and A. H. de Gross, past department commander of the G. A. R. for Wisconsin, was best man for Wallace. Following the wedding, De Gross in an address said that he hoped all of the G. A. R. who contemplate matrimony would follow the example of Wallace and choose a Girl of Sixty-one, and announced that Mr. and Mrs. Wallace would leave in a few days for the east on their honeymoon.

Wallace, who is a native of Lapeer county, Michigan, has been married before. Mrs. Wallace has lived in California for thirty-five years, and since she was 18, until her recent retirement, she has been connected with a number of educational institutions.

YOUNG WIFE IS DENIED DIVORCE; NEW LAW TOLD

Daisy Peterson Nichelson was denied an annulment of her marriage to Lee S. Nichelson today by Superior Judge Joseph S. Koford. Mrs. Nichelson pleaded that she was under age at the time of the marriage and declared that she had renounced the marriage before she had attained the age of consent.

Judge Koford, in refusing to grant the decree, pointed out the error in the complaint as reason for his action. In the complaint it was shown that Mrs. Nichelson was 17 years old when married to Nichelson at Redwood City on September 9, 1920. The law requires a woman to be 18 years old before she may be issued a marriage license without the consent of her parents, which was not given in this case. But the law, before amended by the last legislature, recognized the right of a woman to contract marriage after the age of 15 years. In other words if a woman could secure a marriage license she could be legally married although only 15 years old and not 18 years as required by law. Mrs. Nichelson's case, Judge Koford held, was ruled by the old law because the amended law did not become effective until July 29 of this year.

Under the new law a woman over 16 years and under 18 years and a man over 18 years and under 21 years may contract a marriage with the consent of their parents, but without such consent the marriage is void. Under the age of 16 and 18 years a man and woman may not contract a marriage under any circumstances, according to the new law.

Judge Koford granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Mrs. Esther Oellrich from Frederick Oellrich, on the charge of extreme cruelty. They were married at Hayward on April 27, 1921, and separated on August 6.

Guard Company Will Hold Smoker Tonight

A smoker and entertainment is to be given by the new infantry company now being formed by the National Guard in Oakland. A program has been arranged, including boxing, impersonations and various other features. Lieutenant R. A. Joyner is in charge of arrangements. One event is a dancing act by Miss Velna Hammer, a local girl.

The smoker is given for the purpose of recruiting up to strength the new infantry company that L. G. Gile and R. A. Joyner are forming in Oakland. The new company, when formed, will be a part of the re-organized National Guard. Approximately forty men have already been signed up, leaving only twenty more needed. The government now pays the members of the National Guard for their weekly drills, furnishing full equipment, allowing regular use of the rifle range at Leona Heights, and taking the men two weeks' encampment each year.

The smoker this evening will be held in the guard quarters in the Odd Fellows' building, Eleventh and Franklin streets. A cordial invitation is issued to all young men to attend.

Patrolman Thompson Out of Department

Patrolman James P. Thompson, who was temporarily suspended from the department on Monday by Chief of Police James T. Drew, today resigned. His resignation was accepted by Chief Drew and Commissioner Frank Colbourn.

He was temporarily suspended by Drew for conduct unbecoming an officer. Drew in his report to Commissioner Colbourn, states that on August 9 Thompson reported off duty on account of sickness. Drew says that the officer went to Sixteenth and San Pablo avenue, where he met a married woman and then took her to the Hoffman cafe.

Drew says that the husband arrived on the scene and the woman refused to go home with him. The report says that they all went to Emeryville, where a fight started.

On August 16, 1920, Thompson was fined $10 and suspended for fifteen days for conduct unbecoming an officer.

"I Never Squeal," Says Prisoner; Sixty Days

John Jenkins, a negro, refused to testify today against Homer Weeks, white, who was arrested with him on August 19 on a charge of petty larceny. They were arrested at 701 Seventh street after Jenkins had sold two suits of clothes which had been stolen from the room of Louis Churipa in the Atlantic hotel.

Jenkins was called as a witness for the prosecution in the case against Weeks. He asked Police Judge Tyrrell to excuse him from testifying against Weeks.

"Judge if you want to find out the facts about the case you ask Weeks," said Jenkins. "I never squeal. Of course I'm guilty and will take the blame for both of us. I don't know a thing about Weeks."

Judge Tyrrell sentenced Jenkins to sixty days in the city prison. The case of Weeks was continued until Monday morning.

Harding would return to Washington by September 21, when Congress re-convenes, probably making the homeward trip by rail or motor.

SUNDAY TRIBUNE HAS SEQUEL TO 'MIRACLE MAN'

The world has come to give credit for "The Miracle Man" to the author whose brain conceived it—Frank L. Packard.

Packard is the greatest living writer of themes of regeneration—the theme that made "The Miracle Man" the most compelling motion picture ever filmed. In his latest story, "From Now On," the author again utilizes this theme. It is a story of crooks and criminals, a stolen fortune, and the redemption of a human soul.

"From Now On" starts in the Oakland TRIBUNE magazine next Sunday.

All round VALUE — Roos Bros Five Important Stores — and a square GUARANTEE

Here are the salient features of the new Fall suits at Roos Bros.

Coats are semi-fitted with generally lower lines. Slightly waisted, several inches lower than in the Spring and Summer suits, and the pockets and lapels have likewise dropped. The lapels are medium notched, long and rolling. A medium vent is used, about eight inches, the shorter vent having proved ungraceful and not suited to the ordinary physique.

As to the number of buttons, it is wholly a matter of choice, usually governed by the type of figure and individual preference. Two, three and four button models seeming to share equal favor.

There is always a certain quantity of double-breasted coats worn, especially in Fall, and they have received their share of attention. Noticeable in them are the same proclivities as in the single-breasted models, and they lend themselves so well and readily to this treatment that there is a strong probability of increased popularity as the season advances.

Vests—Five buttons have been relegated to vests. They are cut a trifle lower with longer points, conforming to the general droopy lines of the suit.

Trousers seem to have struck a happy medium. Neither the tight bottom or bell-shaped trouser legs are to be used, but straight and full from the hips down. This is also an evidence of the conservativeness of the prevailing style. They are to be worn quite long, breaking over the shoes, with or without cuffs on the bottoms.

$35 to $60

The big thing about new clothes is the real satisfaction you get out of them; appearance, fit, value and wear. You get all that here. If there is any question about it—money cheerfully refunded.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

The Questions Lillian Asked Madge and the Plan They Made.

I had hard work to conceal my relief and exultation at his proposal, even as I demurely assented to it. If he could dismiss the trip to Marvin that carelessly he was not as interested in seeing Edith Fairfax again as I had feared.

"Now we can get to work!"

Lillian rose from the breakfast table the morning after our return from the South as soon as she heard the door close after Dicky. He had kissed us both goodbye in somewhat perfunctory fashion, and I saw that his whole sole was obsessed with the work awaiting him at the studio. He was like a lover going to a tryst, but I was not in the least jealous of his absorption. I was only too thankful that it was his work instead of some other attraction which was claiming him.

A QUANDARY EVADED.

"I never saw a man yet that was worth his salt in moving times, unless he had been trained to manual labor, and that kind usually has to be bossed by the woman of the house, or he'll spill the beans." Thus Lillian caustically, as she walked with me upstairs to her wonderful brown-toned library, drew chairs for us both to her big work table, and placed paper and pencils before us. "But with Dicky out of the way, we ought to be able to accomplish a great deal. Now, first, what about the house? Are Katie and Jim out there?"

"Not yet. I wired them as soon as I knew I was coming up here, and they wired back that they would be at Marvin Friday. That's tomorrow."

"H'm." Lillian's air was doubtful. "That's too bad. You ought not to go into that house until it has been thoroughly warmed and aired. Is there anybody you can get to build a fire before we arrive there today?"

"Not before that." I replied demurely, "but five minutes after we arrive I guarantee you a fire in the furnace which will satisfy even your efficient self."

"What do you mean—that you will build it? How absurd! You'll take your death, child. I can't let you do that. Dicky would never forgive me."

"You don't understand," I said. "I instructed Jim that the last thing before he left he was to prepare the furnace in readiness for lighting, and Katie wrote me that he had done what I asked. All I have to do when I go in is to strike a match, light the fire, wait a minute to see that it has caught, go over to Mrs. Durkee's to wait until the drafts need fixing, then go back, put more coal on, arrange drafts, come back and wait till house is warmed before exploring it. Does that satisfy you?"

"Perfectly. I might have known that you would be Efficiency Edgarese—on-the-job! But I still think you ought to wait until tomorrow before doing any work in the house. What do you say to taking a spin around Marvin this afternoon to begin our search for houses? That's the angle of this affair that's bothering me. Katie and Jim are mighty efficient. They can do almost everything of the packing in a pinch. But finding a home into which to put your things—there's the little job that's troubling me."

THE PERFECTED PLAN.

"It's giving me a few anxious moments," I acknowledged, "and I think your plan a splendid one. But can you spare the time to go today? You have Marion's outfit for her trip to see to, haven't you?"

"I've arranged all that," she replied incisively, "or will have, when you've done something for me. We'll just go ahead on the supposition that all my time is at your service. Is your car in readiness for a trip this afternoon?"

"It ought to be," I replied. "I didn't put it in dead storage when I went away. But to make sure I'll call up the garage now, and have them bring the car to the station to meet us—at which train?"

"The one getting there at 1 o'clock," she said. "And when you come back I have a task for you."

I telephoned, received the assurance that the car would be ready at the time appointed went back to the library and faced Lillian expectantly.

"Now you know better than I just what Marion will need down South," she said. "Please make out a complete list, right away, of everything from shoes to hair-ribbons that she will need in order to be comfortable. Include plenty of stout play clothing. Then I will check up the list with what she has, and my shopping trip tomorrow will be easy. I have already telephoned my sewing woman to come and stay until Marion goes. She knows exactly how to do everything from mending her stockings to packing her trunk and bag, so really I have nothing to trouble me. Do you mind if we take Marion with us this afternoon? She is so excited over her trip that it is no use having her study until she goes, and I think the trip will do her good."

Valley of the Violets

Valley of the violets — blossoms blowing free
Closer by the roadside — ye were dear to me;
Nothing now so beautiful these eyes on earth shall see;
For there my love walked with me, and her red lips leaned to me.

O, the lake — the meadow — and the dim path through the glen!
The falling of pink blossoms on my Love's dark hair, and then —
Her eyes, that held all heaven — • • • there would my steps still be,
For there my love walked with me, and her red lips leaned to me!

Beauty Talks

by Lucrezia Bori

Dumb-bell Exercises Will Build Up Thin Arms.

Perfectly proportioned arms are, unfortunately, all to uncommon, as revealed when short-sleeved dresses are worn. Often they are too fat in the upper arm and decidedly scrawny between the elbow and the wrist.

Now, whether your arms are too plump to be pretty or so thin they have lost all semblance of beauty, you should do all you can to improve their appearance.

Massage is undoubtedly one of the best means for improving them. You can easily do this for yourself, although some women prefer to employ the services of an expert masseuse. The effort it involves when you do it yourself is not to be overlooked, but there is the pleasure of watching the change for the better in your arms, and knowing that your work is having a beneficial effect.

You will get good results if you will grasp firmly the flesh of one arm with the hand of the other. Work steadily up and down your arm with a twisting movement for about ten minutes. Then change around and grasp the flesh of the other arm with the opposite hand. This should be repeated every evening, or, if you prefer it, you may make it a morning exercise.

It is immaterial at what hour of the day you massage your arms. The chief thing to remember is that you must keep it up steadily. Forgetting it for a day or two and giving your arms but a perfunctory rub now and then never will make an appreciable difference in the appearance of your arms. It is the steady day after day treatment which brings results that are really worth while.

If your arms are so thin that the very sight of them distresses you, you should go in for some dumb-bell exercises. These bring the muscles well into play. However, you should be extremely careful not to overdo, otherwise harmful fatigue may result. Never use very heavy dumb-bells. Those which weigh about a pound will be quite heavy enough for a beginner.

There are many good exercises which you will find helpful. They are really very simple, but thoroughly efficacious. Stand erect with your feet slightly apart and your dumb-bells grasped firmly in your hands, which should be at rest by your sides. Now swing your arms upwards in front of you. Hold them for a second, level with your shoulders, then bend your arms at the elbows and bring the dumb-bells towards your shoulders. Next, throw your hands outwards once more and swing them back to the original position.

Repeat these movements for ten times.

Gradually increase the number until you can do this twenty times with ease.

The second exercise starts in the same way, with the feet slightly apart and hands at the sides. Hold the dumb-bells with your fists clenched, toward your body. Then swing your arms outwards at your sides until they are level with your shoulders. While in this position twist your hands around at the wrists, bend your elbows and bring the dumb-bells to your shoulders.

Pause a second, then swing them out again, reverse the twist and lower your arms to your sides. Repeat these motions until you have done this exercise twenty times. Of course, at first you may not be able to do this more than five times without getting a bit tired, so do not over-exert yourself. Increase the number by slow degrees until you can do the exercises twenty times with perfect ease.

Exercise daily, even if it is only for a few minutes at a time, and give your arms a good massage, and soon you will be proud of them, for they will regain their rounding, youthful curves.

Just Folks

DIFFICUTIES

Just keep this in mind as you see the task through
Stick to it, Lad, when the going is rough,
The proof of the Fighter is how he is scarred,
To vanquish a Coward one blow is enough.
Just keep this in mind as you see the task through
It's the commonplace things that are easy to do.

The thousands can follow the pathway of one.
The millions flock in when the fight has been won,
There are many to go where another has gone
And many to do what another has done,
But to blaze a new trail there are only a few;
It's the commonplace things that are easy to do.

Don't ask for the easy and commonplace tasks
It's the difficult problems which bring men to fame,
Rejoice in the courage the day's trial asks;
For if you succeed men shall honor your name.
Be glad in the choice which has fallen to you
To battle with something not easy to do.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND QUACKIE'S LESSON.

Once upon a time Uncle Wiggily was hopping along the shores of the Duck Pond Ocean, and he chanced to pass the pen where Lulu, Alice and Jimmie Wibblewobble lived.

"Quick! Quack! Quock! Quackity quack-ack!" were some of the sounds the bunny gentleman heard coming from the front yard, and then he saw Mr. and Mrs. Wibblewobble, the ducks, with their three children, and Grandfather Goosey Gander, all swimming out on the pond. With them went a new little duck.

"That small one must be Quackie, the duck who was a baby only a few weeks ago," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I wonder what they are going to do with her?"

He soon found out. Not far from shore the older ducks, with Grandpa Goosey and Lulu, Alice and Jimmie, formed a circle with little Quackie in the middle.

"Now, Quackie, do as we do," said Mrs. Wibblewobble. "All ready! One, two-three!" At that all the ducks except Quackie stuck their heads down under water to get the sweet plants, grasses and snails that grow on the bottom.

But Quackie did not put her head under the water. She dipped her bill in the pond, took a little drink and nibbled a floating leaf of a pond lily.

"Why, Quackie!" spoke Grandpa Goosie, as he raised his head with water dripping from his yellow bill. "You didn't even get your topknot wet!" He meant the feathers on top of her head.

"No—No—I—I'm afraid!" stammered Quackie.

"Oh, for shame! Look at Lulu, Alice and Jimmie!" said Mr. Wibblewobble. "They aren't afraid to put their heads away down under water and get good things to eat off the bottom. You must learn to do that, Quackie! All ducks must learn to put their heads under water."

"I—I don't like to," said Quackie. And all they could say to her seemed to do no good. At last Papa Wibblewobble looked on shore and saw Uncle Wiggily standing there.

"What do you think of this, Uncle Wiggily?" quacked Mr. Wibblewobble. "My littlest duck is afraid to put her head under water! Now, I don't believe you'd be afraid to do that, and you're a rabbit and not supposed to swim in the water, Mr. Longears!"

"No, I'm not of much use in the water," said Uncle Wiggly. "I can swim a little, though, and I'm not exactly afraid of it. In my hollow stump bungalow I get in a deep tub of water every day!"

"Do you put your head under," asked Quackie.

"Sometimes—when I want to wash the fur on top of my head," answered the bunny.

"I believe if Quackie saw you put your head under the water now, Uncle Wiggily," said Mrs. Wibblewobble, blinking one eye at the rabbit gentleman, "she wouldn't be afraid. We've tried to teach her this lesson, but we can't."

"I'll try," said Uncle Wiggily, for well he knew that little ducks, as well as pussy cats and puppy dogs, must learn their own lessons, just as boys and girls do.

Going down close to the edge of the shore, near the water, Uncle Wiggily took a long breath and held some air inside his nose and mouth. Then he dipped his head under water, first, of course, taking off his talk silk hat. Right down under water he dipped his head, and when he lifted it up, after a few seconds, he cried:

"Oh, Quackie! You ought to see the lovely things I saw down there! Beautiful green plants and flowers. And lovely snails!"

"There, Quackie!" cried Jimmie. "Uncle Wiggily isn't afraid to dip his head under! You do it! Go ahead!"

"Well—all right—I—I will!" gasped Quackie. She was quite frightened, but she knew she must be brave, and after all, she saw that no harm came to the others. Down under the water she dipped her head and bill, the others watching. Then, all of a sudden, Quackie raised her head and exclaimed:

"Oh, you ought to see what I saw! A great big water rat is swimming under water and he's coming right this way! Paddle to shore, everybody!"

So they all did, even Grandpa Goosey, gathering all around Uncle Wiggily on the bank. And then when the bad old water rat popped up his head he couldn't catch any of the ducks by the legs and pull them under as he hoped to do.

"Oh, Quackie! By letting Uncle Wiggily teach you that lesson when you did, you saved us from the water rat!" said Mrs. Wibblewobble.

"I'm glad I did," spoke Quackie, and she was never afraid after that. The water rat was driven away with stones and all was well. And if the looking glass doesn't shine in the face of the clock and make it sneeze its hands off I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Nannie's flapper.

"I'm—I'm—afraid!" stammered Quackie.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World

We were all in the waiting room. Someone dropped a nickel in the music box and out came one of those jazz tunes that vaults right into the air with its toes spread. Most of the crowd registered an extra blood count from joy, but not so the lady in the horn specs.

"How disgusting!" she snipped. "Just listen to that hideous jangle! The human race is positively degenerating to the level of wild animals." With that she rolled her eyes heavenward to see if God was appreciating His little favorite and continued to suffer out loud.

Did I move? Not me. I like jazz. Moreover, I was thinking. "Going back to the level of the wild animals," are we? If so, it's glad news, for the wild animals have it all over some civilized humans I know. We all need some of that jungle stuff. Civilization is all right if you're ready for it. Most of us are not. It's too smooth and easy. It's bad for our digestions. There isn't enough roughage in it. We need the business of living handed to us with the husks on, as the wild animals get it. We need to fight as they do for the things we need and love.

To love as they do, with an eye to race needs and not for selfishness alone. It may not be much of an honor to produce a yearly crop of squirrels, but some gangs I wot of aren't even producing squirrels. To work for our daily acorn without a lot of self pity and envy; to put the full force blood and claw into the immediate adventure; to go the maximum distance with the minimum fuss. That's the animal way—hot and quick, in love or battle. That's the savage way. And that's the kind of feeling jazz sends shooting along most of our back-bones. There isn't much music in it, but there's a powerful amount of voltage. It's hardly a parlor feeling, but it makes us feel for a while that we could sink our teeth into anything that came our way.

And so I say, if a bunch of egg beaters, tin cans, gas pipes and cow bells can produce that feeling in my spine even temporarily—me for jazz!

I am printing the following letter because it is typical of a class of letters which are constantly coming to Jerry and in answering it, I hope to answer them all. Even if I had any personal desire to discuss Birth Control as the writer requests—which I haven't—I would be unable to do so as such public discussion is against our Federal laws. I can answer no questions concerning this subject and do not wish to receive letters on it, altho I respect the sincerity and good will of the writers in sending such.

Birth Control may have its talking points, but I am convinced that it will not bring the Millenium. What we need above all things is not control of the birth rates, but control of our own silliinesses and selfishnesses, our own tempers and greeds.

Dear Geraldine:

Divorce, marriage, sex! What a work you are doing, how sensibly and fearlessly you handle these subjects that have been so long covered with religious superstition and ignorance.

But there is something that lies deeper than any of these that must be dragged out and face daylight before any real solution for the above can be worked out, and the name of that something has never, to my knowledge, been mentioned in your columns. I mean birth-control.

A. P.

Here's another bouquet for the "He Provider" who considered married women workers immoral.

Dear Jerry:—

Being a faithful follower of your column in THE TRIBUNE, I naturally ran across the letter that appeared in last night's paper written by "A HE PROVIDER BOOSTER" and your reply to it. And Jerry dear I want to say right here before I go any farther, GO TO IT, any time you get a letter like that GIVE 'EM FITS and if you need any help just call on me.

I do not set myself up as a criterion on morals nor am I one of those monstrosities that say they "understand women" (between you and me "there ain't no such animal"). BUT I have traveled about two thirds of the way around the world and I have been married in the bargain, so I can at least claim that I know what I am talking about. I might also mention that I have put in four years in the Navy and what a man don't learn there it isn't much use to try to find out about.

Before our marriage my wife was a working woman and I want to say that a truer, sweeter woman never lived and after our marriage I can assure you she did not go to the bad as a HE PROVIDER seems to predict. I need not go into my family history to furnish proof of what I say because I know that any fair minded person will understand and those that need proof are not worth the paper it would take to write it on. And besides I am not writing an autobiography. My wife and I are divorced now and I have just as much regard and respect for her as ever. Our divorce was not the fault of either of us, it was a case of "too much relative" and at the time we were about 6,000 miles apart. You know the rest.

For Working Woman

What I want to say to you, Jerry is that I am strong for the woman who works, especially the one who works outside of the home in order to give Hubby a lift. As you say there are bad ones among them but Gosh! a person can find bad women in any environment IF THAT'S WHAT THEY ARE LOOKING FOR. And any one who will condemn the whole tribe of working women because of one or even one hundred bad ones has about a one cylinder intellect and ought to be sent to Molokai (is that the way to spell it?) with the rest of the lepers. I have found in my travels that the person who is constantly looking for immorality in others has a more or less decayed sense of morality himself.

That's pretty strong language I know, but in my estimation the case justifies it. I don't know whether or not you will publish this (I imagine the spelling is bum) but I sort of hope you will so that the person who wrote that letter can see that you are NOT unfair and that you have a following. I'm going to write you some time about my views on divorce but now is not the time nor the place. I simply wanted to get this off my chest and let you know that in the opinion of one who has come in contact with women, working and otherwise, in about seven different countries you have the right idea and you can always call on me to back you up. More power to you Jerry. Hoping that you may print at least part of this, I remain

An ardent admirer of your philosophy.

The Home Kitchen

by Jeannette Young Norton

In families where a cooked luncheon is served, even in warm weather, left-overs from the dinner of the day before are generally utilized, amplified if need be by an egg dish or a fish salad. Quite a little culinary skill is required to make this meal attractive, though inexpensive, and the so-called made dishes are life-savers in the branch of cookery.

One never can have too many recipes for those little made dishes, and it is wise to collect them wherever good ones are found. Sometimes by ordering unfamiliar dishes at a hotel or restaurant new and excellent ideas may be discovered.

Fish Chops.

Skin, bone and flake enough cold boiled fish to make two cupfuls. Add to the fish a small cupful of crumbs, the juice of an onion, a tablespoonful of soft butter, pepper, salt, a beaten egg, and cream enough to bind the mixture. Fish sauce may be used if there is any left over. Mix well, then form the mixture into chop-sized pats. When ready dip the pats into beaten egg, roll in fine crumbs, and fry a good brown. Lift and drain the chops, insert in each a wooden skewer, cover with a paper frill, and place on a hot platter. Garnish with lemon quarters and parsley.

Egg Toasties.

Cut as many slices of bread two inches wide as there are portions to be served. Thin off the crusts, brush over lightly with butter, hollow out a place in the center of each, and set them into the oven to toast. When brown, arrange on a baking dish and fill the hollows with hard-boiled eggs cut in small pieces, and cover with a good cheese sauce.

Meat Scramble.

Chop very fine the left-over meats from perhaps two or three dinners, say some cold lamb, boiled ham, veal cutlet and a little steak, no matter how many different kinds there are so long as they are all fresh and good. Season well, then add four well beaten eggs, and beat all together. Put a piece of butter in a frying pan and when the pan is hot put in the scramble, stir lightly with a fork as the mixture heats, then stir rapidly as the egg begins to cook. When scrambled, heap on toast rounds, dust the top with a little grated cheese, set in the oven just a minute to heat the cheese, then serve.

Salmon Roll.

Open a large can of salmon, free from skin, bone, and drain thoroughly. Flake the fish, adding to it the juice of an onion, a tablespoonful of capers, a tablespoonful of crumbs, pepper, salt, and a small cupful of rich cream sauce. Make a good crust, roll it out thin, place the salmon mixture in the center, roll like a fruit roll, pinch the ends together, lay on a buttered baking dish, and bake until the crust is done. Serve on a hot platter, and offer a good drawn butter with the roll. Peas, asparagus or fried egg-plant may be served with the roll, or plain baked potatoes will be sufficient.

ADVENTURE OF A SWIMMER.

A girl, who had won honor in various swimming contests, was having a daily swim. She decided to swim out to a rowboat, which was quite a distance from land. She had almost reached the boat when down, down, down she went, down to the very sea bottom.

How it happened she knew not. Then she opened her eyes and behold a palace of coral shining in its glory. She looked at herself and beheld a silvery mermaid's body. She had no legs. It was beautiful, to be sure.

She went toward the castle, which had a fine wall of white coral. Two little mermaids came out of the castle gate to meet her and escort her to the castle. She reached the castle and she went in the gate. When she reached the door she saw through the door a line of golden skinned mermaids on each side, so she could pass before the king of the sea.

She went before the king and stood before the throne. She told the king what had happened and he answered and said:

"You have loved a man, haven't you? Well, he disappeared a few days ago. You loved him very much. We have brought you here because your lover is here, and if you love him you will have to work to win him back. I will give you until tomorrow."

He then sent for a mermaid to take her to her room. She thought to herself, "Will I ever go back to my home again?"

She wondered and wondered. Well, by that time she had reached a room at the end of the long hall of pink coral, lighted by dew drops. Her room was white coral with a beautiful bed with a cover and pillows of lavender sea weed woven in the most beautiful shapes and designs. She lay down to rest from her adventure, and fell asleep.

How long she slept she did not know, but she arose only to hear the sweet voices of the mermaids. She went to a little glass on the wall and she did not know herself, because she looked more like a fish than she did a girl. Suddenly she heard a rap-tap on the door and a mermaid entered.

She said, "The King wishes me to set before you these shells of three different varieties. He wishes you to have them sorted by the time the dinner bell is rung. If you do not you will never see land again."

She set to work immediately. The mermaid went out and shut the door. She liked to sort shells, so she had them sorted by the time the dinner bell rang.

Then the mermaid came back and took her before the king. He said: "You have completed this task, and so I will set before you your last task tomorrow."

She then left. She was told that she had the privilege to roam in the palace gardens. She was hungry by this time so the mermaid brought her some food. She ate and drank and then, being refreshed, went into the palace grounds. She saw little fishes scooting all in and out of the plants. Now and then a shadow would pass over.

She was told that that shadow was a big ship going to sea. How she longed for home. She then went to her room for the night.

In the morning she saw as usual fishes swimming past her windows of mother-of-pearl. She went before the king.

He said, "I will now give you your last task."

He blew two blasts on his whistle. Six large fish appeared, two sharks, two salmon, two sword fish.

He said to her, "Your lover is one of these fishes. If you guess the right one, you shall return to your home with him."

Of course she guessed the right one. So the king said, "You shall rest here another night. Tomorrow you shall go back to the land from whence you came."

Her heart jumped for joy. The next morning she started with a mermaid to lead her. When she almost reached the top, she felt something licking her hand, and awoke to find it was her pet dog, and she was lying on the sand, all sunburned. And, after all, it was a dream.

BIG OIL SUPPLY BELIEVED WITHIN ARCTIC CIRCLE

Vast Area of Alaska Thought Worthless May Prove Most Productive.

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 8. — Possibility of developing a supply of oil within the Arctic Circle is indicated as reports received here continue to describe the apparent scope of the oil field believed to extend from Wainwright Inlet and Point Barrow, Alaska, to the eastward. A vast area of Alaska hitherto considered worthless may prove the most productive part of the territory, according to prospectors' reports.

The first definite information was brought to Nome in August by a prospecting party headed by R. D. Adams. This party reported that oil-bearing formations stretched from the coast to the western boundary of Alaska, where they seemed to merge into the Fort Norman oil development on the Mackenzie.

OIL SEEPAGES FOUND.

The heaviest oil seepages were found near Cape Simpson, on the Arctic coast east of Point Barrow, where the Adams party staked claims. The seepages occurred on several barren hills. On one the oil was seen to rise at a point near the top and flow duwnward into a lake. So conspicuous was this seepage it could be discerned plainly at a great distance.

The most peculiar thing about these seepages, according to Adams, is their variety. They run variously dark green, bright yellow and dark brown. The party collected 50 gallons to be shipped to San Francisco for chemical analysis.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM.

Adams, while optimistic over the prospect of establishing producing fields, pointed out that only intense geological work and numerous test wells would locate the main sources. Even then, he added, there would be the difficult problem of transportation, which, however, need not be insurmountable.

Two Standard Oil parties from California put in the summer exploring some of the territory covered by the Adamsm party, and made similar reports of conditions.

Since, five years ago, a teacher reported a "lake of oil" near Point Barrow, and native added more startling details to the story, there had been sporadic prospecting for oil north of Nome.

Crabs Dig Holes in Concrete Sheathing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. 8.—Concrete heretofore has been regarded as a match for everything but steel tools and high explosives, but it has been discovered that the stone crab, common to Florida waters, digs into and crushes it as so much chalk. The tool the crab uses is his case hardened claws, the claws regarded so highly as a table delicacy after a heavy hammer has been brought into play to crush them to permit extraction of the flesh.

Engineers for many years have sought an economical method of protecting piling driven in salt water from worms and other scourges which cut them in two and believed they had solved the problem by sheating them with concrete, but the stone crab has shown them their mistake.

The discovery was made only recently. Contractors engaged in sheating the piling of a bridge across Boce Celge Bay near here were mystified at the appearance of holes and cracks in the concrete on piling near the channel. An investigation failed to disclose the cause of the trouble but the problem was solved by George Lizotte, local authority on crabs, who upon learning of the difficulty declared stone crabs were responsible. A further investigation developed that the channel contained thousands of the crabs and that they were tearing holes in the concrete to make homes for themselves, the species inhabiting, whenever available, holes in rocks and piling.

The contractor has decided to sheath the piling in and near the channel with sheet iron.

PLANE STOLEN BY JOY RIDERS; POLICE FIND IT

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8.—Not only is the parked automobile prey to prowling thieves, but even the parked air craft no longer is safe, since a large hydroplane at Columbia beach in this state was borrowed for a joy ride, according to a despatch from Vancouver, Wash., to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The plane was the property of Lieutenant Vernon Ayers, a stunt flyer. He told the police it was missing Tuesday night. Yesterday it was found, undamaged, near the bridge across the Columbia river, where it had been abandoned.

DRAWINGS SHOW STATE OF MIND

PARIS, Sept. 8. — The hours dragged monotonously for the allied premiers during the last meeting of the Supreme Council at Paris, while the interpreters were translating the various speeches from French into English and Italian and, to while away the time, the prime ministers scribbled and drew various figures on pieces of paper which they later threw into the waste basket. A journalist rescued them and this is what he found:

Lloyd George, probably inspired by the designs on Marshal Foch's uniform right across the table from him, had drawn a perfect oak leaf.

Lord Curzon's effort proved to be a geographical map, but the country which it purported to bound remained a mystery; it might have been Upper Silesia and then again it might have been India, as the noble lord was just preparing a speech on famine in that country during his viceroyalty as compared with the present Russian famine.

Briand's thoughts were evidently far away from matters of state, while Clemenceau, the official interpreter, was translating into English a speech the French premier had just delivered, for he drew a picture of a wedding couple just emerging from one of the Parisian churches. The French premier is a bachelor.

ERSHING'S TALK LACKING IN TACT, SAYS GOMPERS

Claim Made That Labor Won War Is Declaration of A. F. L. Head.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Samuel mpers has issued a statement in ly to the remarks made by Gen- l Pershing at a dinner Tuesday ening, given at the conclusion of Lafayette-Marne Day exercises. mpers had spoken, referring to part the American Federation Labor had played in the war. nile he made no claim that labor d won the war, Pershing apparent- regarded his talk in that light and speech was in criticism of such claim. Gompers at that time made reply but last night gave out the owing:

"It is to be presumed that those o read the extract from General rshing's speech concluded that in address I had made the claim at labor won the war.

"Of course, I made no such state- nt and, much as I regret saying there was no ground for the rath- testy remarks of the leader whom all admire and to whom we all owe a great debt.

"With everything else contained in eneral Pershing's speech, I found self in full accord. I regret ex- edingly that he should have made necessary for me to make this atement.

"I did not say labor won the war. offered no reason and no excuse what General Pershing had to y. I regret, as perhaps he him- lf does now, his lack of tact, his propriety. General Pershing is a ave and splendid soldier and I pay m the tribute of saying his gen- alship on the battlefield is much tter than his generalship as an ter-dinner speaker."

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Completing a 145-mile swim, begun at Albany last Friday, Miss Millie Gade, 22 years old, a swimming instructor at the New York Young Women' Association, arrived at Battery Park this morning. A launch and a rowboat accompanied her down the Hudson, and she slept and ate aboard the launch.

She left Albany last Friday and covered, including detours, approximately 153 miles. She was in the water 63 hours, 35 minutes.

Miss Gade average three and a half miles an hour on the last day of the swim. She finished in good condition, but said she had been at the point of exhaustion several times since she started from Albany, and that on one occasion she was struck in the face by a large fish. Driftwood made night swimming perilous, but she did some in order to take advantage of ebb tides. Members of Miss Gade's party said that she had nearly cut the record for the swim in half.

NO SALE FOR FANCY WINES; GO TO GUTTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A huge hoard of fancy wines, whiskey, champagne and other valuable liquors seized from smugglers by federal agents is now being destroyed, Chief Ashworth, of the customs service, said today.

The government has failed in attempts to sell it. Before the government will sell this liquor a permit is necessary.

"There seems to b little market for imported liquor now," said Ashworth. "We tried to sell it but failed, although we offered some of the liquor for less than $5 a case."

DENBY APPROVES LARGE SLASH IN NAVY YARD PAY

10 to 20 Per Cent Cut Reduction Hits 68,000 Civilian Workers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. — The new navy wage scale decreasing by 10 to 20 per cent the pay of about 68,000 civilian employes has been approved by Secretary Denby.

In general, the new scale, effective September 15, is made uniform for similar work in all navy yards. According to the report of the departmental wage board of review, the revised schedules will be four cents an hour less than prevailing wages for railroad trades and five cents per hour more than those in shipbuilding trades. The board said the wages recommended are 45 per cent higher than pre-war scales and estimates the cost of living at 80 per cent higher than in 1913.

The decreases broadly are 13 to 14 per cent for artisans, 10 per cent for technical employees, 15 per cent for clerks and supervisors and 20 per cent for certain other of the supervisory positions.

The board also recommended that "73 cents an hour be fixed as a fair and just rate of pay for the basic trades" and that the five-day week be temporarily continued until the general unemployment is relieved."

"The decrease in wages is due to three causes," the report said, "decrease in living costs amounting to 16.7 per cent, according to Department of Labor figures; the general industrial depression; to the treatment of by a certain number of employers of labor purely as a commodity to be obtained at the cheapest possible rate."

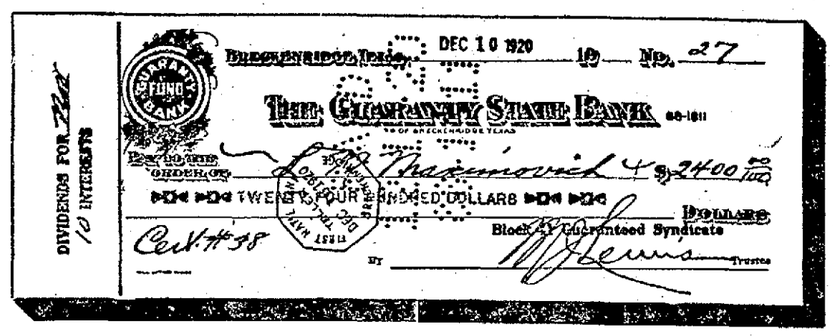
Look at This Check!



The check reproduced above was a Breckenridge Oil Syndicate's first monthly dividend. Mr. Maximovich, a $1,000 investor in the Block 41 Syndicate, received this check. This check is not reproduced in an attempt to make you believe that OPTIMO HAS AN ABSOLUTE CINCH TO DUPLICATE THIS RECORD, but Optimo is a Breckenridge Syndicate and has an equal chance to profit.

It is shown you in order that you may know that many Breckenridge Syndicates do PAY and PAY BIG. In fact, the Conzolus, another Breckenridge Syndicate, has already returned more than $1,700 to each of its $100 Unit holders. Both Block 41 and the Gonzolus were one-well, one-lease Syndicates—neither of them having over five acres.

Optimo Has 2 Leases—45 Acres—Room for 5 Wells Only 600 Equal Sharing Units.

It's first well is drilling. It is already below 1600 feet. Spike Rockwell, its driller, who drilled the 1400-barrel Senoj Well, a short 900 feet North, in 32 days' actual drilling time, says he will break Breckenridge Drilling Records and Breckenridge DIVIDEND Records—with OPTIMO. We hope he will. We are retaining 300 Optimo Units for ourselves.
But it is not our purpose here to tell you the story of Optimo. There's no coupon attached for you to pin a check to and mail money to us. What we want you to do is

SEND FOR! READ! ACT ON!
THAT OPTIMO BOOKLET

It tells the Story of Optimo. It's golden chance to PROFIT in the great Breckenridge Field with its record, vouched for by the Chamber of Commerce of Breckenridge, of 96 out of every 100 wells drilled being producers, and its record of being the only county in the United States to ever produce one-seventh of all the Oil produced in the United States.

The Booklet Will Tell You

of the Fosters—real OIL men—hustlers—bona fide OIL producers. It will tell you how you can become an OPTIMO OIL OWNER and really own 1 barrel out of every 600 the Syndicate receives from all of its wells—on all of its leases—for each $100 you invest. It will show you that OPTIMO investors are not mere shareholders—certificate owners—BUT ACTUALLY OWN THE PERCENTAGE OF OIL THAT THEY PURCHASE, and each 30 days receive payment for their share of the oil produced.
It will tell you of OPTIMO, a Foster Breckenridge Investment where you can Risk Little and make MUCH. But the story is completely told in our booklet.

NEW ADVISERS OF EDUCATION BOARD ELECT CHAIRMAN

L. B. Magoon of East Oakland Heads Body Which Holds Preliminary Session.

Electing L. B. Magoon of East Oakland as permanent chairman, the new Committee of Fifteen, which will act as advisers to the board of education, held its preliminary organization meeting last night at the construction department headquarters, Twelfth and Webster streets.

It was decided that the work of the committee will be transacted by sub-committees of three members each, who will keep within their specialties and report to the main committee at the latter's meetings. There will be an executive committee, a business committee and committees for health, education, and all the other departments of the schools. Each sub-committee, it was decided, will hold its own committee meetings, with its own committee chairman, and its findings will come to the surface when they are brought to the general committee.

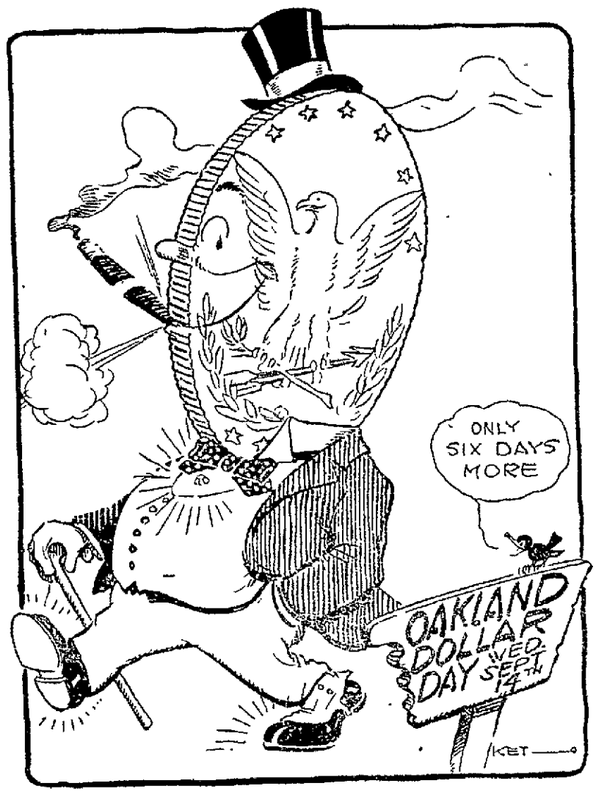
The meeting began with a short talk by President Harry Boyle of the board of education, who advocated economy, efficiency and team work. Mrs. Edgar L. Ormsby welcomed the fifteen workers, and Magoon was chosen as chairman.

Two Children Have Bank for Parents

Alta and George Morrill, aged 13 and 9, have a bank for a father and mother. The bank has sent them to school and the bank has found them a home and the bank is taking care of the trust fund that was left to the two by their father, Harry Morrill.

When the father died, in January, 1920, the Central National Bank of Oakland found itself guardian of Alta and George, and they have been under the bank's care since. The estate, consisting of real estate and bonds has increased in that time and the trust fund will be made larger by about $1600 as a result of the bank's application to sell five acres of land near Livermore for the children. Alta and George have been placed in a private family by the bank. They are being educated in Alameda.

He's on His Way



Theaters Today

CENTURY

As a happy selection for the next week's entertainment to be offered by Will King and his talented company at the Century theater, the riotously funny musical comedy "Pretty Peggy" has been billed to open with the matinee performance next Sunday afternoon. In addition to this the noted screen star, Viola Dana, will be seen in "Life's Darn Funny."

"Pretty Peggy" is one of those laughable productions in which King and his co-workers are fitted with parts that offer the widest range of display of talents. There is a comedy in abundance, girls galore, catchy musical numbers, and, of course, the popular thirty beauties on the illuminated runway.

Gorgeous new costumes, special settings and electrical effects have been prepared for the new production.

NEW FRANKLIN

A many-featured bill includes Clyde Cook in "The Sailor," "On the Trail," Tony Sarg's "Save My Child," Stella Hymson in "Memories of Galli Curci" and Ernie Milliken's Toddie Syncopators.

A second week with all the extra attractions, will start Saturday. "The Great Moment" is the story of a girl, half English, half gypsy, reared in seclusion by a rich English father, and suddenly confronted with love and its consequences during an American trip, during which she meets a young American mining engineer.

ORPHEUM

Special symphonic music is one of at the Orpheum theater, where "Over the Hill" is now concluding its third and final week. Based on two of the Will Carleton poems, "Over the Hill" tells a remarkable story in a simple fashion. It is a story of ordinary people told in an extraordinary manner, and it is in the telling that the picture gains prestige. There is nothing of the spectacular, nothing of the sensational about the picture, and it is the simplicity of the whole affair that causes it to have such wide appeal.

"Over the Hill" will show twice daily at 2.15 and 8.15.

With the arrival of "The Queen of Sheba" but a few days off interest grows apace in the super-film spectacle which will be given at the Oakland Orpheum for a brief engagement beginning with next Sunday's matinee.

The vanished splendor of a barbaric age will be re-created for those who see Betty Blythe and the cast of 5000 playing in the "Queen of Sheba."

The love story of the ancient queen of Biblical days was the most famous of all times, not excepting that of Cleopatra. The splendor of the queen's court, the great throngs of people—all these features conspire to make the "Queen of Sheba" the super spectacle of the age.

BROADWAY

Announced for an engagement last Sunday but prevented from appearing here because of an extended San Francisco appearance, Monroe Salisbury will be seen on the stage of the New Broadway theater in person today and tonight and again tomorrow and tomorrow night.

This is the notable screen star's first personal appearance in Oakland. He will occupy the stage for twenty minutes at not less than three performances daily and will relate his experiences in picture making.

The star will also be seen in his own production, "The Barbarian," on the same program.

FULTON

George M. Cohen's greatest play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," is to be revived at the Fulton theater next Sunday afternoon. The story is about a young chap who makes a wager that he can write a popular novel in twenty-four hours, and goes up to the Baldpate Inn, on the top of a mountain all by himself, to accomplish the feat. It is a cold, windy, wintry night. The young chap expected to be alone, but instead he was visited by a bunch of crooks and desperadoes, men and women. There was no peace in Baldpate Inn that night. War from it. There was excitement, adventure, chaos, bedlam and a few other things thrown in for good measure.

"The Cave Girl" is proving to be one of the most delightful comedies of the Fulton this year. The management announces that a special matinee will be given on Admission Day, Friday.

AMERICAN

"Without Benefit of Clergy," Rudyard Kipling's romance of love that defied conventions of two races, is the feature of the double bill now playing at the American. Wanda Hawley in "A Kiss in Time" is the other attraction.

"Without Benefit of Clergy" is staged on a spectacular scale under the supervision of Kipling himself, and is perhaps the most famous of the famous author's stories of India. A star cast is seen in the big production, the first of the notable new hits for the current season under the American's new bookings.

PANTAGES

Shelton Brooks, writer of many popular song successes, and noted musical comedy star, comes to Pantages next week as one of the headliners. Brooks will revive some of his syncopated numbers such as "Some of These Days," "All Night Long," "Darktown Strutter's Ball," "Jean," "Walking the Dog," etc.

Another headliner will be Carlton Emmy with "Mad Wags" an out of the ordinary canine act. The bill also will include Scamp and Scamp on horizontal bars, Santucci, accordionist; Gus Elmore and Esther; the Italian Four, opera singers, and "The Bandit," playlet.

KINEMA

Friday will end the last complete week's run of photoplay at the Kinema theater, and "The Devil to Pay" and "Miracles of the Jungle"—the current attractions—will be followed by a return for two days of "Humoresque."

Then the theater will be turned over to a wrecking crew to make way for a department store building.

"The Devil to Pay" is the mystery story of a rich politician who sends an innocent youth to the gallows, and then becomes the haunted victim of a trick of fate and a skillful surgeon who has, without the politician's knowledge, performed an operation, miraculously saving the life of the condemned youth.

"Humoresque" will play Saturday and Sunday only.

AUDITORIUM

Only three more days remain in which to see "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" now being shown every afternoon and evening at the Auditorium theater.

The thousands who have seen "The Four Horsemen" have acclaimed it a fitting portrayal of the novel upon which it is founded. Its wealth of detail and its mass of smashing situations have taken theater-goers by storm. Its battle scenes are the greatest ever attempted and its love story is one that all will remember. It is being shown at matinee and evening performances until Sunday night.

STRAND

A picture for young and old alike—that is the description that may be applied to Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," which will be the feature at the Strand theater, Thirty-third and Telegraph for two days beginning tonight. It is doubtful that many grown-ups exist who haven't a fond memory of Tommy's imagination and practically all of the youngsters today have read about him at one time or another.

The story begins with Tommy's entrance with his sister, Elspeth, to the Scotch village of Thurms and his rescue of Grizel from a crowd of youngsters who are throwing stones at her.

On the same bill is Buster Keaton, "One in a Week."

CHIMES

Barrie's greatest story, "Sentimental Tommy," will be shown at the Chimes theater last times today. It is a story about a Welsh boy who let his imagination rule him until he believed the most incredible things to be true.

Gareth Hughes as "Tommy" does some of the best acting that has ever been done on a film. May McAvoy as "Grizel," Malcolm Bradley as "Dominie Cathro" the schoolmaster, and George Fawcett as "Doctor MacQueen" are perfect types; so is Mabel Tallaferro as "The Painted Lady."

OAKLAND STORES COMPLETE PLANS FOR 'DOLLAR DAY'

Persons From Neighboring Cities to Get Special Rail Rates for Bargain Sales.

Thousands of persons from all portions of Northern California are expected to flock to Oakland Wednesday, September 14, to take advantage of the annual fall Dollar Day, declared by local merchants. On this day hundreds of various articles that normally would draw a much larger price will be placed on bargain counters for the shopping public for one dollar.

Already arrangements are being made by local merchants and department store managers to accommodate the immense throngs that will be drawn to various business places, and extra police protection is being provided for by Police Chief James T. Drew, while extra traffic patrolmen will be placed at various street intersections.

In order that people in the state other than the residents of Oakland may take advantage of the day the San Francisco and Sacramento railroad has declared a special excursion rate from all points between Oakland and Pittsburg. This rate will go into effect on the morning of Dollar Day and will last throughout the day to enable residents of those cities to come to Oakland and take advantage of the bargains offered at the different stores. This rate will be applied to round-trip tickets only.

The day will be observed by stores from the regular opening hour in the morning until closing time. During this time the counters will be ladened with articles on which prices have been specially brought down for the event.

T. & D.

"At the End of the World," starring Betty Compson, will be seen at the T. and D. theater for the last time Saturday night.

"At the End of the World" fairly blazes with action. In contrast to the gowns worn by the star, Betty Compson, who will be remembered for her initial triumph, "The Miracle Man," is a plot that offers a sordid background in a Shanghai den, shifts to a lonely reef, where three men fight for the love of one woman, and then sweeps on to a startling climax.

Buster Keaton in "The High Sign" and Tom Santschi in "The Sagebrush Musketeer," are on the bill.

LOEW'S STATE

Paul Ash and his aggregation of ten symphonic-jazz soloists at Loew's State theater are visiting in Scotland this week, and are rendering songs and melodies befitting a scene laid in that country. Eugene O'Brien is on the screen in "The Last Door." On the varieties may be found Joyce Bando and her company of singers and dancers in "Inspiration," Marco and Company, with a display of digital dexterity, Cotton Allen and May Moore, Percy Chapman and Elsie Ring and Roy Gordon and Nell Healy.

Commencing Sunday the State presents Alice Lake in "The Greater Claim."

MIKE HAYES OLD AT 81? NAY, SAYS HE

Mike Hayes, 662 Sixth street, is pointed to by Frank H. Davison, steward at the Emergency hospital, as a pattern for the younger generation.

"They don't make 'em like that in this generation," declared "Davey," and then goes on to explain.

Hayes walked into the hospital at 9.15 o'clock this morning and asked to have a bad cut over his left eye "fixed up." He had fallen on the gangplank of one of the boats at Moore's shipyards and cut a big deep gash. When the cut had been sewed up and bandaged Hayes left the hospital to go back to his work as mechanic. As he was leaving Davison said:

"Oh I'm not so old," answered Hayes. "I'm only eighty one."

Intelligence Tests Discussed At Mills

Use of group intelligence tests was discussed by Mills College Faculty Forum this week. Dr. Kate Brousseau, professor of philosophy, was the leader. Claims in favor of intelligence testing of college students were made. Decision will be reached next week.

Dr. Agnes Claypool Moody will be the speaker at assembly tomorrow, presenting Summer Snapshots of England and Belgium.

Life and letters of James Russell Lowell was reviewed by President Aurelia Henry Reinhardt in her series of American Biographies yesterday afternoon.

Earle Garfield Linsley, professor of geography, presented a stereopticon lecture last evening on the grand canyon of the Colorado, which he visited this summer.

Mills Hall residents received in honor of Miss Catherine Urner of the vocal department yesterday.

THREE-DAY HIKE PLANNED.

Loma Prieta and Aptos Creek are the objectives of the California Alpine Club's three-day knapsack trip for the week-end. The party leaves Third and Townsend street depot, San Francisco, for Wright on Friday at 8.05 a. m., the return being made to San Francisco from Santa Cruz on Sunday. During the meantime, thirty miles are to be covered on foot, the trail leading to Loma Prieta, Soquel Creek, Santa Rosalia mountain, Aptos and Bridge Creek. Leaders are A. H. Crichter and William H. Staniels.

STORIES DON'T AGREE.

Because Frank Dahln told conflicting stories as to how his ear was injured he was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and is being held for investigation. He first said that his ear was split when he was knocked to the ground while cranking his automobile, and then told of a fight with three sailors, in which one hit him with a sharp instrument.

WAVE OF ENTHUSIASM SWEEPS OVER NATION

Thousands Write Grateful Letters of Appreciation As Famous Medicine Continues to Accomplish Remarkable Results; Great Tanlac Laboratories Running At Top Speed to Supply Record Breaking Demand; Over Half a Million Bottles Behind With Orders.

By CHARLES MURRAY GILBERT

ATLANTA, GA., September 8.—"Tanlac made me feel younger." "It put me back on the payroll." "I now have a fine appetite." "I can eat whatever I want." "No more dyspepsia for me." "I gained weight rapidly." These and scores of like expressions are now heard daily from tens of thousands, as grateful users of Tanlac tell of their experiences.

Leading drug men of the country are amazed at the tremendous sales of Tanlac, and point out enthusiastically that nothing has ever equalled the phenomenal demand for this preparation.

At the great Tanlac laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, letters and telegrams are pouring in daily asking that shipments of Tanlac be rushed at once. Many of these orders are for full carload shipments, and quite a few of them for two and three carloads. Although running at top speed, the Tanlac laboratories are now over half a million bottles, or approximately twenty-four carloads behind with orders. This announcement will no doubt be received with great surprise in the drug world, because business in many lines, especially in the drug and medicine business, has been off from 40 to 50 per cent.

Agents in Every Town

One druggist in every city, town and village in the United States and Canada, where agencies have not already been established will be awarded the exclusive publicity agency for Tanlac within the next thirty days. These agencies will carry with them, a big publicity campaign exclusively for the one druggist in each city and town who secures the agency.

Tanlac is going right ahead more vigorously than ever before. For Tanlac there is no such thing as business depression. In fact, Tanlac does not believe there is such a thing as hard times; at least, not in the drug business. Things are getting better every day. In a few weeks' time crops will begin to move. Hundreds of millions of dollars will be put into circulation and business will soon be back on a better and sounder basis than in years.

Notice to Dealers.

Many wholesalers and manufacturers stopped pushing at the very first sign of a dark cloud. The result being that many drug lines slumped. Tanlac went right ahead and the result has been that more Tanlac has been sold during the first six months of the present year than in any corresponding period in the past.

Line up with Tanlac. Connect with a product that sells no matter how the times, because of its superior merit.

Although Tanlac has been on the market over six years, it is an actual fact that more Tanlac is being sold today with the same amount of advertising than during any time in the past.

Tanlac will not only prove your greatest seller for this year, but for many years to come.

DISARMAMENT PRELIMINARIES PROGRESS WELL

London Times Says Conversations of Powers Will Begin Soon.

LONDON, Sept 8—Preliminary work in driving up the agenda for the conference on limitations of armaments, to be held in Washington next November, is showing considerable progress, it is declared by the London Times. This work is so far advanced, the newspaper says, that it is possible to begin informal conversations between the powers to be represented in the conference, regarding the exact definition and limitation discussed.

The newspaper understands these conversations will begin as soon as representatives of the interested powers return to London, and hope is expressed that they may rapidly lead to favorable results so that the main features of the agenda may be decided upon by the time the Japanese mission leaves Tokio for Washington.

Inquiry brought emphatic denial in British official circles that any such conversations were in contemplation. In one well informed quarter it was declared that the report was probably a 'feeler' emanating in foreign quarters.

Missing Girl Seen In Oakland Street

Search for Miss Helen Sommerstorm, 17, who disappeared Tuesday from her home, 109 Sunnyside avenue, Piedmont, was abandoned today by the girl's parents, Mr and Mrs. Axel Sommerstorm, when they learned that their daughter was somewhere in Oakland.

According to friends, the girl was seen in Oakland late yesterday afternoon. Mrs Sommerstrom said today her daughter was welcome to return home and that she was unable to understand why the girl had left home and remained away over night.

Baby Hands Retie Broken Nuptial Knot

The popular magazines have no corner on reconciliations effected by baby hands Such a reunion of husband and wife was effected in Superior Judge A. F St. Sure's court yesterday afternoon, when Lester Warlick and Mrs Marie Warlick asked to have set aside an interlocutory decree of divorce granted a year ago.

Mrs. Warlick brought suit for divorce, alleging cruelty. Superior Judge T W Harris, after hearing the evidence, granted Mrs. Warlick's petition, but refused to give her custody of the baby girl, Bertha, now three years old Instead, he placed the child in the custody of Mrs Bertha Warlick, mother of Warlick.

Finding that it was impossible for either of them to have the child so long as they remained apart, Mr and Mrs Warlick asked that the decree be set aside so they could live together again and have their child with them.

PUBLICATIONS AT UNIVERSITY MAY BE POOLED

Organization of Student Dramatics Under Central Council Proposed.

BERKELEY, Sept 8—Reorganization of activities at the University of California loomed today with the possibility of the English club pooling its control of the "Pelican" and 'Occident" with the control of the 'Californian," now in the hands of the Associated Students. A similar move has been suggested for the organization of student dramatics under a central council.

With the assurance of the building of the California stadium preparations are being made on the college campus to prevent athletic activities from overshadowing the other campus interests and it is believed by the students that the attitude of the English club marks the first move in this direction.

For many years the English club has stood aloof from student body control of its publications, which are the oldest on the campus, but the new trend of campus affairs has caused the members of the literary society to consider student body support in assuring the future of their publications Student dramatics will also be considered in the planned reorganization of control, and may receive financial support from the student body.

The problems arising on the campus have been aggravated by the introduction into the field of publications of the "Pictorial," which is also controlled by a club organization If the plans of the students are completed, all of the student activities will be financed by student body funds, and controlled in policy by joint boards of faculty members and students Several meetings have been called by President David P Barrows to discuss the plans, and a gathering of representatives from all interested organizations has been called for next Monday

SANITARIUM TO ASK VINDICATION BY INVESTIGATION

Governor Stephens Asked to Order Inquiry by Trustees of Weimar Hospital.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 8—Charges of lax administration and immorality at the Weimar Joint Sanatorium are not to be dropped with their utterance by a detective sent to the sanatorium as a patient by Mayor James P Rolph of San Francisco For its own vindication the hospital committee of the sanatorium went on record today in petition to the governor for an investigation, members of the State Board of Health have expressed their opinion that the atmosphere should be cleared, and a large package of 'surprise" information is being held back for the psychological moment, it is said. The hospital committee, it is believed here, is getting ready to play its trump card.

SEARCH NOT REWARDED.

Search by the committee members for some traces of the detective who is said to have supplied Mayor Rolph with the 'information' which resulted in the charges has failed of result It is said that the man entered the place as a tuberculosis patient and that his report was used to meet a political exigency in San Francisco

How the affairs at Weimar became of such interest to San Franciscans is explained by the fact that the supervisors in San Francisco recently favored a resolution to send the county's tubercular patients to that place When Mayor Rolph vetoed the resolution the board passed a resolution of censure

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

At a recent meeting of the hospital committee of the Weimar Joint Sanatorium the following resolution was adopted

'Whereas, James Rolph, mayor of San Francisco, California employed a detective to become a patient of the Weimar Joint Sanatorium to furnish him a lurid report to meet political exigency in San Francisco, and

Whereas Sensational matters were reputed to be in said report, but which said report was not given to said Sanatorium authorities, although insistent demand was made therefor, and,

"Whereas, Said Sanatorium is collecting the state subsidy under an act of the Legislature, and

"Whereas The successful and economical management of such institution to that extent becomes a state matter and,

"Whereas, It has been publicly charged by Mrs Edythe Tate Thompson, Director of Tuberculosis, that the reputation of San Francisco would be jeopardized by joining the Sanatorium, and,

"Whereas If such condition exists at said Sanatorium it should be investigated and a public report made thereon, and the statements of Mrs Thompson found to be true or false.

STATE QUIZ ASKED

"Now, Therefore, We, the Hospital Committee who are charged with the successful and economical management of said institution, request the Governor of the State of California and the California State Board of Health to make a thorough and complete examination and investigation of said institution and publish the findings in an open report, it is further

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Hon Wm D Stephens Governor of California, and to the State Board of Health — Hospital Central Committee of Weimar Joint Sanatorium By Robert E Callahan, President By W F Russell, Secretary"

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos —and entire freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

That is CAMEL QUALITY.

LAND LOAN LAW OF WIDE SCOPE HELD STATE NEED

Settlement Commission and Easier Loans for Farm Buying Urged By Expert.

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Creation of a land settlement commission made up of bankers, irrigation and agricultural experts, and amendments to the federal farm loan bank act or the inauguration of a scheme whereby postal savings might be loaned on land at low interest, were urged by Dr. Elwood Mead before the closing session of the California Land Colonization Conference at the University of California. Dr. Mead is president of the State Land Settlement Board.

"With such laws in operation here, this state would become the mecca for an educated, intelligent, patriotic class of people and would open to the state agriculture college a wide field of service," Dr. Mead declared. He said 1,000,000 acres of land in this state was ready for cultivation.

According to Dr. Mead, the federal farm loan bank must enlarge its scope to assist people in becoming land owners. He says in the past its aid was given to those who already owned land. Quoting from the third annual report of the Federal Farm Loan Board, he showed that only one in four loans were used for the purchase of land, but that 60 per cent used to pay off mortgages, and 9 per cent to pay off other debts.

A scheme for long time loans at low rates was presented as a necessity. Letters from persons all over the country eager to locate in California and needing loans ranging from $2,500 to $10,000 to finance their settlement on the land are registered in his office, the speaker asserted.

There were 1170 fatal industrial accidents in Canada during 1920.

SUFFERED SIX YEARS

Mrs. Stoll Tells Women How She Found Relief From Pain

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered for six years with pain every month, had vomiting spells the first two days, and was unfit to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took the medicine with satisfactory results. I am a midwife and recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and my daughters take it. You may publish these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LOUISE STOLL, 609 W. York St., Philadelphia, Pa.

It is not natural for women to suffer as did Mrs. Stoll, and in nine cases out of ten it is caused by some displacement or derangement of the system which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes, because it acts as a natural restorative.

Every woman who is subject to cramps, headaches, nervous spells, backache or those dreadful bearing-down pains should profit by Mrs. Stoll's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about their health.

Women Give Ideas for Club Development

By EDNA B. KINARD.

One hundred and seventeen new ideas for club development were presented by 117 Rock Ridge clubwomen when they gathered at a "Home Coming Luncheon" this week. Copyrights were extended to the first speaker making the suggestion. Whenever a fellow member offered the unoriginal declaration that her ideas had already been made public, she suffered immediate penalty in a substantial contribution to the building fund. It was ideas the board of directors sought.

The first idea made concrete was the establishment of a food table to be conducted at each business meeting, and not only to swell the treasury, which will buy bricks, but co-ordinate in a practical way the club and the home.

The delectable dish which a member has confidence she concocts better than any other—be it bread, cake, salad, preserves, or what not—will be contributed along with the recipe to the club table. Here members may make their purchases for the family board, resorting to strategy to possess the dish, bidding fairly for its way of making, or may place orders, the home cook taking out the costs before returning the proceeds to the clubhouse fund.

The new clubhouse is the goal for the new year. Covetous eyes are turned upon the building lot which adjoins that already owned by Rock Ridge women. A garden and a place of beauty to afford outdoor amusement has been added to the plans.

Covered with oaks, the building site is an attractive fall spot. A garden fete and market to attract the community to an all-day sale is already being talked of as an eminent event which will be by way of formally presenting the location to the public.

Birthday offerings, moreover, are to be made the clubhouse fund, Mrs. Kleeberger being the first member to announce an aniversary and contribute her gift.

Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League are launching the season with a new corps of officers and some definite plans of work which will conform to the name which they have adopted for themselves. Mrs. Sidney Hastett has taken over the responsibility of the chair with Mrs. E. R. Danford, her close associate. Mrs. Alma Mortimer, who has long been very close to the young people of the city in their amusements, will again act as secretary. Giving council on the executive board throughout the coming months will be: Mrs. J. M. de Luca, Mrs. Joseph Milburn, Mrs. F. V. Wright, Mrs. W. L. Mack.

O. F. Snedigar, probation officer of Alameda county, has been revealing some interesting things to the Big Sisters and telling them of some of his ideals. For instance, there were 1542 cases reported to the probation office in 1920, a number but slightly in excess of those for 1919. Children passed through the detention home during that year to the number of 985. Not every case coming to the detention home need be taken into court. During 1920 there were 593 children's cases heard before Judge E. C. Robinson in the juvenile court. Of these boys outnumbered girls about two to one. The commonest age for boys to reach the detention home is 14, for girls, 17.

The founding of a physiological clinic for the mental testing of children within the jurisdiction of the probation officer was urged by Snedigar.

Glimpses of Famous Women will be offered by Mrs. Matilda White-Rudgers of Berkeley to the Alta Mira clubwomen at the open meeting of the season on Monday. The afternoon will inaugurate a series of lectures on history of music, theory and harmony, arranged for the early year.

Miss Jean McNab and Master Gardner McNab will contribute a group of fancy dances to the hour. Mrs. J. J. Egan will be chairman of the day.

Returning to the days when neighborliness meant something in the language of the people, the co-operation section of the College Women's club, under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Fuller, has mapped out an interesting program for the year in perfect harmony with the modern ideals of service. The university graduates who make up the group are assembling tomorrow afternoon in the Bancroft Way clubhouse to commence their self-appointed task.

Miss Lillian Bridgman was the speaker before the business and professional woman's section at a meeting this week, reviewing her experiences as an architect. Miss Anne Kelsey is chairman of the group.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher Honestly advertised, Honestly placed before the public, and from which he Honestly expects to receive his reward.

Lask Will Direct Treble Clef Comedy

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—George Lask, director of the English club play of "Kismet" last year, and director of many Greek theater productions, has been chosen by members of the Treble Clef society at the University of California to coach their annual musical comedy, "Polly Put the Kettle On." The musical comedy is the work of campus authors, and will be offered next month in Oakland by a cast of students.

BALTIMORE BANKER DIES.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8.—J. B. Ramsey, one of the leading financiers of Baltimore, died yesterday. He was formerly chairman of the board of directors of te Merchants' National Bank.

ELIHU ROOT HAS LONG CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT

Reporters Do Lot of Guessing As to Object; Disarming Not Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Elihu Root, the "elder statesman" of the Republican party, whose name has been frequently mentioned as a possible representative of the United States at the coming disarmament conference, was an unexpected caller at the White House today.

Root arrived at the executive offices a few minutes after President Harding had reached his desk, soon after 9 o'clock, and for more than an hour the two were closeted in conference. It was the first time the former secretary of state has been at the White House since President Harding has been in office.

"It was a personal call," he said, when he emerged from the President's office.

"Rather a long personal call, an hour and a half, isn't it, senator?" asked a reporter.

NOT ON DISARMAMENT.

"Oh, well," replied Root, smiling, "we talked about cabbages and kings." He declined to reveal, however, the identity of the possible cabbages and kings discussed. He said the coming disarmament conference had not entered the discussion.

Politics, taxation and the qualities of the present administration were questions tabooed by the former secretary of state.

"These are three matters I never discuss," he said.

Root was informed by one reporter that a despatch had just been received from Geneva saying that he had accepted a seat on the international court of justice, organized under the League of Nations, for which he was nominated by five nations and refused to serve.

HAS NOT ACCEPTED.

"You have an accomplished liar over there," replied the former secretary of state. "I have not accepted."

"They say they are going to draft you to serve, senator," interposed another.

"Is there any new extradition treaty by which they could accomplish it?" asked Root.

Following his visit to the White House, Root was to see Secretary of State Hughes.

Root said he came to Washington in connection with the Carnegie peace endowment fund and was taking advantage of the occasion to pay his respects to the administration.

Streets Scrubbed And Disinfected

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 8. — Sunrisse every morning finds Buenos Aires, in the downtown section in particular, fresh washed, clean as a Dutch housewife's doorstep and smelling like a hospital. This is the result of a thorough washing given all the streets every night and the liberal doses of disinfectant that are spread about in order to check communicable diseases.

About midnight every night gangs of white-clad men, armed with brooms and hoses, appear and undertake to rout out any chance germs that may be lurking in gutters and dark corners. But this is only a part of the city's constant war on disease. It also carries on educational campaigns, using posters principally in order to warn the people of the means by which disease is spread.

GARBAGE BUREAU SHOWS DEFICIT IN FIRST MONTH

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—A deficit of $2500 was shown today in the report of the first month's activities of the new municipal garbage collecting bureau. The first report was filed by Charles D. Heywood, commissioner of public health and safety, and who was mainly responsible for the installation of the new system. Despite the deficit, according to Heywood, the outlook for the new sanitary system is very bright and he expects in a few months that the reports will show a monthly gain of $1000 or $2000. City officials looked for a bigger loss than was reported for the first month's activities.

The report shows that the total expenditures for the first month, including office equipment, furniture and expenses for a trip to Los Angeles by Sanitary Engineer C. C. Newkirk for survey purposes, were $10,719.83.

U. S. S. CALIFORNIA MAKES TRIAL TRIP

With an average speed of approximately twelve knots an hour, the superdreadnaught California, the newest vessel in the Pacific fleet, accomplished the trial trip, covering four hours with complete success yesterday afternoon. Amid the cheering of her crew she left man o' war row at 1 p. m. for the test cruise, establishing a precedent in naval history by not being subjected to the dock test for power.

The California is scheduled to leave San Francisco bay to engage in tactical maneuvers on September 14.

Reception hours will be maintained tomorrow from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. aboard the warship. Naval launches will leave the foot of Howard street hourly. Visitors will also be received aboard on Saturday, Sunday and Monday from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Efficient work of the crew was praised last night by Commander W. A. Snead, executive officer, following the return from the trial trip. Perfect working order and efficiency of the new superdreadnaught, which is designed to become the flagship of the Pacific fleet, was commented on by Commander B. Bruce, engineering officer.

SPEEDERS' PAROLE BY COUNTY BOARD SCORED BY JUDGE

Berkeley Police Jurist Attacks Release of Landsberger After Guilty Plea.

Assailing the actions of the Alameda county parole board, composed of District Attorney Ezra Decoto, Chief of Police James T. Drew and Sheriff Frank Barnet in paroling speeders sentenced to terms in the county jail after they had served but half of the sentence, Judge Robert Edgar, police judge of Berkeley, today declared that the paroling of Julius A. Landsberger, wealthy fruit packer, 1311 Dayton avenue, Alameda, who was sentenced by Judge Edgar for driving his car 45 miles an hour along a public thoroughfare, was a "slap at justice."

"I think it is entirely wrong to parole Landsberger," said Judge Edgar. "I do not know upon what basis or evidence the parole board based its action in this case. Insofar as I have been able to determine, there were no extenuating circumstances in the case.

"This man drove a high-powered automobile through the heart of the Berkeley business district shortly after 8 o'clock on the evening of July 16 at a speed of 45 miles an hour. He deserved to spend three days in the county jail as punishment. He was not entitled to parole or pardon after serving but a day of his sentence."

BUT ONE OF SEVERAL.

Landsberger is one of several speeders released by the parole board after technically serving half the sentence imposed by Judge Edgar, who complained today that the practice is interfering with his efforts to stop speeding by sending any and all offenders to jail.

Landsberger pleaded guilty to the charge of speeding when he appeared before Judge Edgar on Tuesday, and was sentenced to three days in the county jail. Landsberger pleaded for time to arrange his personal affairs and reported to the jail at one minute of midnight.

Under the law, according to the rule of the parole board, the one minutes gives the prisoner credit for a day on his sentence. According to this technicality, Landsberger had served half of his time at noon yesterday, less than 24 hours after he had begun to serve his three-day sentence. Landsberger is president of the Hunt Brothers Packing company.

DREW EXPLAINS.

In discussing the action of the parole board, of which he is a member, Chief of Police Drew said today:

"I was called down to sit in at the hearing by Decoto, who is president of the board. Sheriff Barnet is secretary, and I sort of fill in, I guess. I was told that Landsberger had served half of his time and was entitled to parole if the board saw fit to grant it. I didn't know the man, had never seen him before that I recall, and probably will never see him again. I voted to grant the parole because I understood that the man was engaged in the packing business and was losing hundred of dollars while in jail. Further than that I know nothing about the case. I acted as I would have acted in any other case surrounded by the same circumstances."

District Attorney Decoto and Sheriff Frank Barnet were out of the city today and could not be reached.

Waiter Cashes Bad Check; Loses Purse

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Troubles never come singly, so John Theall, waiter at a college restaurant, 2231 Telegraph avenue, testified this morning at police station.

On Monday Theall says he was dazzled by the smile of a pretty coed and obligingly cashed a check for $10. The next day the check was returned marked "worthless."

Today Theall appeared at police station with a new tale of woe. He reported as missing a brown wallet containing $35 in currency and a bank book. The wallet was lost on Telegraph avenue. It contains his name in gold letters, says Theall.

Survey of National Police Work Is Begun

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—A survey of police work throughout the nation was inaugurated today by Chief of Police August Vollmer as president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Results of the survey, which will include every type of police activity, will be reported at the 1922 convention of the association in San Francisco.

In order to accommodate autoists from this side of the bay who use the Northwestern Pacific ferry arriving at San Francisco at 12:52 a. m., the Southern Pacific Company has arranged, effective at once, to hold the last harbor route ferry, formerly leaving at 1:00 a. m., until 2:05 a. m.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Harding's unemployment congress will be held within the next two weeks, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced today. He indicated that it will be composed of about thirty delegates. Whether agriculture will be represented was discussed today by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace with the President.

The government today awaited a business call from its biggest prospective customer of war salvage. Henry Ford was due here late today to confer with Secretary of War Weeks on Ford's bid for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant. No single individual in the history of the country has made the government a higher bid for something it has to sell than the Detroit automobile manufacturer, it is believed here. He is ready to write the government a check for $5,000,000 and pay $1,500,000 for 100 years, if the administration will sell him the nitrate plant.

Denial that the United States had ever notified Bolivia that this government has no objections to the League of Nations seeking to adjust the territorial dispute between Chile and Bolivia was made at the state department today. When the attention of officials was called to the Bolivian claim at Geneva that the United States had consented to the league's intervention they declared that Bolivia had never been notified by this government to that effect.

Oakland and Neighbors to Dance Tonight For Benefit of Projected City Stadium

SALE OF TOBACCO TO BOY HOLDS SIX

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Following sales of tobacco to a twelve-year-old boy, six cigar store proprietors of Berkeley were arrested today.

Patrolman Henry Hear swore to the complaints after he had visited stores last night with a boy who told in each place that he was making his purchases for "his father."

Following are cigar store proprietors who will be prosecuted:

D. M. Newell, 947 University avenue; Ramon Soria, 714 University avenue; Jacob Olsen, 2002 San Pablo avenue; W. R. Bates, 2526 Shattuck avenue; F. G. Rice, 2509 Shattuck avenue; E. W. Stenhammar, 2538 San Pablo avenue.

Today's arrests followed an investigation of several weeks made by Hear. In addition to being arrested for selling tobacco to a minor Stenhammer and Bates will also be prosecuted for conducting their places of business without licenses.

DUCK HOME ON LAKE WILL NOT BE DISTURBED

The ducks on Lake Merritt will not be disturbed.

This assurance was given yesterday evening to the board of park directors by Mayor Davie, who asserted that the contemplated deepening and clearing of Lake Merritt will not affect the shallow northeastern arm of the lake, where for years the ducks have been one of Oakland's most conspicuous sights.

"We cannot disturb those ducks," said the mayor. "They are too valuable a scenic asset to the city. The park board may keep its duck boom and its clam beds undisturbed."

The park directors, recently alarmed by the contemplated plan to dredge out the lake, sent a memorandum to the mayor pleading that the ducks be let alone.

Hotel Man Fined On Sanitation Charges

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Frank R. Wishon, manager of the Hotel Whitecotton, entered pleas of guilty to two counts against him of unsanitary conditions at the hostelry when he appeared before Judge Robert Edgar this morning. A fine of $25 in each case was imposed.

Wishon was arrested on the complaint of local and state health officials and was charged with having decomposed matter in receptacles which contained meat that he served to guests.

SPURNED MAN KILLS GIRL.

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 8.—Miss Monica Morrell, 17, was shot and killed today by an elderly man whose attentions she had spurned, according to police. The girl recently had complained to her sweetheart about the attentions bestowed upon her by this elderly man and her youthful lover, Robert Crankton, is said to have given him a severe thrashing. Police were seeking Philip J. McDermott, 61, in connection with the shooting.

NIAGARA CLAIMS VICTIM.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Two men reported to the state reservation police yesterday that they saw a man leap from the Goat Island bridge into the upper rapids at 9:30 o'clock last night. He was carried over the American falls. The man was shabbily dressed.

Nation-Wide Publicity Secured By Proposal To Erect Amphitheater On Shores of Lake Merritt.

Tonight is the night.

Everything is in readiness for Mayor John L. Davie's stadium ball at the Oakland auditorium. The ball is being held as a benefit for the improvement of a five-acre site, which has been secured at the foot of Lake Shore avenue for the huge stadium. The ball is also to serve as a joint celebration of Admission day and Labor day. In the absence of any special Admission day program, the Native Sons and Native Daughters have centered their interest in the event and have taken over the decoration of the auditorium. A committee from the Native Sons will also manage the floor.

Art Hickman and his orchestra will furnish the music for the evening. The results of the automobile contest will also be announced.

Mayor Davie, assisted by Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, Joseph R. Knowland, Judge Lincoln S. Church, Dr. Victory Derrick and Mrs. Addie Mosher, will form the reception committee.

CHORUS GIRLS' PARADE.

During the day 42 chorus girls from the Will King company of Oakland and San Francisco paraded the streets with the Firemen's band and automobiles donated by the Oakland automobile men, to advertise the event.

The proceeds of the ball will go directly into the improvement of the five-acre stadium site at the foot of Lake Shore avenue.

Nation-wide publicity for Oakland has already been secured by the project.

Following the lead of the Boston Transcript the Wide World Magazine, the Dearborn Independent in the current issue has devoted two pages to the stadium.

MAGAZINE COMMENT.

"When the Greeks of old sought a place in which to hold the first Olympiad, they took a spot on the plain of Ellis, which Dame Nature already had enclosed in a measure with rocky heights of Cronion on the one hand and the River Alpheus with its tributary, the Cladeus, on the other," declares the Dearborn Journal. "Californians of three or four thousand years later, likewise seeking a suitable space for their pageants and games and festivals are taking a deep bowl in the heart of a mountain of solid rock, bounded on all sides by a perpendicular wall of stone, which is larger by nearly twice than the vale chosen for the first games which were to perpetuate the glory that was Greece's long after the Spartans and the Athenians and the Spirotes had crumbled to dust."

When completed the stadium will accommodate 125,000 people, and it is the mayor's plan to deed it to the city to be used for public outdoor festivals. An attempt will be made to secure the Olympic games for Oakland.

CHIROPRACTOR PAROLED AFTER 30 DAYS IN JAIL

The prison term of Linden D. McCash, Berkeley chiropractor, sentenced to serve 50 days for practicing healing of the sick without a license, ended last night when he was paroled by the county parole board. He had served more than 30 days of the 50-day sentence meted out to him.

Sheriff Frank Barnet has permitted McCash to treat the prisoners during his confinement, as the law does not object to the administering of such aid without pay.

J. E. Shah Za De, Persian chiropractor of San Leandro, is still in the jail. His term will expire in two weeks.

Reductionsin Prices Are Shown in Survey

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—According to an announcement given out today by J. J. Lewisten secretary of the San Francisco Restaurant association, the value of the wage dollar in San Francisco today, in comparison with prices existing in 1907, is 63 cents. The statistics were gathered and the value of the wage dollar computed as the basis for the request of the Restaurant association for a 15 per cent reduction in the wage scale now paid culinary workers.

Reduction in the cost of living, in percentage figures, according to Lewisten's report, follow:

"Staple groceries, comprising sugar, coffee, flour tea, ham, bacon, canned fruits and vegetables, reduction of nearly 60 per cent.

"Women's and children's wear, reduction of from 30 to 40 per cent.

"Men's and boys' clothing, reduction of 25 to 35 per cent.

"Shoes, a substantial reduction.

"Rents, no reduction shown yet."

MOTHER SCORES BOARD FOR RIOT IN SCHOOL YARD

Mrs. W. S. Carson, 640 Fairview street, today said she would lodge a formal protest with the board of education for alleged negligence of school authorities in not having a teacher at the Washington school, Sixty-third street and Shattuc kavenue, to supervise the children during recess.

Mrs. Carson says that she will make the complaint as the result of a so-called incipient school yard riot yesterday at the school in which her two daughters, Bernice, aged 7, and Marjorie were severely beaten. According to the mother, Marjorie was hurt when she attempted to prevent a group of children from injuring Bernice. The dispute, according to Mrs. Carson, arose over a dispute about play apparatus. The two children were so badly hurt, their mother declares, that medical attention was necessary.

Superintendent Fred M. Hunter of the board of education was inclined to believe that reports of the affair had been exaggerated, but said that any negligence on the part of school authorities would be thoroughly investigated.

Teacher's Divorce Petition Refused

Mrs. Alice Capitola Cooley, Oakland school teacher, today was denied a decree of divorce from Allen Lennox Cooley by Superior Judge Joseph Koford. Mrs. Cooley charged her husband with many cruelties.

Cooley, an official of an oil company at Richmond, entered a categorical denial of his wife's charges. There are two children, Miriam, 15, and Lavinia, 14. Mrs. Cooley lives in Berkeley. They were married September 18, 1901, and separated in June, 1914.

COUNTY HOSPITAL WATER SYSTEM IS DECIDED UPON

Board of Supervisors After Survey Announces Plan to Install Plant.

The supervisors today decided to install a water system at the county hospital and infirmary at San Leandro, which it is hoped will eliminate entirely the purchase of water from the outside.

As a result of an exhaustive survey of the situation by Andrew C. Lawson, professor of geology at the University of California, it has been decided that water which seeps through the hills near the hospital can be conserved and stored for use there at a much lower cost than that now paid for water brought in by the water company.

County Surveyor P. A. Haviland was directed to draw plans and specifications for a shaft 50 feet deep, to be sunk at the base of one of the hills and opposite the women's building, from which a tunnel will be run for 200 feet or more into the center of the hill. It is believed the seepage from the perpendicular strata in the hills will collect in this tunnel and flow to the shaft, where a pump will be installed.

Dr. R. G. Broderick, director of county hospitals, discussed the matter with the board members, saying the present cost of water is never less than $150 a month, which represents interest on more than $30,000 a year. He said it is estimated the new system can be installed at a cost of from $12,000 to $15,000.

Chairman W. J Hamilton said the board is carrying out this plan not only with a view of saving money for the county, but also in line with its policy of constructing needed improvements which will provide work for the unemployed.

Villa Sites Sale Will End Sunday

A clean up sale of a small amount of remaining acreage in Upper Fruitvale was started today by the Villa Sites Sale company and will continue throughout the week and on Sunday. The property consists of 52 pieces of small acreage ranging from one-quarter of an acre up, and has been put on the market at less than one-half the price at which it has been held for some time. It consists of what is left of a well-known tract at the mouth of Dimond Canyon, with all streets finished and Fruitvale avenue running through the center of the property. The property can be reached via either the Hopkins street line to Fruitvale avenue or the Fruitvale avenue line to Hopkins street. The property is four blocks east along Fruitvale avenue.

MARIPOSA CLUB PICNICS.

The Mariposa club will hold its annual reunion and basket picnic tomorrow at Live Oak park, North Berkeley. The park has been reserved exclusively for Mariposa on this day, and all friends are invited to attend. Many counties have been cut from Mariposa, its original boundaries being Tuolumne on the north, Los Angeles and San Diego on the west, the Coast Range on the south, the Coast Range on the west and Nevada on the east, and so the pioneers from Madera, Tulare, Kern, Fresno, Merced and even Mono and Inyo come to these counties annual family gatherings.

San Francisco News

GAMBLING AND EXTRAVAGANCE, DIVORCE CAUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Gambling and extravagance — poker games and charge accounts, are held to blame by Mrs. Martha Evans, head of the local bureau of domestic relations, for the marked increase in the number of divorces. She says:

"Too many wives nowadays spend the family income recklessly while their husbands squander their money gambling. But the husband generally does not speak of his gambling losses, whereas the wife has to account for every cent spent."

Mrs. Evans recommends apportionment of the family income on a business-like basis and adoption of a "pay as you go" system.

License Theft Fails to Halt Wedding in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8. — Though automobile thieves stole Narcissus Hebert's automobile, wedding license, and wedding suit just two hours before the ceremony took place, the bride, Miss Louise K. Joulie, did not let that interfere with her plans, but immediately sent Narcissus out to procure another license.

Hebert's machine, containing suitcase, wedding clothes and license, was parked on Market street, when it took the thief's fancy.

UNION MEN SEEK REHEARING IN CUT OF WAGES AWARD

Judge Landis Decision Meets With Opposition From Labor Officials.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—A demand from labor for a rehearing before Federal Judge Landis on the new building trades scale today threatened to delay plans for a $100,000,000 building revival. The judge's arbitration decision, slashing wages approximately 12½ per cent, was meeting with opposition in all union circles today.

The new wage scale goes into effect tomorrow and the chief point in favor of the new scale, according to employers, is that it will permit revival of the building trades with continuous work instead of "long layoffs" at higher wages.

Among some of the reductions made by Landis' decision were:

	Old Scale.	New Scale.
	—Per Hour.—
Marble setters	$1.25	$.87½
Machinery movers	1.25	.95
Common laborers	1.25	.87½
Cement workers	1.00	.82½
Struc. iron workers	1.25	1.05
Bricklayers	1.25	1.10
Pollermakers	1.25	1.00
Steamfitters	1.25	.95

Soft Drink License Plan Is Discussed

Purveyors of soft drinks, candy, tomales and other edibles and drinkables appeared in Commissioner Colbourn's office this afternoon for a general conference on the proposed license ordinance which comes up before the council Monday. The ordinance would impose a license on all such stores, the amount of the license to be based on the number of employes in the store.

Colbourn says he will "stand pat" with his ordinance unless some convincing argument is brought forth to the contrary.

"There is always a kick against a license ordinance," he says. "Every ordinance of the sort hurts somebody, but I believe the contemplated one does the least harm possible and brings the greatest revenue. Unless there is some very forceful argument against it, I intend to go ahead with this ordinance, which to me seems fair and just."

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. — Bobbed hair and short skirts have received Uncle Sam's approval in the Federal Board for Vocational Training here. But Colonel Charles R. Forbes, the director, drew the line on powdered noses, loafing or social calls during office hours.

"Wear anything you please, girls," he said. "Be comfortable, but don't be salary slackers, because there are hundreds of cases of disabled men awaiting your attention. And when a crippled doubhboy comes in here smile his discouragement away."

MILKING
How it is done

Each cow is officially inspected at regular intervals; modern science is such that anything opposed to perfect health is instantly detected.

That milk may be certified, the milkers must be in the pink of health, must wear special milking suits and must keep spotlessly clean. Milking must be done at the same hours daily.

In the milk house the product is properly cooled, and put in sterilized tanks. Safely sealed it is ready for shipment to the city plant.

At every stage milk safety is the ONE aim.

When a man is in real trouble he turns to God

Often after a long period of not so much real sin as merely indifference, a man comes to a situation where people and the things of this world don't mean much. It is then that he seeks the aid of the Divine Power, but so often he has a feeling of dreadful uncertainty as if he were asking a favor of a stranger.

Go to church Sunday and learn to know God, and your faith will help you not only in the rare crises of life, but in the little cares and worries which are met with every day, too.

There is a church near your home which will welcome you. It will probably have a notice giving the hours of worship, subject of next Sunday's sermon, etc., in the Saturday Church Section.

WIFE DESERTION LAID TO PRISONER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Edward D. Reynolds was held to answer to the charge of abandonment and neglect of his 17-year-old bride, Abbie Lillian Reynolds, 290 Silver avenue, whom he married September 12 last and is alleged to have deserted February 21, by Police Judge Lazarus today.

The bride told of alleged abuse, declaring that Reynolds had knocked her unconscious and beaten her and forced her to work because he did not support her. She testified he boasted of killing a man once at Tijuana. It developed in the testimony that he had never properly been divorced from one Josephine Gardner, but that she in turn was not divorced from her husband, Roy Gardner.

It also was testified that when Reynolds was arrested at Duncan Mills, he was with Dorothy Robinson, of 170 Belvedere street, of this city. Mrs. Reynolds had told Miss Robinson that she was his wife and that she would be committing bigamy if she were married to him.

The clew to Reynolds' whereabouts came when he wrote a letter from Duncan Mills, offered in evidence, declaring he was there with Dorothy Robinson. A second letter introduced in evidence, addressed to Abbie, who was also known as Billie, and Josephine, whom he had nicknamed Pearl, reads in part:

"Dear Mrs. Billie and Mrs. Pearl; past and present. Just a few lines to let you two know that I am on my way to nowhere. I will never see either of you again, so make the best of it. Although I have broken your hearts it is not my fault, it is just a little habit of mine. I will meet more and all will be the same. You two will have to forget me as others will have to.

"Bye, bye, farewell for ever,

BAIL BOND MEN ARE UNDER PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—New developments came fast today in the inquiry begun by Federal Judge Dooling in the matter of alleged bail bond grafting in connection with arrests for violations of the liquor law and the Harrison narcotic act. Attorney Nate Coghlan declared that he would have some startling information which he would be ready to reveal on Saturday. John Bacigalupi, alleged narcotic peddler who was surrendered into custody today, had given a $5000 bond pending his appeal to the circuit court, after a two-year sentence had been imposed.

According to Coghlan, Bacigalupi has had to spend $1000 in cash in order to furnish the $5000 bond. On two occasions he was forced to pay $500 to furnish security for the company which put up his bail. Twice he has been surrendered.

"This is a plain case of graft," Coghlan said today. "These people have my client in a jam. He has no money to amount to anything, but they get all the cash they can from him and his friends and then surrender him, hoping that the whole transaction will be forgotten. I intend to take this matter up with Judge Dooling."

Bacigalupi, arrested on a new narcotic charge, was convicted. He had already been held on $5000 bonds on an old case. United States Commissioner Krull fixed $1000 bail on the new case.

Today, without any notification, Bacigalupi was brought into court and surrendered.

"I am going to have this man out of jail if I have to put up the money myself," said Coghlan, "and then I will investigate this grafting."

Commissioner Krull is also planning to start an inquiry into the alleged bail bond graft.

There are 1380 wards under the care of the Alameda Superior Court, according to the annual report of Probation Officer O. F. Snedegar, 498 of whom are on probation, 672 committed to institutions and 210 pending decision. Of the 1542 cases handled by the office during the year 604 were brought before Judge Robinson and 938 were settled out of court. Of the 604 cases brought before the juvenile court 422 were because of misconduct or offenses against the law, 339 of whom were boys and 84 girls. 170 were brought to the court's attention because of unfit homes, destitution or unfortunate conditions, 76 being boys and 94 girls, and 11 were cases involving adults.

The report shows that of the 422 cases of misconduct the most numerous involved violation of the motor vehicle act, incorrigibility, burglary, sex immorality and larceny, in the order named. Wife Hysterical As 'Dead' Hubby Comes to Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—There was considerable excitement and much consternation in Superior Judge Van Nostrand's court today when a "dead" man walked through the swinging doors and took a seat on the witness stand. He was Richard Bolling, a merchant of 33 Fountain street, San Jose, and his appearance caused his wife, Elema, to throw up her hands, cry hysterically and hurry into the judge's chambers.

The case at bar was a contest over the estate of the late Joseph Hughes, whom Elema claimed as her husband and who died in June, 1920. It is alleged that he had deeded about $20,000 in property to his sister, Miss Elizabeth Hughes, and his wife and sister were battling over the estate, Elema having been appointed administratrix.

According to the testimony, Elema had married Joseph Hughes in 1916. The sister claimed the property as hers, declaring that she had given Hughes $2000 toward the purchase of it and had a real share in it. Bolling was named as the first husband of Mrs. Hughes, she testifying, however, that she had been told he was dead, that her marriage with him was only performed by a magistrate and that she had never lived with him.

She was therefore completely unnerved today when Bolling appeared. He declared he had married her in Guatemala January 29, 1910, in the presence of 50 guests, among whom were two persons actually in the court room this morning.

Bolling was still on the stand at the noon adjournment and it is understood that Miss Hughes will endeavor to establish that Elema was never the legal wife of her brother, having been already married to Bolling in 1916, when the wedding with Hughes occurred.

BAD BOOZE IS 'WORSE'N' JAIL THINKS JUDGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—When Police Judge O'Brien looked over his trial list today he found twenty men charged with drunkenness.

"Has the Volstead act been repealed?" he inquired of the bailiff.

Assured that it had not, he proceeded with an investigation of each case. Each case admitted the charge and it developed that they had become drunk on everything from jackass brandy to wood alcohol and hair tonic.

"If you drank what you tell me you have, you have been punished enough," said the judge. "Go your way and sin no more."

Scan Plans for Bay Farm Island Plant

ALAMEDA, Sept. 8.—Plans for the proposed construction of a steel piant on Bay Farm Island, and the papers and credentials of A. P. Gillies are under the scrutiny of City Manager Hickok and City Engineer Burnett Hamilton today following a meeting yesterday afternoon before a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce appointed to investigate the feasibility of such a project.

The principal part of the meeting yesterday was taken up by explaining the possibilities of developing cheap water power, irrigation plans and the floating of stock to start the initial work and secure the necessary options on the right of way. Gillies and his associates claim to have an option upon the hydro electric power in the 600 square miles of the Mokulumne water shed in the Sierras.

According to the promoters of the plan it will take an issue of practically $50,000 to be raised among the citizens of Alameda to bring the bonds up to the underwriters and to provide the preliminary expenses of the incorporation.

SKIRTS MISSING GROUND BY TEN INCHES DECREED

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Gay embroideries on dark frocks, lacy effects for evening wear and striking color combinations with skirts down to ten inches from the ground, will be characteristic of winter styles for women, according to the Fashion Art League of America. Gowns will be fashioned after the lines of the figure, but not form-fitting, the league announced. Sleeves will be tight from shoulder to elbow with a decided flare below.

The new styles will be displayed at the annual convention of the league next week, when 3000 buyers are expected to attend the exhibit.

The day following fashions, like a flock of sheep, is over," Alla Ripley, president of the league, said. "Women in America are women of affairs and our fashions must appeal to the conservative taste, contrary to the edicts of Paris, which demand that costumes be created for the actress and demi-monde."

Three Burglaries and Holdup in Alameda

ALAMEDA, Sept. 8.—A hold-up, three burglaries and an attempted burglary marked the activity of criminals in Alameda last night. In each case the law violators escaped arrest.

George Richards, 1417 Ashby avenue, Berkeley, was the hold-up victime. Two men, one masked and the other armed with a revolver, stopped him in Webster street, near the Union hotel. They took $130.

The restaurant of L. N. Lawrence and Frank J. Miller, 2335 Lincoln avenue, was entered by burglars, who stole loot valued at $95. This consisted of 24 plates, 8 pie plates, 18 knives and forks and 8 electric light bulbs.

Burglars pried open the basement door to the home of W. E. Tust, 2009 Santa Clara avenue. A search revealed that nothing of value had been taken.

V. W. Breeding, 2424 Clement street, contends that the burglars who stole 1800 feet of lumber from his place last night are not gentlemen by any stretch of imagination. They used Breeding's auto truck to haul the lumber away, and then after returning the machine, drained the gasoline tank.

Mrs. T. Underwood reported to the police that a man had attempted to enetr her front door, which was locked. When she called out he swore at her and ran away.

MRS. ROOSEVELT LOSES MULE RACE AT COUNTY FAIR

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—People who saw the race between mules driven by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, wife of the assistant secretary of the navy, and Mrs. J. Griswold Webb at the Duchess County Fair yesterday smiled today when they recalled remarks made by Roosevelt in the grandstand just before the race.

"My wife thinks she can drive a mule well," he said. "I don't know whether there is anything personal in that."

Mrs. Webb won, but a feature was Mrs. Roosevelt's great effort on the home stretch.

Alamedans Stranded At Manila to Get Aid

ALAMEDA, Sept. 8.—The crew of the former United States Shipping Board steamer Monongahela, who have been stranded on their vessel in Manila Bay since March because of the alleged inability of its owners to pay them, have put their cases in the hands of a Manila lawyer, Mayor Frank Otis was advised by cablegram today. Mayor Otis is endeavoring to assist the crew in behalf of Walter Guddal, H. H. Cook, J. Bordenave and Thomas Straugher, Alameda youths, who shipped on the Monongahela as Shipping Board apprentices.

Upon reading Straugher's letter Mayor Otis sent a telegram to Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board and a cablegram to a Manila lawyer, asking them to take immediate measures to relieve the crew. Lasker replied that transportation and sustenance was being arranged.

There are 18 apprentices from California on the Monongahela, Mayor Otis said.

Two Bandits Taken, Two Flee, in Battle

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Surprised while attempting to break into a theater at Huntington Park, a suburb of Los Angeles, two bandits were captured in a gun battle early today and two others succeeded in escaping, according to a report made to the sheriff's office. The men arrested gave the names of Edward Hoag and Fred Foster.

Motorcycle Jailed To Punish Speeder

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Willard Webster, 18 years old, must walk for the next thirty days as a result of violating speed laws. Webster's motorcycle was taken away from him this morning by Judge Robert Edgar and ordered locked in the police garage. His case was continued until October 6, when his machine will be restored to him.

Webster, who is employed as delivery boy for a local firm, resides at 1620 Grove street. Owing to the fact that he has a mother to support the judge chose the "jailing" of the motorcycle as punishment.

Towns Arming For Fight With Illinois Miners

ROSICLARE, Ill. Sept. 8.—Every man and woman in this mining town of 2000 was armed today, awaiting the attack of miners encamped nearby, reported planned for today.

All night armed guards patrolled the roads leading to Elizabethtown, prepared to repel any attempt of the miners to enter the town, under cover of darkness. The miners, camped in a small valley, quit work about a year ago. They were ejected from company houses and have been having frequent clashes with mine guards, deputies and strikebreakers. The miners have been gathering for some time near Karber's Ridge. Residents of Karber's Ridge estimated that they have been gathering 1200 recruits.

Residents of the district anxiously awaited arrival of representatives of Governor Small, who are coming to investigate the situation. The miners sent representatives to see the governor at Springfield, telling him it was impossible for the miners to get a square deal in Purdin county.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill., Sept. 8. —Citizens of Elizabethtown were arming early today in preparation to meet a rumored invasion of a band of striking Fluorspar miners and sympathizers.

Reports early today said that nearly 1000 miners were encamped on the outskirts of the town and intended marching on Elizabethtown and Rosiclare sometime this forenoon.

LOGAN, W. Va., Sept. 8.—Some forty warrants have been issued here for the arrest of men who last week were alleged to have formed part of the armed forces whose march on Logan county brought Federal troops into the West Virginia coal fields.

FARM CROPS OF NATION VALUED AT $14,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Farm crops of the United States, excluding forest, nursery and greenhouse products, had a total value of $14,755,358,407 in 1919, the bureau of census announced today. The corresponding value of crops in 1909 was $5,231,850,683, the 1919 figue representing an increase of 182 per cent in ten years.

Centuries ago in Venice a small coin was called "gazetta." It was the price for which the first newspaper there sold. Hence the name.

Birth Control Plot Charged in Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. —Legalizatio nof birth control instruction is the aim of some of the women's organizations backing maternity legislation now pending in congress, Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma, the only woman member of congress, charged today.

Dissemination of birth control instruction probably would be possible under the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill recently passed by the Senate, she said, in a statement published in today's issue of the Congressional Record.

CROWD BIG ON GOVERNOR'S DAY AT STATE FAIR

Fruit Exhibit Is Declared by Experts to Beat All Records.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 8.—California's state fair was groomed, dressed in its best holiday attire and generally prepared for the biggest day in its history today—Governor's Day.

Both from the point of attendance and the features offered, this was the most successful day of the exposition, Secretary Charles W. Paine declared.

Governor William D. Stephens was on hand early and was in attendance throughout the day. He made a short address from his box in the grandstand.

At 11 o'clock the governor reviewed the $2,000,000 stock parade —one of the biggest events of fair week. Following the parade a reception was held for the state executive in the assembly hall.

The awarding of horticultural sweepstakes is under way at the California state fair with five counties, Fresno, San Joaquin, Placer, Kings and Yolo battling for first honors. Fresno was awarded the sweepstakes for plums or prunes, with Kings running a close second and Placer third. In the sweepstakes on pears, Yolo won first place, Placer took second and Fresno placed third. Kings county, Fresno county and San Joaquin county took first, second and third prizes in the order named in the sweepstakes on peaches.

BEST EXHIBIT.

J. C. Whitten and J. J. Fox, who are judging the horticultural displays, both declared this year's fruit exhibit beats anything yet seen.

"The pack is improving each year as well as the quality of the fruit," says Fox, "and there is nothing like it anywhere in the world."

Using small sheaves of grains, embracing 14 varieties of wheat, 10 each of barley and oats, and several of rye, all grown in Stanislaus near Waterford, E. F. Perry evolved two huge cartwheels on a high wall, surrounded by grain sheaves in artistic decorations, for the main feature of the exhibit. Below on counters are grains in every form, from seed to the finished mill products. Considerable interest is taken in samples of "miracle" wheat, which produces 70 to 80 bushels an acre, instead of the customary 10 to 20 bushels, and the blue and white beardless barley.

WILD FLOWERS SHOWN.

Lovers of California wild flowers are flocking to the quaint "Mission Market" exhibti of Placer county at the State Fair this week, for there on display is the finest pressed flower exhibit ever shown here.

In a leather book of large size are 350 varieties of wild flowers, all growing in Placer county. The flowers were gathered between September 9, 1920, and August 28, 1921, by Mrs. Arthur E. Flint of Penryn, Placer county, and mounted in the book. She then presented the collection to the Placer county Chamber of Commerce, which sent it to the fair this week.

Like "bringing the mountain to Mahomet," Mendocino county has brought a section of California's fair-made redwood groves to the State Fair for the delectation of the thousands of visitors daily.

Damages Awarded For Tar, Feathers

ST LOUIS, Sept. 8. — The United States Circuit Court of Appeals has held that John Meints, a contractor of Luverne, Minn., was entitled to recover damages from a number of neighbors who, in August, 1918, tarred and feathered him because of charges that he was disloyal, and drove him into South Dakota.

In the Minnesota Federal District Court, a damage suit by Meints against several neighbors resulted in their favor. The present decision reverses that finding and remands the case for a new trial.

WIFE WINS ALIMONY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Carl F. Biedenbach, superintendent of parks of Berkeley, was today ordered by Superior Judge Johnson to pay $60 temporary alimony to his wife, Elsa K. Biedenbach, who he is suing for divorce. Yesterday in a cross complaint filed by the wife, she charges he was cruel to her and threw a pillow at her on the public streets. In his complaint he alleges desertion.

MEXICO IN A NEW LIGHT.

It is obvious that the American government must change its attitude regarding the demands made upon the Obregon government for protection of the property rights of American citizens in Mexico against the retroactive feature of Article 27 of the Carranza Constitution. This is rendered necessary by the decision last week of the Mexico supreme court enjoining the federal government from all proceedings under the retroactive clause.

In the specific case decided the officials of the Mexican department of commerce and industry were enjoined from denouncing rights to oil lands held by the Texas Company prior to May, 1917. The decision was by unanimous vote of the court and is considered to set a precedent for the court's action in dealing with nearly 150 cases of a similar character calling into question the effect of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution.

The Texas Company appealed to the court for preliminary certificate issued to the holder of a land claim, pending the issuance of preemption papers. This action was taken to prevent the government from denouncing claims held by the company. Justice Arias, who prepared and pronounced the decision of the court, was emphatic in championing the Texas Company's contention. He held that the denouncement in question was in direct violation of the Mexican constitution, which states that "No law shall be retroactive in effect to the prejudice of any person whatsoever."

The effect of this decision seems perfectly clear: lands acquired prior to May 1, 1917, on which denouncements were made subsequent to that date and in accordance with Carranza decrees, are held not to be subject to denouncement and not subject to any executive decrees concerning denouncement. If this proves the case in practice, all the objection which the State Department at Washington has raised against Article 27 of the Carranza constitution appeared to have been soundly and adequately met.

In this country a decision by the Supreme Court, especially a unanimous decision of such sweeping and emphatically conclusive character as that just handed down by the supreme court of Mexico, would be accepted as establishing finally the law covering any given case and circumstances. The traditions of the Mexican supreme court are not as old as those of the United States Supreme Court; neither are its judgments accepted as being so free of violation. But under the comity of nations and under the rule of common sense and official reason, the decision of the Mexican supreme court must be accepted as establishing the full and explicit limitation of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution. Full official reliance must be placed in the decision by the American government regardless of any skepticism that may be entertained privately.

In the light of this judicial decision the obligation rests upon the State Department at Washington to re-examine the question of recognition of the Obregon government, to see whether it is really necessary or becoming to insist that a special treaty covering the desired guarantees against the retroactive confiscatory clause of the Mexican constitution is a prerequisite to recognition.

WEBB ON TREATY POWERS

State Attorney General Webb, arguing before the California Supreme Court, insists that the federal government has no power or right to conclude with another nation an agreement which abridges the power of the State to impose discriminatory taxation where that discrimination runs against an alien resident of the State.

By this process of reasoning, Mr. Webb must, at his next step, necessarily insist that the federal government is obliged to consult the several States and obtain their consent before it may conclude a treaty with a foreign nation under which reciprocal equality of treatment is guaranteed the citizens of each country.

Surely the able attorney general of California does not mean to go this far. He must be aware of the fact that the treaty-making powers of the nation are expressly reserved by the Constitution to the federal government, and that all the States have accepted that condition, either by ratifying the Constitution or by the terms of their admission into the Union.

ELECTIVE SYSTEM FAILURES

Illiteracy is not considered by all persons to imply only an inability to read and write one's own language intelligibly. Many take a broader view of the evil, and a few go to the extreme of holding college graduates illiterate—those graduates who are unable to turn their student experience to any intelligent use, those who made no important gains in culture by going to school.

Not long ago Dean West of Princeton university discussed illiteracy in the United States and severely arraigned the elective system of studies in the schools and colleges. Now Dean Jones of Yale takes up the cudgel against the elective system. He writes:

"The experiment of giving students a freer hand merited at least a trial. Well, the elective system has had its day (at Yale). In my opinion that day is over. Elections are still in vogue, but on a leash. We have long felt here at Yale dubious about their utility; for some time—a long time—the faculty of this university have been growing stronger and stronger in an opinion opposed to an unguided elective system of study. For several years now we have been steadily going the other way. Indeed we have now gone so far the other way that we are getting back pretty close to the curriculum as it existed when I graduated at Yale in 1884."

As at Princeton and Yale, so at other universities. The tendency is toward closer supervision of the student's work, a firmer guidance in the selection of his course of study. The pendulum is swinging backward. There is a reason for this; and it is that the universities have found that young men and women upon entering college are not half so competent to choose their "career" as they thought. They craved freedom and latitude; they used it by electing to take a certain course and then changing their decision before that course was half completed to start another.

Not all students did this. Not by any means. But in the larger universities where general culture was emphasized, rather than the aim to turn out graduates, a sufficient number displayed the weakness of youthful decision to provoke the determination from the responsible college administrators to draw the rein on the elective system.

To be perfectly frank about it, those colleges of longest experience and with highest cultural aims have little faith in the student's ability to say what is best for him. It is true that they may have given the elective system a trial in a spirit of distrust and prejudice, but they did give it a fair trial. And they are going back to first methods, wherein student guidance occupied a prominent place.

Which is the greatest city in the world? is still a question in dispute between the partisans of London and New York. The National Geographic Society holds that New York, with 5,620,048 souls actually within the boundaries of one municipal unit, has valid claims to first place. London, says the society's bulletin, cannot contain more than 5,000,000 people within the single municipal unit of the county of London, though it claims a total population of 7,476,168 for the metropolitan district known as Greater London. However this question of population may be determined, the frosty inhospitality of both cities to the newcomer seeking a livelihood is about the same.

An unassuming despatch from New Bedford, Mass., reads: "The majority of the cloth mills in this city are now running full time, with most of the machinery in operation, the output being estimated at from eighty to ninety percent of normal." Similar despatches come from all parts of the country, but particularly from the cloth and shoe manufacturing centers of New England. They are straws showing the wind blowing in favor of general resumption of industrial and business activities.

NOTES and COMMENT

The President is epigrammatic, also alliterative, when he says that the government is "working its way out of a welter of waste." The government seems to have been in some such place, and if it is working out satisfactorily, the decisiveness of the voting populace in placing the "present incumbent" in power will be justified.

The Acting Chief Postal Inspector is represented as being very considerably perturbed over the escape of Roy Gardner. After the trouble of recapturing him following his two preceding escapes, and the chief's repeated warnings against another escape, that official merely discloses a bit of human nature in manifesting disgust that the notorious escaper is away again.

The welcoming of Mrs Annette Adams back to San Francisco by a big reception committee of both men and women was timely and proper. In a responsible Federal position here she made good, and in a higher position at Washington she reflected credit upon California whence she emerged, and upon womankind, demonstrating their ability to administer important offices in government.

Many Californians will remember when the name of A. P. Van Duzer frequently appeared in the news columns. He was Assistant United States District Attorney at one time, and then District Attorney of San Francisco, in both of which positions he was active and efficient. This is recalled by the announcement of his death at the age of 87, which occurred last Monday.

Another miracle. It is of greater dimensions than similar ones that have been reported since prohibition went into effect. Some 67,000 gallons of wine have been turned into water. Some of those who read about these happenings may wonder why it is never the other way around—why water is never turned into wine. There are reasons why the miracle doesn't work both ways.

Accounts of princes barons, counts, generals and others who erstwhile performed under titles doing such useful work as baking bread and washing dishes to gain a livelihood—thrones and orders of nobility having gone to smash in their home countries—are becoming very common. The excitement about seeing things in Mars is starting up again. A telescope, the largest one yet, is being built and is expected to be ready in three years. Difficult to get all its angles, but it is from the Merced Star: "You could throw a pair of overalls into some folk's chowder and they would take it as an 'unconscious compliment.' Many a Krazy Kat is 'busted' with a brick and returns again for lenata to repeat the compliment."

There are direct charges that Roy Gardner's escape is due to sympathy, more or less feminine, felt and expressed for the star escaper in the past. The point may be well taken, but is difficult for the average person to "get." A good many are interested over Gardner's uncanny ability to get away, but that need not cause those responsible for his custody to relax their vigilance.

Mrs. Jake Hamon, buying a famous mansion as a home for working girls, is in striking contrast with the woman who has made the name familiar by shooting the man who bore it, and then having her connection with him aired, not omitting the last tragic act.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

Death, here is thy sting! The Department of Justice is going after the coffin trust. Its investigators have discovered that the manufacturers of coffins, and those who retail them, are among the most conscienceless profiteers in the country. Coffins that cost from $20 to $30 to make are at prices ranging as high as $600. Evidence is being collected upon which prosecutions will be based calculated to put an end to the practice.—Stockton Independent.

After they had convicted two young men of stealing an automobile, the women jurors in a Sacramento court interrupted the handcuffing of the prisoners until they had shaken hands with them. We presume that this was merely a demonstration of that familiar sentiment: "It hurts me to do this much more than it does you."—Bakersfield Californian.

One California woman succeeds another as assistant attorney-general of the United States. California has produced and is producing women of eminent abilities and these endowments of talent have put many Golden State women in foremost rank in literature, art, the professions, business, philanthropy.—Long Beach Press.

The associated "women" students of the State University did well to express disapproval of "rough house" of that institution. The use of rouse or such words implies an expectation that they are to be seen. And to put them in evidence before the student body and the faculty scarcely could be considered a becoming course of conduct, even if the knees were beyond reproach otherwise.—Sacramento Bee.

SAFEGUARDING THE FORESTS

Thirty-three States Now Share in Affording Protection Against Fire—The Campaign for Cooperative Agreements in California and the Substantial Results.

A bulletin just issued by the Federal Department of Agriculture states that never in the history of this country has there been such a marked interest in forest preservation by State Legislators as at the present time, report officers of the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. No less than 33 States have now provided for some sort of forestry activites and 25 of these share in the Federal co-operative forest protection fund, allotted to States maintaining an effective fire detection and suppression system. Two others have applied recently for such assistance. Public backing of the movement to preserve the remaining forests from destruction by fire, and to put idle forest lands to work growing trees, is becoming widespread, and the effects of the popular demand for action is shown clearly in the State laws passed this year.

In this development of official and public interest, The TRIBUNE views its contribution with special satisfaction. Four years ago this newspaper started a single-handed campaign to bring all the owners of timber lands in California, the State forestry officials and the Federal Forest Service into a cooperative agreement for the protection of forested areas against fire. Many private owners of timber lands balked at the suggestion. The Southern Pacific Railway company, which is the largest timber land owner in the State and which acquired its timbered holdings under grants from the Federal government, and the Walker interests, holding large tracts in Lassen, Modoc and Siskiyou counties, were specially set in their opposition.

But in June of last year the Southern Pacific signed a cooperative agreement with the Forest Service and in January of this year the Walker interests signed up. This brought the last of the large owners into the cooperative scheme of forest protection. About ninety-five per cent of the privately-owned land, exclusive of the redwood holdings, was then covered by the cooperative agreements. The approximate five per cent remaining out was divided among the very small holders.

The active interest aroused by the very energetic efforts of the Forest Service, with the consistent support of this newspaper, brought good results at Sacramento last February. The legislature voted a substantial increase in appropriation for the State Board of Forestry, for the biennial period beginning on July 1. For the prevention and suppression of fires $75,000 was appropriated; for general administration, $27,000; for a study of watershed areas, $10,000, and to establish and maintain State forest nurseries, $35,000. The legislature also voted $300,000 for the purchase of a redwood timberland for park purposes along the State highway in Mendocino and Humboldt counties.

According to the Department of Agriculture, Pennsylvania leads all States in forest activities. The biennial appropriation passed by the legislature and approved by the governor carried $1,870,000, an increase of $883,300 over the appropriation of 1919; $1000,000 of the total is for fire protection. The legislature also passed an act empowering the Federal government to acquire lands on the watersheds of navigable streams within the State, by purchase or condemnation, and to control and regulate such reserves.

The Minnesota Legislature was more generous with the State Forestry board than ever before. A total of $275,500 for general forestry work was appropriated for the next two years, of which $125,000 a year is for the fire protection. The last-named sum was augmented by an additional allotment of $44,000 from the State board of relief. For the equipment of a flying field near the Twin Cities, $45,000 was voted. This provision was to meet the offer of the Federal Government to furnish the service of 12 'planes if the necessary hangars and flying field were provided. While the primary purpose of this agreement is to supply aerial mail communication, the 'planes will be able also to render effective service in "spotting" forest fires.

Other important State Forestry legislation passed this year was as follows:

Bills for the compulsory teaching of fire prevention in public schools were passed by California, Rhode Island and West Virginia. A similar measure was passed by the New York Legislature, but vetoed by the governor. New Jersey already has such a law.

Maine increased the annual tax on land within the forestry district from 1¾ to 2¼ mills on the dollar, the taxes thus collected to be used exclusively for the protection from fire of the forests within the district; provided for the creation and management of State forests, acquired by purchase or gift, by the State forester; adopted improved means for controlling the disposal of lumbering slash, and the encouragement of timberland owners to practice forestry on their lands through a concession in taxation.

Ohio passed a forest-fire law and appropriated $5000 a year for two years for the prevention and suppression of fires; also made an appropriation for the purchase of lands for State forests.

Tennessee passed a general forestry bill and appropriated $10,000 for fire protection and $7500 for general forestry purposes.

In Louisiana provision for State control of all natural resources, including forests, was provided for by constitutional convention held early this year.

In New Hampshire provisions were made for leaving seed trees on cut-over pine lands, for redistricting of the States for forest-fire purposes, and for compulsory forest-fire patrol on large timberland holdings.

Connecticut provided for reorganizing the State forestry administration and protection work and for more liberal appropriations.

UNWARRANTED WASTE.

Throwing money in a sewer would be frowned upon, but business men do what is just as bad and never think about it.

The findings of the Federal American Engineering Societies Committee on Elimination of Waste in Industry show sins of many kinds in this respect. An example is furnished by Federal Reserve Bank checks. These cannot be cut from any regular size of paper without a lot of paper going into the scrap heap.

In the war period the people at Washington sent out a questionnaire that would not fit in any standard size filing cabinet. Special cabinets had to be built to accommodate it.

And the waste of paper in catalogues has been outrageous. Of 927 catalogues examined by the Technical Publishers' Association 147 different sizes were found. What this variety means may be appreciated when it is said the trimming of one-quarter inch from a 6x9 page equals 7 per cent of the cost of the paper.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

What Indican Means And How You May Banish It

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Many persons have formed the wise habit of sending samples of urine to drug stores or commercial laboratories for examination and report. They have learned that periodical tests of this sort are useful, especially for persons past middle age.

The importance of such regular inspections no one can deny. But what is the use of having them made unless the significance of the results is pointed out by some one competent to gauge them?

Frequently I am written to by someone who wants to know what, for instance, the presence of indican means.

If I were an enterprising chemist, making urinary examinations, I should get up a four-column form on which to make my report.

The second would give the result of the examination.

The third would briefly explain the significance of a decrease from the normal quantity.

The last column would explain what an increase in the amount of the ingredient may mean.

Even then the report would lack the thing necessary to give it value and force. To mean what it should there must be practical application to the needs of the individual. What is he to do because there is found an increase in this or a decrease in that urinary ingredient?

Indican is reported as being "present in excess." What does this signify?

Indican is formed by the fermentation and putrefaction of protein.

Proteins are the building materials of the body. Lean meat, white of egg and the curd of milk are examples of protein food. You know these articles grow stale and quickly putrify unless carefully kept. It is just the same when they have been eaten and are inside the body. Their putrefaction is shown by the production of indican. As a matter of fact, at least 50 per cent of persons show a trace of indican.

We must expect an excess of indican in any disease or condition having intestinal putrefaction as part of its action. In intestinal indigestion or dyspepsia there seems to be a failure of some of the processes of digestion which tend to prevent fermentation. Therefore, in this condition, large quantities of indican are found.

Constipation alone does not account for indican. Unless the fecal matter contains putrefying proteins this substance is not produced. The necessary protein to produce the trouble may be found in secretions of the intestines.

One of the ways provided to prevent excessive putrefaction is absorption by the tissues. So when once the fermenting process starts the body begins to take in the products of putrefaction.

The presence of indican in the urine may be a transient and unimportant symptom. The wrong diet for a few days or a passing attack of indigestion may be responsible.

Knowing the causes of indicanuria, as the condition is called, we know exactly what to do to relieve it. The diet must be regulated so that you exclude the offending proteins.

The great offenders are milk, meat and eggs, and of these, eggs should be excluded absolutely. The associated constipation should be relieved. The intestinal dyspepsia must be overcome. A fruit and vegetable diet with plenty of water will help a lot. Then the indicanuria will disappear of its own accord.

SAN FRANCISCO'S VAST PROJECT

Including the five cities of San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Emeryville the population along the shores of San Francisco bay is far over a million. It is proposed by tube, bridge and causeway to unite physically all these widely scattered and water separated settlements. Perhaps in years to come they will be politically united into a Greater San Francisco. That is for the future. It is sometimes more difficult to create political ties than to build bridges or bore tunnels.

Of the immediate present is the ambitious project of pushing a rail, vehicular and pedestrian roadway partly under and partly over the six-mile stretch across San Francisco bay. The surveys for the undertaking have been made. The consent of the federal authorities has been asked. Plans for raising the $40,000,000 the work will cost are well advanced. All indications are that the work of transforming an engineering dream into a steel and concrete actuality will soon be under way. It is figured that it will take three years and eight months to do the job. Thus the New Jersey-Pennsylvania bridge across the Delaware that across the Detroit river, New York's vehicular tunnel under the Hudson and San Francisco's bridge across the bay should be completed at about the same time.

In an air line the distance from the city hall in San Francisco to the city hall in Oakland is 8.31 miles. But the tunnel, bridge and causeway route it will be a fraction over nine miles.

An enterprise of truly robust dimensions and one in every way worthy of that Pacific Coast American energy which long ago eliminated the word fail from its lexicon.—New York Herald.

RATE MYSTERIES.

Folks at Phoenix can't understand why the rate on wool from Phoenix to Boston is $7.33 a hundred by rail while the freight from Los Angeles to Boston is but $1.66, or just half as much. They can save money by shipping their wool to Los Angeles and then consigning it to Boston by way of Phoenix. This is where the competition of a water haul comes in. So far as commerce and industry are concerned the Los Angeles harbor is the greatest asset the city possesses. Time will tell.—Los Angeles Times.

BOY, 8, KILLS SCHOOLMATE AT MARTINEZ

Quarrel of Lads Ends Fatally When One Shoots Another With Rifle; Victim Dared His Companion to Fire

MARTINEZ, Sept. 8.—A boys' quarrel, the cause of which has not been learned, ended yesterday when Richard Johnson, 8-year-old son of Town Trustee Thomas B. Johnson, former district attorney of Contra Costa county, in a fit of anger shot and killed Lawrence Casey, of the same age, son of M. H. Casey.

The shooting occurred yesterday afternoon in the presence of several companions of both boys, and Sheriff R. R. Veale is today awaiting the outcome of a coroner's jury before taking any action against the Johnson boy. The shot was fired from a .22 caliber rifle. The young slayer told the sheriff that he knew the gun was loaded, but he did not make clear whether or not he intended to kill the other boy.

The Johnson lad was on his way home from school with a chum, John Doctor, also aged 8, when they met Casey and several other boys in front of the Johnson residence. The quarrel was revived and Richard rushed into the house appearing at a front window with the rifle. He leveled it at the Casey lad who was standing on the lawn a few feet away.

DARED TO SHOOT.

"Huh, who's afraid; go ahead and shoot."

The Johnson boy pulled the trigger of the rifle. There was a report and the bullet struck Lawrence in the breast, near the heart.

"I—I'm shot," he gasped, mortally wounded, and the other children screaming with terror scattered in all directions.

Crying for his mother, the little fellow ran up the hill toward his home. H. G. Bowden, who was sitting on the porch of his residence nearby, saw the boy and picked him up and carried him into the house. A physician was called but the lad was dead upon his arrival.

The dead boy's father is employed by the Shell Oil company here.

Immediately after the shooting an investigation by the authorities was ordered. Sheriff Veale said the Johnson boy could not talk coherently concerning the shooting and the events that led up to it. Thomas Johnson, father of the slayer, would not permit newspapermen to talk with his son, nor would he make any statement.

BOYS HAD FIGHT.

Veale learned from school children that the Johnson and Casey boys had been fighting in the school yard earlier in the day and that the quarrel had continued after school had been dismissed. Chums of young Casey said he was carrying his school books under the right side of his blouse when he was shot. Had the books been placed on the other side they probably would have deflected the fatal bullet and saved the child's life, according to the sheriff.

The rifle used by the Johnson boy was the property of his brother, Donald, 17 years old, and was supposed to have been kept in a locked room.

According to Sheriff Veale, after the shooting the boy slayer ran to the home of Mrs. O. K. Smith, a neighbor, where his mother was visiting, and told her that the Casey boy had been shot by the Doctor child. It was not until some time later that the mother learned the truth.

No date has been set for the coroner's inquest.

California Girls Sought as Wives; Australian Gets One

"Give me the American girls," said Mark Foy, millionaire merchant prince of Australia, and with that he picked out MRS. FOY (above), who was then Miss Gladys Bossum of San Francisco.

Fine Pals, Before and After Marriage, Declares Young Millionaire Who Has Taken S. F. Bride.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—American girls are both beautiful and capable, make such splendid pals before and after marriage, and are in most ways so superior to the young women of other countries, that an unusual number of "across-seas" romances may be expected to lure brides from our shores, according to Mark Foy, millionaire and merchant prince of Sydney, Australia, who sailed on the steamship Ventura, accompanied by his bride of a week.

And Foy has just come into possession of evidence tending to prove his statement regarding the superiority of the American girl. Mrs. Foy was Miss Gladys Bossum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bossum, 571 Sixteenth avenue, San Francisco.

The romance is an interesting one and started four years ago, when Mark Foy Sr. sent his son to Stanford. Two of the daughters also came from Sydney and were enrolled at Holy Name Convent, Oakland. The youth visited his sisters and there met Miss Bossum. Thereafter the student found it convenient to make weekly pigrimages to Oakland, and there were numerous automobile trips in which there was one young man and three girls.

Then Foy returned to Sydney and remained an entire year. Miss Bossum made a trip across the Pacific with the Foy sisters—Maxine and Shiela—and the romance that started in Alameda county proceeded happily. Foy came on to America three months ago and resided at the Alameda home of his family—because the Foys like it so well here that they now spend four or five months in the Encinal City each year.

The wedding was not to take place for some time, but the plans were changed. Miss Bossum was in Portland visiting friends and became slightly ill. Foy rushed north and found his sweetheart well. The young people then stole a march on parents and friends and were married on Tuesday, just one week before sailing on their honeymoon.

And this is what the Australia millionaire said:

There are nice girls in Australia. There are beautiful and capable ones in Europe. I have seen many of them. But, wherever I have been, I have never found the combination that is observed here in the United States. And at that one finds a difference in this country. In my opinion one finds the best balanced type of womanhood here in California.

Your American girls possess a wit and charm distinctly their own. They make good pals and comrades before and after marriage. That in itself is an asset that is most important. Your American women take a keen interest in the affairs of their husbands and assist them to climb.

It is small wonder when all is considered, that so many of the best young Australians come here to seek wives. It is the one best thing that we do. Fully a score of the best chaps of Sydney, Melbourne and other cities have found wives here, and all this in a year or two. More are coming and you American chaps will have to look sharp if you want to keep your best and most adorable girls at home.

Meeting Is Called By Poultry Raisers

A special meeting has been called by the poultry raisers of East Oakland for Tuesday night in Freemont high school for the purpose of protesting the contemplated action of the Oakland Board of Education in doing away with the poultry husbandry classes in the schools. The meeting Tuesday night was called following a meeting last Tuesday night of the Elmhurst district poultry raisers, at which the matter was discussed. It is planned to organize the poultrymen and to elect a president and secretary.

The Board of Education recently based its objection to poultry husbandry classes in the schools on the grounds that, in opinion of the board, poultry raising is not a vocation.

Concerts Are Planned At City Auditorium

As a further move in the campaign to popularize the Auditorium, Commissioner Carter and Director Paul Steindorff of the municipal band held a conference today to determine whether a series of concerts cannot be held there.

The meeting was a preliminary one. Steindorff, every autumn and winter, produces several big musical events and Carter asserts that some of them might be produced at the Auditorium.

"It is a matter of personnel and the box office," says Carter. "We do not know whether these concerts can be held, but if so we must look both to artistry and to reasonable profits to the city."

HEIRS FOUND; ASK ESTATE OF MORRISON

New York Attorney Claims to Have Located Relatives of the Late Oakland Clothier; Another Contest Promised

Indications of a further battle over the $90,000 estate of Leon Morrison, clothing merchant of Oakland, who died several weeks ago, were brought to light today in the receipt by County Clerk George E. Gross of a letter from a New York lawyer, saying he has found the heirs-at-law.

Morrison was unmarried. After his death, Miss Maude Marian Scott, former employee of Morrison, declared he had proposed to her on his deathbed and had shown her a will leaving everything to her. Her contest is pending before Superior Judge E. C. Robinson. Attorneys Dunn, White & Aiken, representing Public Administrator J. A. Hill, have conducted a long search for the heirs without result until now. They state Morrison came to America from Russia many years ago and changed his name, also having been known as Alex. Grove.

The New York attorney is Benjamin A. Heartstein. He says his clients were very closely related to Morrison, but does not state the names of relationship. He asks for information and the name of the public administrator, in order that he may "initiate negotiations for the purpose of bringing this matter to a conclusion."

If no heirs are established and the purported copy of an alleged lost will, already filed by Miss Scott, is not upheld by the court, the property will go to the State.

Accused Sees Jury; Makes Guilty Plea

Joseph Frazier, accused of forgery, when faced with a jury in Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church's court this morning changed his plea of "not guilty" to one of "guilty." The jury was dismissed.

Frazier is charged with passing a bad check for $98.48 on S. A. Corgiat, Oakland merchant, on June 14, this year. Frazier, though only a youth, has served two terms in San Quentin, for forgery and burglary.

His case was referred to Leonard D. Compton, adult probation officer, who will make a report on September 27.

TWO SENT TO PRISON.

Peter Matieka and John P. Carter, who were jointly charged with conducting a disorderly house at 445 Tenth street, were sentenced to sixty days in the city prison by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell.

CITY FIGHTS SIX-MINUTE FERRY PLANS

Council Orders Attorney Gray to S. F. On September 19 to Oppose Granting of Permit —$50 Over-Payment Back

The city council this morning requested City Attorney Leon Gray to appear in San Francisco September 19 to oppose the granting of a ferry permit to the Six Minute Ferry company, and also ordered the return of $50, which the ferry company had overpaid the city for its lease on the western waterfront, terminated recently.

Gray pointed out to the council that "the acceptance of a larger sum than is due you will constitute a waiver of the termination of the lease." The $50 will be returned.

In a letter to the council, Gray asserted that it is necessary for quick action lest a permit be granted the Six Minute Ferry company, which could then, he says, proceed toward condemning Oakland property for a terminal if it so desired.

"WILL COST $700,000."

"The railroad commission said that if that ferry is established it will cost the city $700,000," said Mayor Davie. "An over or underpass will have to be built immediately. Seventh street is not place for a ferry anyhow. There is no outlet. There are too many industrial plants and tracks there. It seems to be a good place where the Southern Pacific can shut out river boats, but that is about all."

"I notice the Southern Pacific seems to have the privilege of running an auto ferry there," said Edwards.

"They are on their own soil," said the mayor.

"There is a difference," said Commissioner Carter. "If the Southern Pacific insists on putting an auto ferry there it is bound to bear the burden of all the expenses of track-crossings and everything else. If the city puts in a ferry, the city is obligated to bear half the burden."

"The Six Minute Ferry company is worth anything it costs the city," said Edwards.

"Would you spend $200,000 or more to bring in an income of $200 per month " asked Carter. "That seems to be the problem."

"A competing line to the Southern Pacific is desirable," said Edwards. "From certain evidence," said Carter, "it looks as if it may not be a competing line."

The argument finally closed with a vote on sending Gray to San Francisco.

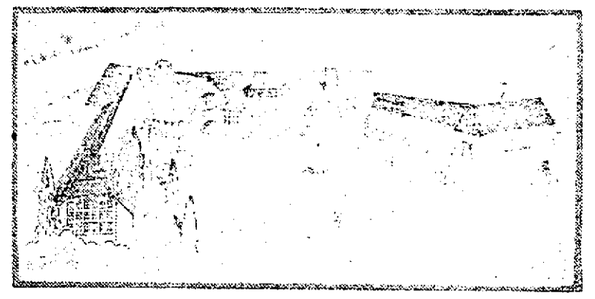
A resolution directing the city engineer to acquire certain property at Lake and Oak streets, for the future Lake Merritt boulevard to join Oak street, was adopted by the council. This is the first step toward the roadway which, it is planned, will run outside the present short-line from Lake and Oak streets to the Harrison boulevard.

Protests against the improvement of Orange street were heard and set over two weeks for further consideration.

ASSAULT HEARING SET.

Asa B. Braddock, who is charged with assault on a fourteen-year-old girl, was arraigned this morning before Police Judge Mortimer Smith. His preliminary examination was set for Wednesday morning.

University Golf and Country Club Organized in Berkeley



First sketch of the building to be erected by the University Golf and Country Club. Work on the clubhouse will begin in the near future.

All Students of U. C. Have Privilege of Becoming Associate Members.

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Its membership made up largely of college faculty members, the University Golf and Country club has been organized in Berkeley. As a special feature of the new organization students at the university will be afforded the privilege of becoming associate members.

Among those who have shared in the organization plans are Wells Drury, Councilman E. T. Harms, Graduate Manager Luther Nichols of the University of California, Ira A. Morris, Albert Leisure, Hall Bither, Dr. William S. Morgan, Samuel C. Irving and others.

ORGANIZATION PRAISED.

President Curtis Wright of the Chamber of Commerce said he was glad to hear that steps are being taken by which Berkeley's social organizations are keeping up with the growth of the city. Secretary Charles Keeler of the chamber expressed approval of the idea of more closely and pleasantly associating the students of the university and the people of Berkeley.

President C. C. Newkirk and Secretary C. A. Ferrin of the Berkeley Country club declared that the new club would be welcomed in the field of outdoor sport. Others who have expressed similar sentiments of approval are Mayor Louis Bartlett, President Hall Bither, Vice President A. W. Elkinton and Secretary William C. James of the Berkeley Manufacturers' association, President William S. Morgan and Secretary Chris Runckel of the City club, President Clinton L. Teft and Secretary George A. Fatch of the Ashby Community club, Hon. J. Stitt Wilson and Hon. Charles D. Heywood. President David P. Barrows of the University of California has given the club his sanction.

"In about six weeks the members may hold their housewarming unless something unusual occurs to cause further delay," says Architect W. H. Ratcliff Jr.

"Labor disturbances have hindered us, but it now seems that we can see our way to finishing the building. The expense will come within the appropriation of $60,000 that has been made by the club for this purpose. The first unit, which we are now constructing, includes all except the lounge, on the south."

The architecture is of the modified English style. The building will be 225 feet long, and will average 48 feet in width. It will be in the shape of the letter U, roughly blocked out, taking advantage of the natural site to which it is adapted. At first the dining room will be utilized as a combination lounge and dining room.

WILL BE EXPANDED.

Ultimately the structure will be expanded by adding sleeping rooms. In the court there will be a fountain, with the usual landscape gardening, and a model putting green will be installed, which in addition to being ornamental, can be used for practice.

A brief description of the building follows: Lounge 30 by 80 feet; dining room, 25 by 50 feet; library, 17 by 24 feet; grill, 26 by 40 feet; shower room and other accommodations, about 46 by 30 feet; men's locker, 40 by 70 feet; women's locker (upstairs), 20 by 30 feet.

ALAMEDA CLAIMS LOW TAX RATE

ALAMEDA, Sept. 8 — The city claims the lowest tax rate of the three major Eastbay cities under the rate just fixed by the council. With $1.98 for city taxes and $2.44 for county, the total rate is $4.38. In Oakland the city rate is $2.25 and the county $2.66, or a total of $4.91. In Berkeley, the rate is $1.58 and the county $3.06, a total of $4.64.

The saving by the cut in salaries amounted to $22,428. The cut divided into two sections of 5 per cent each effects all employees of the city government except the city manager, city attorney and city physician. They escape because of the fact that between 1919 and the present they had received no increase. Hickok, however, voluntarily cut his salary 10 per cent in order to place himself upon an even footing with the rest of the employees.

"The cut was made after an exhaustive study of the living conditions based upon government reports," according to Hickock. "These show conclusively that living expenses in practically every line are coming down and are now lower than that held by the salaries.

"In the school department the State allowed $57,000 this year more than it did last year. The street department budget last year was $78,000. This year it was only $65,000. This reduction was brought about through the good condition of the streets, but few of them needing resurfacing this coming year."

CITY URGES HEARING ON BRIDGE HERE

Oakland's Situation Can Best Be Outlined to War Department On East Side of Bay, Local Workers Will Insist

Oakland will make every effort to obtain a hearing by the army engineers on the projected bridge, according to Marston Campbell, chairman of the "bridge-the-bay" committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

"Most assuredly we want a hearing on this side of the bay," he said today, following receipt by the Chamber of Commerce of the official notification of the hearing from Colonel Herbert Deakyne. "We have many vital matters to present and these can be presented best right on the ground. We shall not be satisfied until our request for a hearing in this city is granted."

Colonel Deakyne's notice, dated yesterday, announces that the hearing will be held in the chambers of the San Francisco Supervisors on Friday, October 7, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. The hearing, it is stated, has been ordered by the War Department.

"Maps and drawings," the notice continues, "showing the type and location of the proposed structure will be on exhibition at room 405 Custom House, San Francisco, daily between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Interested parties are invited to consult these maps and drawings."

The notice says that it is preferred that all matters be presented in writing, though oral evidence will be taken. The hearing is open to the public.

Police Asked to Find Missing Alameda Girl

ALAMEDA, Sept. 8.—The police were today requested to make a search for Miss Alice Maddison Seelock, who resides with her parents at 1524 Pacific avenue. The girl, who is 16 years old, left home last Sunday morning. She did not return. She is reported to have been seen in San Francisco the following day. She is described as five feet six inches in height, weighing 110 pounds, and wearing a light gray dress. She has blue eyes and is a blonde.

HELD FOR THEFT.

Eustimio Gomez and Ramon Fizueroa are being held for investigation by the police in connection with the theft of two suits of clothes from the Schwartz and Grodin clothing store at Twelfth and Broadway. While Fizueroa was looking at a suit Gomez is alleged to have taken two suits of clothes. Gomaz resides at 133 Stockton street, San Francisco, and Fizueroa says he just returned from Alaska on a fishing boat.

GIRL DROPS CHARGES.

Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell today dismissed the statutory charge against Mike Carboni when the complaining witness, who is 14 years old and an inmate of the California Girl's Training School in Alameda, withdrew her charges. He was arrested on an old complaint which was sworn to by the girl's mother about a year ago.

TRIBUNE ANNUAL MARATHON RACE TAKES PLACE TOMORROW

RACE STARTS AT TEN

Runners Must Be Registered

NEW RULES BY P. A. A.

By DOUG. MONTEITH.

Tomorrow is the big day that all the distance runners and all the distance running fans have been looking forward to for the past five long weeks. Admission Day is here at last and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock sharp the ninth annual TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon takes place around Lake Merritt. The entry list totals close to one hundred and included in the list, which appears elsewhere, appear the names of the best-known distance runners in the West. Probably at no time in all previous Merritt Marathons has there been as goodly an array of all-star talent as will be assembled at the start of the race tomorrow morning awaiting the starting gun of Mayor Davie.

The only regretable news during the whole period prior to the race was received at noon today from the officials of the Pacific Association of the A. A. U., under whose auspices the big race is being run, debarring more than 10 per cent of the athletes who had sent in their entries for the ninth annual TRIBUNE race. It was the desire of the TRIBUNE to see every able-bodied amateur athlete permitted to take part in the big six and a quarter-mile run about the lake tomorrow morning, and accordingly throughout the past four weeks there has been printed, from time to time, words of caution and advice about making sure of being duly registered with the P. A. A. before sending in the entry blank.

EN ATHLETES MAY BE BARRED.

[illegible] entries [illegible] in were checked over by the registration committee of the P. A. A. and a representative of the TRIBUNE was on hand to make certain that no entry was rejected through error in checking the registration cards or otherwise improperly held out. After the lists had been thoroughly checked and rechecked it was found by Merrill Andruss, secretary of the P. A. A., that ten athletes had no card on file and would be unable to take part in the big race unless they procure such card from him within the remaining few hours before the race. In case any of the following athletes should see this issue in time to communicate with Merrill Andruss tonight or early tomorrow morning it may yet be possible to secure the necessary card and be permitted to run. However, unless the TRIBUNE is notified by the P. A. A. to the contrary between now and 10 o'clock tomorrow, the following will be refused permission to start: Wilbur F. Taylor, Mat Maloney (St. Mary's High), Ray Hurley (Fremont High), Elmer McNamara (Fremont High), Wilson York (Fremont High), Roy Engols (Allendale), Clifford Dickerson (Garfield), C. J. Carroll (Sacramento), Harry Coss (Sacramento), William Peacock.

"Y" RUNNERS TO BE "UNATTACHED."

Another last-minute decision was arrived at by the officials of the P. A. A. in their meeting yesterday. It has been decided that the runners from the Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco Y. M. C. A.'s must compete in the big race tomorrow unattached. The rules governing the conduct of the race strictly provide that men shall compete under the names of only such clubs, schools and organizations as are members of the Pacific Association of the A. A. U. It so happens that none of the three Y. M. C. A. organizations are affiliated, in any way with the Pacific Association and thus the runners from these three Y. M. C. A.s cannot run as a team from their respective organizations. This will be a keen disappointment to Bud eKarns, who has spent four hard weeks in rounding a squad of eight runners together from the Oakland Y. M. C. A. These men, including Harry Hooker, Percy Gilbert, A. R. Leonard and other well-known runners, will all be eligible to compete in the race, but must enter without any affiliation.

DORT CARS TO AID THE RUNNERS.

Definite arrangements were made yesterday with the Butler-Veitch Company of Oakland to provide six Dort touring cars to transport the many runners, who will compete in the big TRIBUNE race, from the Oakland Y. M. C. A. dressing rooms to the start of the race and bring them back from the finish of the race to their dressingrooms. These six cars will be on hand at the door of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. promptly at 9:30 and will start at 9:40 taking the runners to the start. It is therefore essential that the runners be dressed and have passed their medical examination before that time in order that the cars may be filled promptly and no time lost in getting all the boys to the mark on time for the 10 o'clock start. Dr. John Purves, as usual, will be the examiner.

MAYOR DAVIE TO START RACE.

Not only will Mayor John L. Davie be on hand to start the big race but Chief of Police Jimmy Drew and Captain J. Frank Lynch will be on deck to take personal charge of the police who will patrol the course throughout the race. Chief Drew assured us yesterday that the course would be cleared of traffic ten minutes before the start of the race and it would be kept that way until the last man had finished. It is well enough for the side-line enthusiasts to desire to be right in on the congratulations passing at the finish, but all runners in the big race must be given an equal chance and spectators will not be permitted to flock onto the course as soon as the first two or three runners have crossed the line. The work of checking the runners as they finish is highly important, for a man may be eligible for a prize in a certain classification and finish about sixtieth if he is the first of his particular classification to cross the mark. Just a few more hours until the boys take their marks. Be there to cheer them on and witness the best distance race about the famous course in the history of TRIBUNE Marathons.

BORBA AND LARSON BOX FAST DRAW AND ARE REMATCHED

George Gibbons Holds Hoag to Draw; First 3 Bouts Are Stopped in Early Rounds.

By BOB SHAND.

Henry Borba, the Crows Landing entry, didn't treat Bat Larson of San Leandro fair at the Auditorium last night. A week previously Mr. Larson hung one on Johnny Nunes that went down in the little book as a K. O. Nunes stood off looking for an opening when the Battler slipped over the ten-second wallop. Last night Larson attempted to do the same thing with Borba, but the latter would not stand still long enough to get licked, so the decision was a draw. Had Borba cared to be real sociable and accommodating and all that sort of thing, he would have stood off a little and boxed cleverly, thereby giving his little playmate a chance to level with his right hand, but Henry is a firm believer in the theory of self-protection, and he kept moving so fast and incidentally moving the Battler in front of him so fast that Larson could never get set for his famous right-hand punch.

At that, Larson did remarkably well in getting a draw with the man from Crows Landing, as it was the Battler's first appearance at the top of a local card and he was meeting a boy who has been press-agented to death. However, the reputation that has been plastered on Borba failed to throw a scare into the Cherrytown plughter, for little Bat, who gave away some four or five pounds, stayed with the ship and was fighting as fast at the finish as he was in the beginning, despite a varied assortment of body rips that Borba sent in.

Had Larson kept off the ropes he would have won that fight and the Crows Landing Chamber of Commerce would have had nothing to crow about. But Bat, when he was forced to the ropes by his heavier opponent insisted upon remaining there, where he was considerably handicapped. Occasionally he would whip in an uppercut, while Borba was shooting 'em in fast to the pantry, but the robe business is what ruined Bat's chances of victory. He will know better next time. It was a great scrap and the customers could stand another dose of the same medicine.

Dunning and Vargas Fight a Fast Draw.

Jimmy Dunning took the first two rounds from Terio Vargas and Terio Vargas took the last two rounds from Jimmy Dunning which made it a fifty-fifty break, although you couldn't make some of the customers believe this. Vargas' flash in the last round looked mighty good, but the Dunning doings in the first two rounds could not be forgotten in a hurry, though both are clever kids with their mittens, they insisted on making a fight out of it, much to the disgust of the cash customers—we guess very much not.

Broom Makes Gibbons Act Like "Tough Guy"

"Dat guy don't know you are hard, George. He ain't got no idea you is the toughest guy down to the Point. Nobody never told him you was the man what invented this fight game, 'cause you is good lookin'. He thinks you ain't no fighter. Go in an' look tough and you'll scare him to death."

George came out looking tough. He pulled a funny crouch that was a cross between a gent who had just discovered the apples he ate were altogether too green and a man who was looking for a dime on the floor. Hoag thought Gibbons meant it and he did not take many chances in the last two rounds. The draw decision was plenty fair enough.

Eddie Landon won the decision over Joe Ketchel. He knocked his man down in the first round and had a safe lead throughout.

Jack Quinn, who was sponsored by Frankie Edwards, essayed to lick Tommy Callo, but a terrific wallop in the bread basket in the third round finished Jack for the night. Ernest Lundgren took three right-hand wallops right on the chin in the first round from Jimmy Butler and after the last one the fight was stopped and given to Butler. Little Jimmy can hit, while Lundgren had no defense for his talking apparatus.

Wm. Johnston Favorite to Win Net Title

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—William T. Tilden stands on the books as the greatest tennis player in the world. In the past two years, the lanky Philadelphian has acquired two British titles, two American titles and a French title.

Starting tomorrow in Philadelphia in the first round of the national singles championship, he goes into an international tournament that carries with it an almost clean right to a world's championship.

However, court critics who have been following the summer's play, predict that the champion will do little more than start.

William M. Johnston, the fiery little Californian, teammate of Tilden in two-cup victories and twice an American champion, is the choice of the experts for the championship. Through one of those peculiar strokes of the draw, Tilden, Johnston and Vincent Richards are in the bottom group of 108 American, British, Australian and Japanese stars that will compete for the title. That means that one or two of the big three will go out early in the play.

KUMAGAE OUT OF SINGLES.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Ichiya Kumagae, the Japanese tennis star, will not compete in the national tennis singles championships to begin tomorrow at the Germantown Cricket club. This announcement was made today by the tournament committee. The Japanese was taken ill Monday after his Davis cup match with William T. Tilden II.

Fans Go Wild When Babe Hits Fifty-second

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. — New Yorkers take off their hats to Babe Ruth. When he hit his 52d homer in the second game with the Boston Red Sox yesterday, the game had to be called for five minutes while the umpires and groundkeepers collected a swarm of straw "kelleys" that were tossed out of the stands. More than 200 hats were carried to the New York dugout.

BULL MONTANA COMING TO WRESTLE LOCAL CHAMPION

Al Karasick Will Meet Movie Actor Here Saturday Night

Bull Montana won't grace Broadway until Friday. The "handsome" movie actor, who thought he would be here today to finish training for his wrestling match with Al Karasick at Twelfth and Harrison streets Saturday night, had to remain in the south to finish a picture, but he will be on the job in Oakland without fail Friday.

This will be Bull's first appearance here, but he figures on pinning Al Karasick and coming back to flop some more local grapplers. Montana has met some good men in his time and, although not a consistent winner, he has proved a big drawing card. Promoter Joe Khoumrian, who is staging the match, is going to stand for a deep slash in the bankroll bringing the movie man here, but Joe is quite confident the grappling game is going to do a sensational comeback in this vicinity.

Montana's pictures have graced the pages of practically every paper in the United States. Renowned as "The Homeliest Man in the Movies" he has not been a bit backward or camera-shy, with the result that movie fans who have seen him in stills and on the screen are anxious to take a peek at the big fellow as he appears on the mat.

Douglas Park, Kansas City, vs. Mart Nelson, Iowa.

STATE TENNIS TOURNEY STARTS AGAIN TOMORROW

Final rounds in the twenty-first annual California state lawn tennis championship matches, which began September 3, will be played off Friday, Saturday and Sunday, it was announced today by officials of the Lawn Tennis Association. Great interest is being manifested in the coming matches, as all of the poorer matches have been played off, leaving only the high-class players to contest for first honors.

Interest of the tennis fans is centered upon the singles championship, which is being hotly contested by Ro Roberts and the veteran, John Strachan. Both Strachan and Roberts are scheduled to play off the men's senior doubles championship also. The last year's championship doubles team, composed of the Kinsey brothers, Robert and Howard, are at present cleaning up everything in the metropolitan tournament in the East.

Saturday evening, under the auspices of the California Law Tennis Association, an informal dance will be held at the Berkeley Tennis Club for the contestants and their friends.

GOLF

Another Golf Club Planned For Berkeley

Students and Business Men Are Behind the Latest Project.

Organization of a new country club in Berkeley, among the businessmen and university students to be known as the University Golf and Country Club, was announced today. Included among those who were instrumental in perfecting the plans for formation of the club are City Commissioner E. T. Harms, Graduate Manager Lute Nichols of the University of California, Wells Drury of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, Albert Leisure, Ira A. Morrison, Hall Blther, Dr. William Morgan, former Mayor S. C. Irving and many others.

Associate memberships will be offered to both students and business men, it was announced while plans for the purchase of a country estate upon which to locate the clubland links will be purchased in the near future. The new club is the second organization of its kind formed in Berkeley during the past two years, the first being the Berkeley Country Club, which recently opened a new golf course on a large acreage north of the city.

Tournaments are all the go at present and the Berkeley Golf and Country club not wishing to be behind, intends holding an inauguration event at an early date.

The women members at Diablo have arranged to hold an 18-hole medal play tournament at handicap. Competitors may turn in their score either Saturday the 10th or Sunday the 11th. On the following Wednesday the women's regular monthly invitational tournament will be held. A 50-cent sweepstake will supply prizes for an 18-hole medal score over Diablo's tricky 9-hole course.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—Preliminary rounds of the national women's championship to be played next month over the Hollywood club's links at Deal, N. J., will be over eighteen holes, while the final and deciding round will be played over thirty-six holes, it was announced today. All other women's championship tournaments called for only one eighteen-hole round each day, the finals also being over eighteen holes.

Dempsey May Referee Feather-weight Bout

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—The promoters of the Kilbane-Frush feather-weight championship bout scheduled to take place in this city, September 16, have urged Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey in New York, asking him to referee the bout. The telegram to Dempsey said that both boxers and the public would be agreeable to his being the third man in the ring.

Veeck said he will go to the island immediately after the close of the present season to build an up to date ball park. He will be accompanied by Bill Killefer, manager of the Cubs.

JACK CLIFFORD BARRED.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 8.—The license of Jack Clifford, of St. Paul, Minn., to box in Nebraska has been revoked by Lum Doyle, state boxing commissioner. Doyle charges that Clifford failed to train properly for the bout with Andy Schrader at Nebraska City on Labor Day, and as a result was unable to put up a good battle.

Strangler Lewis and Joe Stecher to Meet

MURPHY'S TROTTER WINS.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 8. — Peter Daw, driven by Thomas W. Murphy, today won the 2:12 division of the Greater Charter Oak stake after three close finishes. Murphy's trotter won the first and third heats, with Escotille, contender in each of these, winning the second in the fastest time.

Denver Ed Martin K. O.'s Batt Hector

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 8. — Poor old Denver Ed Martin! The Portland boxing commission found that the negro battler who held the championship of his class 22 years ago wanted to come back. So they matched him with Battling Hector for a ten-round go at Milwaukee Arena last night. The crowd hoped Denver Ed would stay awhile and show them some of the old tricks. But Denver Ed stayed only two rounds. He knocked Battling Hector down three times and out in the second canto and then just naturally didn't see any more use hanging around.

Baseball Gossip

The Oaks defeated the Vernon Tigers in a wild and woolly game at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon, 14 to 10. The game was exciting throughout, the winner being in doubt until the last man was retired.

Winn started for the Oaks, but Owens Seibold took his place in the seventh and the latter worked and had to be replaced by Arlett who saved the day and got credit for the win for the Oaks put over four runs in the eighth inning after he had taken the box.

Louie Guisto's home run, with two teammates on the paths in the eighth, clinched the game for the locals. Art Koehler hit a homer in the fifth when the Oaks scored five.

Pete Schneider was called in from right field to do the pitching when McGraw blew up and when Pete blew up he was chased back to right field and his place taken by Wheeler Dell.

Umpire Bill Byron is showing the ruling hand again and three of the Tigers were chased to the clubhouse. Byron nailed a bad strike on Hannah and Truck kicked so much that he got chased from the game.

Carl Sawyer was chased from the game because he crawled up the wire netting on the grandstand and took a bottle from a fan. What was in the bottle looked like a jug of air, but Byron said there was something else. Sawyer was just going through one of his funny acts.

Stubby Talington did not like to see Sawyer chased because he made some fun for the fans so he started an argument with Byron and was also chased.

Unless Charley Graham puts the brakes on pretty soon, the Seals will slide out of the lead. The Angels gave them another beating yesterday, 11 to 2. It was a regular beating, and the Seals own hold but a game and a half lead over the Sacramento Coyotes, and two games over the Angels.

Roy Crumpler, Shore and O'Brien pitched for the Seals and were nicked for the thirteen hits. Seibold and McAuley were the heavy stickers for the Angels, each hitting three safe ones.

Hughes and Dumovich did the mound honors for the Angels.

Louie Guisto is doing most of the heavy hitting for the Oaks these days. He hammered the pill all over the lot at Sacramento last week, and yesterday he kept up the good work by hitting five safe ones in as many times at bat.

Babe Pinelli connected for three hits in five times at bat.

Louie Guisto and Jack Knight can't speak too highly of George Jones, the young right-handed pitcher secured by the Oaks from the Edmonton Club and who hurled a six-hit game against the Coyotes last Monday. He looks like the best flinger to come into the league in a long while.

Jack Knight second sacker of the Oaks, was around town yesterday bemoaning the loss of a thousand dollar breastpin belonging to his wife. The pin was lost some time after the game at Sacramento on Monday afternoon. Jack says the pin was on his wife when they left the hotel at Sacramento. They motored to Oakland.

National Junior Cross-Country Race Oct. 23

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8—At a conference between Sam Goodman, president of the Pacific association of the A. A. U., Doc Ponchio, sporting director of the Unione Sportive Italiano, and Merrill Andruss, secretary of the P. A. A., it was decided to hold the national A. A. U. junior cross-country run on October 23. The race was secured for San Francisco by President Goodman last year. He in turn handed the race to the Unione Sportiva, to be run under the joint auspices of the Italian club and the association. Distance of the race will be six miles.

John Desch, former diving champion, will be chief judge of the Pacific Association high diving championships, which will be held at Neptune Sunday. Desch is recognized as the best diving coach in the Pacific Association.

A new distance swimmer is Hadge Robertson, who is making great headway toward championship form. Charlie Fisher, the Neptune professional, is coaching her and announces that she will make her first appearance in the Seal Rocks swim, on September 24.

Jesse Ryan and Skinny Burris are competing for supremacy of the Neptune Club in the fifty yards. Burris and Ryan have reduced their time in the distance two seconds this season.

WINTER WILL BE LIKE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME FOR BALL FANS

Professional and Bush Ball to Be Played All Over California During Winter Months.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The close of the Pacific Coast league pennant race on Sunday afternoon, October 2, will not cause many of the players to de-sert California, as they have done in past winters. The players used to catch the first home-bound train after the close of the season, but present indications are that there will be as much baseball going on in Pacific Coast cities as there was during the regular season. In the bay section, Sacramento and Los Angeles most of the players will spend their winter. As usual the Little Joe Bushers of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE Midwinter League will be out in force, as one big division of the league has already been organized. But the professionals of the coast and major leagues will be new attractions, as they are to play in a professional midwinter league composed of Sacramento, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The professional Midwinter league does not figure to hurt the attendance of the games of The Oakland PRIDE OF LEAGUES as the little bushers will be playing in their own. And if games of professional caliber will be the bushers' drawing power, president of the Oakland ball club looked after that end of it.

More Baseball This Winter Than in Summer Time.

If the professional Midwinter league is a success this winter it will run every winter. The league is to last a run of two weeks of continuous baseball just the same as is being played in the Pacific Coast league at present. If the weather man behaves himself the games will no doubt draw well on the Oakland Diamond on Sundays, afternoons and Sunday mornings, as there will be one or more big league stars such as Roger Hornsby, George Sisler and Walter Maile in the line-ups of each club.

With The TRIBUNE supporting the largest bush league ever organized here and Sacramento having a Midwinter league of at least forty clubs, fans of that town and the bay section are going to be treated to more baseball than they have been during the summer month. In Southern California plans are being outlined for another big professional midwinter league to take in the small towns about Los Angeles and those of the Imperial valley. They had a great professional league down there last winter. The question now remains to be settled is, will the two professional leagues have an agreement on the handling of players. The Southern California league last winter took care of the best stars who wintered on the Pacific coast, and unless the two league officials get together before the start of the season, there may be some trouble in the way of who the players will play for. There may be a lot of jumping back and forth.

Fat Contracts Are Being Offered for Winter Ball.

Players who wish to serve with clubs in the Midwinter league composed of Oakland, Sacramento, Los Angeles and San Francisco are being asked to sign contracts just as they would if signing with a Pacific Coast league club. Big money has been offered to many players and it is going to be tough on somebody's pocket books should a long streak of bad weather interrupt the playing schedule. Who will be the loser in a case where the Los Angeles team comes up here and runs into a full week of bad weather? Somebody will have to kick through with the expense for the traveling players. George Alfey Putnam, secretary of the San Francisco Seals, says that no one is worrying about that.

A certain player in the Pacific Coast league was approached with an offer to play on one of the four professional clubs and he asked for time to consider. The offer made to him was better than has been paid to men before, and sounds like an easy pick-up for the ball players. A lot of hard labor, so the majority welcomes the formation of the professional league. But the reason why this player asked for a chance to consider was because the offer made, while a good one for winter ball, was much less than he is now receiving for playing the same number of games each week in the Pacific Coast league. This player fears that if he signs to play for less money in the winter league his club owners will come back at him next spring with a cut in salary to play the 1923 season in the Coast league. So the chances are that he will have to get a better offer to play winter ball before he will sign. "If I sign for what they offered me, they might come around next spring and say, here take this contract, it calls for the same as you got last winter and you played in the coldest kind of weather," said the player.

If the professional league goes through as planned the fans of the Pacific coast are going to see some of the best major league stars in action.

Another Victory for Duncan and Mitchell

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8.—George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, British golf professionals, yesterday afternoon defeated Ralph Peters and Blaine Young, local amateurs, 2 and 1, in an exhibition match at the Country club. Duncan displayed the superior golf in shooting a 68, 2 under par, for the course. Mitchell's drives were always the longer, but his judgment of distance was not so good as that of Duncan.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Chicago lost its protest of the game in Pittsburgh August 11, according to word received from John Heydler, president of the league, by William Veeck, president of the Cubs. Both Mr. Veeck and Mr. Heydler protested the game, which resulted in a Pittsburgh victory on the ground attendants had interfered with Killefer's catching of fouls. The umpires informed Mr. Heydler that the ground keepers had been instructed to remain on the grounds after the third inning, because of the threatening weather.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 8.

It was in 1760 that Montreal capitulated and all Canada passed into the hands of the English. Naphtali Daggett was born in 1727, and the odds are better than even that the reader does not know that he was an old-time educator and president of Yale. Another man with a funny name born on this day was Richard Pumpelly, geologist (1837). Wallack's Theater was opened in New York in 1852.

We are reliably informed, as the despatches from Helsingfors always start, that news of the charter for the proposed city and county of Alameda has created a considerable rumpus in Europe. It would appear that each one of the many kings, emperors, dictators, commander-in-chiefs, and overlords who are out of employment is desirous of landing the job as manager.

o o o

"Who could fill the bill any better than a former king?" writes one whose head is itching for the accustomed weight of a crown. "As we interpret the charter this manager fellow, you know, is going to have things absolutely as he wants them. I am a believer in the divine right of kings to hold the best jobs, and would like my application considered."

Oh woe! Oh shame!

Before we're wrecked
Please disconnect
Our name from Missis Harris.

P. S.—Please inform this Harris person that I wouldn't use her old typewriter if I could, so there?

Regardless of protests we maintain that there is a Missis Harrisian touch to everything this Mister Pfister has sent in. But then, even the greatest of detectives may be mistaken.

COMPOSED UPON READING OF THE DEATH "DUE TO PROHIBITION AND WORRY" OF AN OLD-TIME PURVEYOR OF BOTTLED CHEER BACK IN THE OLD HOME TOWN.

There is grief 'neath the rooftree of Ambrose,
Where William, the master, is dead!
Long years in his damp rink in Third street
The wine in his glasses glowed red,
'Ere the crepe hanging folk in their black coats
Decreed that hereafter our drink
Should be liquor no longer, but water,
And set it all down in black ink.

Thus William lost all of his business,
Thus worry, like rust on his soul,
Ate the stuff of his body's resistance
And took him at last to that goal
Where most of us go and return not
To smoke in a bottomless pit;
Now a widow and John Harley equally weep,
—And here is a finish of it.

CHARTER

FOR THE

CITY AND COUNTY OF ALAMEDA

Prepared and proposed by the Board of Freeholders elected February 3, 1921, in pursuance of Section 7½a, Article XI, of the Constitution of California.

SUMMARY OF CHARTER PROVISIONS.

1. The consolidation of city and county functions, so far as feasible, enabling such fundamental matters as education, health, hospitals, justice, the regulation, acquisition and construction of public utilities, such as water supply and transportation, and the development and improvement of the waterfront and waterways to be handled as a unit for the benefit of the entire existing county. In other words, the charter presents a governmental organization that will permit the economic and social development of the area in accordance with its natural resources and commanding geographical position.

2. The unification within the metropolitan area in the county of police, fire, maintenance and lighting of streets and the administration of libraries, parks and playgrounds. The expense of these peculiarly municipal purposes is to be borne by the urban part of the community affected. Greater efficiency and economy is promoted by this unification of functions and elimination of duplications.

3. The borough form of government preserves to existing cities important powers in relation to improvement and opening of streets, creation of residential zones, participation in the making of the budget and the levy of special taxes desired by any borough in matters not covered in the general budget.

4. The boroughs lying opposite the metropolitan area retain unimpaired their local government.

5. The legislative department of the city and county, the Metropolitan Council, is made up of representatives from subdivisions of the county which is divided into seven districts, as follows:

Council District No. 1 shall consist of all that portion of the city and county bounded on the North by the boundary line between the city and county and Contra Costa County; on the West by the boundary line between the city and county and the City and County of San Francisco; and on the South and East by a line described as follows: commencing at a point on the boundary line between the city and county and the City and County of San Francisco where the same is intersected by the direct extension Westerly of the center line of Folger Avenue; thence Easterly along said direct extension of said center line of Folger Avenue, and along the center line of Folger Avenue to the center line of San Pablo Avenue; thence Southerly along said center line of San Pablo Avenue to the center line of Alcatraz Avenue; thence to a general Easterly direction along the center line of Alcatraz Avenue to the center line of Shattuck Avenue; thence Northerly along the center line of Shattuck Avenue to the center line of Amador Avenue; thence to a general Northerly direction along the center line of Amador Avenue and its direct extension Northwesterly to the center line of Sutter Street; thence Northerly along the center line of Sutter Street and its direct extension Northerly to an intersection with the direct extension Southwesterly of the center line of Del Norte Street; thence Northeasterly along the last said direct extension and along the center line of Del Norte Street and continuing Northwesterly along said center line and along its direct extension Northwesterly to the center line of Arlington Avenue; thence Northeasterly along the center line of Arlington Avenue to the boundary line between the city and county and Contra Costa county.

TAKING EFFECT OF THIS CHARTER

Sec. 221. For the purpose of nominating and electing the councilmen, trustees of the several boroughs, and the judges of the Municipal Court, and for the purpose of superseding all existing provisions authorizing the election of officers of the several districts and municipal corporations within the city and county, this charter shall take effect immediately upon its approval by the Legislature. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, in office at the time of such approval, shall provide for the holding of the first election of councilmen, trustees of each borough, and judges of the Municipal Court under this charter and shall canvass the votes and declare the result. Oldest Native Chicagoan Recalls City of 15,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—From a population of fifteen thousand to three millions, Ferdinand W. Peck, Chicago's oldest resident native, has watched Chicago grow. He was born seventy-three years ago. His father before him could tell an even better story, for he watched Chicago grow from a handful of frontiersmen, a little fort, to the million and a half Chicago had in '71.

While his father's life in Fort Dearborn was more harrowing, Ferdinand Peck has had the more remarkable career. His father with thirty-nine others in 1830 repulsed the Indians near where the new double-deck Michigan avenue bridge now stands. He died two weeks following the great Chicago fire.

Ferdinand Peck opened his career in the public eye at the age of 17, when he rode in the carriage with Abraham Lincoln at his second inaugural. From that day, Peck has been one of the most befriended and befriending patrons of the press this country boasts. To whom, his friends say, have held the number of public and quasi-public positions that have come to Peck.

Most important of all his accomplishments, Peck counts his work in organizing, financing and completing the Auditorium, which houses the Chicago opera. This was done largely unaided, Peck said. He had President Cleveland to lay the cornerstone, and President Harrison to dedicate the finish building. Officials from Canada and governors of fourteen states attended the dedication.

Peck's latest pride is the Chicago Woman's Band, of which he is honorary president, and to which he devotes half his time. The band is composed of 150 girls, and is twice the size Peck says of the next largest girls' band in existence.

Fifty-four years ago Peck aided in founding the Chicago Press Club, and since then helped found five others of the city's most prominent clubs. For seven terms he was president of the Chicago board of education. He caused erection of the first Confederate monument north of the Mason and Dixon line, and in 1898 took the first Illinois regiment of 1000 men South, and marched with them through the streets of all the prominent southern cities.

He was the United States commissioner-general of the world's fair, in Paris, headed the finance committee of the world's fair, in this city, and when the fair went to St. Louis, his intercession with Speaker Cannon in Congress, his friends say, is generally accounted as the determining factor in gaining St. Louis a five million dollar appropriation.

A decoration was conferred on him by Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, and he has distinction as the only civilian American to rank as grand officer of the Legion d'Honneur of France, the rank lately conferred on Geeral Pershing.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The cotton market had another very active opening today. The first sale of October was at a net decline of 159 points or $2.00 a bale, but later transactions in that contract, as well as in others, showed that values were inclined to rally due to re-buying by bulls after a three-cent decline from the top. There also was trade purchasing as well as buying for New Orleans accounts. The result was a sharp recovery from the lowest price of the call, but at the upturn renewed selling developed and the market became very unsettled with the prices at the end of the first fifteen minutes about ten points or $5 a bale under yesterday's close. The market at Liverpool, which was very weak at first, rallied considerably before the opening here. The market broke heavily shortly after 11 o'clock under fresh flurries of general liquidation, which carried October down to 18.15 cents a pound and January to 18.47 cents a pound, representing losses of 135 and 128 points respectively. The figures on ginning were slightly under expectations, but they were not a factor.

Selling pressure became very heavy and general in the later afternoon, sending prices into new low ground for the day. The close was very steady at a net decline of 112 to 168 points. A final rally occurred on covering by shorts.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. — Weakness in cotton resulted in rather general selling of wheat at the start of trading on the Board of Trade today with prices off 1¾@2¼ cents from yesterday's finish with May leading. Trading was fairly active and price changes rapid. There was a good class of buying on the break. September opened at $1.27½, December at $1.30⅝ to $1.31⅛ and May at $1.36¼ to $1.37¼. The market rallied slightly toward the end of the first hour with prices ¼@⅜c off last night's finish.

The loss was recovered later on buying by locals and commission houses that were free sellers on yesterday's bulge, the principal strength at Minneapolis having considerable influence. The close showed wheat unchanged to 2½c higher, with September $1.29⅞@1.29⅞, December at $1.32⅜@1.32¾ and May at $1.37⅞@1.38⅛.

Corn opened ½ to ⅝c lower, with September at 54c, December at 54⅜ to 54⅝c and May at 59¼ to 59½c. An hour after the opening the market was easy in shade off of last night's finish and displayed steadiness.

Oats were off at the start in sympathy with other grains, opening ⅛ to ¼c lower, with September at 25¾@25⅞c, December at 30c and May at 43¼@43⅜c. They also rallied.

Provisions were lower owing to free local selling and stop orders.

The close:

Pork, Sept., $17.65.
Lard, Sept., $11.12; Oct., $11.50.

ANOTHER SPLIT FACES SOCIALIST PARTY OF ITALY

Leaders Divided Over Question of Supporting Government; 2 Forces Likely.

ROME, Sept. 7.—The Italian Socialist party is threatened with another split, according to Deputy Vincenzo Vacirca, editor of the Socialist organ Avanti, who for seven years carried on active socialist propaganda in America. The split now impending divides the party into those who are forever opposed to the government and those who in the present situation wish to align itself with it.

"The right wing of the Socialist party is gaining adherents every day," said Deputy Vacira to the Associated Press correspondent. "We of that wing think the time opportune to collaborate with the government in the work of reconstruction. According to the decisions of the last Socialist convention, we are not allowed to participate in the government though there is now opportunity for it and it would advance the interests of the working class.

"If this present Socialist party does not want to participate in the government, we who believe in collaborating with the government will leave it and form a new party. I am sure that a majority of the Socialist deputies are in favor of joining hands with the Bonomi government. Large numbers of radical Socialists are now turning milder. Our convention meets next October in Rome. The fight between left and right will be fought there and you will probably see two parties formed.

"We have at present 122 Socialist deputies in the House of Deputies. Between 80 and 90 of these, in my opinion, want to support the Bonomi cabinet but are prevented by the mandates of the last Socialist convention and by Socialist policy generally."

October 10 to Be Fire Prevention Day

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 8.—October 10 is to be fire prevention day throughout the United States, and J. A. Fire marshals from all parts of the nation are expected here September 22, 23 and 24, for the sixteenth annual convention of the association. Members of the executive committee who have charge of the convention arrangements are J. A. Tracy of Iowa, L. T. Hussey of Kansas, W. N. Van Camp of South Dakota, Homer Rutledge of Michigan and J. A. Steltkamp of Kentucky.

L. A. Launches Drive To Clean Out Vice

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Seventy-five men and a number of women are under arrest following raids to clean up vice and gambling conditions and to drive out vagrants who have arrived here in large numbers recently. One squad rounded up forty-five men on street corners, who, the officers say, they recognized as habitual loafers.

Police judges have promised their co-operation in the crusade launched by Captain R. Lee Heath, and say they will send convicted vagrants to hard labor.

Captain Heath is planning to intercept hoboes as they enter the city and to put out special patrol squads to pick up sharpers and vagrants.

ENGINEERS SEE MIDNIGHT WORK ON S. F. & S. BORE

Most Modern Tunnel Method Explained by Trolley Line Experts.

Fifty engineers, chiefly members of the American Society of Civil Engineers, were guests of the San Francisco and Sacramento Railroad late last night on a special train to the Redwood Canyon tunnel. The trip was to demonstrate the system of tunnel construction employed by the electric road for the first time in the history of engineering. The engineers, at midnight, saw the work progress.

Charles W. Mardel, chief engineer, and W. T. Richards, construction engineer of the line, explained the system of reinforced concrete tunnel lining while workmen placed a complete rib in position.

The system, the invention of Pierre Zucco, San Francisco engineer, consists of heavy reinforced concrete ribs extending from floor to the arch of the tunnel and between which to act as lagging are concrete slabs or "boards," horizontally laid and fitting into grooves in the ribs. A feature of the system is that the entire structure is manufactured outside the tunnel.

IN OAKLAND YARD.

The ribs and slabs are being cast at the workyard of the company at the head of Broadway, Oakland, and are sent to the tunnel on flat cars to be installed at night after the heavy traffic has been suspended.

In order to handle the heavy ribs in narrow space usual tackle had to be discarded and a low, powerful steel crane, mounted on a flat-car was substituted. The crane was designed by Charles W. Mardel, chief engineer of the company. It will lift a 5-ton rib and through a universal joint swing, tilt it into any position desired. The heavy ribs are handled quickly with a space of only a few inches to spare.

The ribs are in two sections and the only use of soft concrete necessary in the tunnel is to unite the projecting reinforcing bars at the apex of the arch and cement the bottoms of the ribs to the foundation pillars.

ADVANTAGE SHOWN.

Advantages of the system, as explained to the engineers last night, are that the concrete, poured in the light is available to inspection on all sides. There also is elimination of expensive form construction and freedom of tram operation.

After the installation of the slabs between the ribs, sand is pumped behind the lining of the tunnel.

The company has been at work on the installation for nine months and has completed about one-quarter of the undertaking. Three more years' work will be required when the tunnel will be the most modern in the world, and the only one of its kind in existence.

Structural work is under the direction of W. T. Richards, construction engineer of the company, who with Mardel and L. H. Rodebaugh, traffic manager, acted as host to the visiting engineers.

SECURITIES QUOTATIONS

ABBREVIATED with two holidays, the present week still is proving one of the liveliest in months in nearly all markets. Of the developments, probably none has been more striking than the multiplying evidences of strength in the bond market in which Oakland houses have participated actively, due to marked investing interest here.

There have been almost daily offerings of unusual nature, climaxing today with the $10,000,000 Fisk Rubber Company issue, which went on the market at 10 a. m. Almost immediately after the hour of opening a telegram received by the bond department of the Bank of Italy here from New York announced that the issue, which opened at 99, had been bid up to 99½ by 8.30 a. m., Eastern time.

This practically equals the Soo Line $10,000,000 issue of yesterday, which, offered at 9 a. m. at 99 5 for the ten-year non-callable 6½s, was, recapitulation today shows, actually all in the hands of investors within the hour of offering and today was selling up to 101 on bonds held back by early buyers for market speculation.

There was indication that numbers of the rush buyers of Fisk today hoped to realize strongly through a quick upward swing of the issue.

The Fisk offering follows the vote of stockholders of the company and the Federal Rubber and Ximgret companies for consolidation yesterday. The consolidation, which will be called the Fisk Rubber Company, has authorized the $10,000,000 issue made today in first closed mortgage twenty-year 8 per cent sinking fund gold bonds non-callable during the first ten years. They are callable thereafter up to and including the fifteenth year at 117½, and during the last five years of their life at 112½. The sinking fund is sufficient to buy in the entire issue, if available in the market, by purchase up to 110.

An interesting feature of the Soo bonds of yesterday and further illustrative of the strength of the market, is that the issue was the first of the kind in a long time at the terms under a ten-year maturity, fifteen years having been considered the shortest possible heretofore because of the contracted yield.

Although not on the same basis as the Fisk and Soo bonds, the offering of a million in California Joint Stock Land Bank 5½ per cent bonds selling at 101 today and figured to yield 5⅜ per cent, was engaging active attention. A feature of this issue, which is part of the general Land Bank issue determined at the recent Chicago conference and which may amount to $150,000,000 nationally before the first of the year, was that as a quasi-government security its yield under the same tax exemptions today stood practically 1 per cent more than the First Liberty Loan 3½s, quoted yesterday to yield 4.32.

The extent of further land bank issues this year will probably be determined in part by the reception of these, the initial issues made possible by the raising of the legal interest limit to 5½ by Congressional enactment. The joint Land Banks had not heretofore been able to market their bonds because of a restricted bond market and a 5 per cent limit.

The next interesting issue which promises to be grabbed up almost as quickly as offered are the two blocks of Long Beach municipals to the amount of $1,900,000. These are to be put on the market Monday morning, it was announced today by Blyth, Witter & Co., heading the syndicate north of the Tehachapi, and are to be priced to yield 5½ and 5¾ on the maturities, according to length.

Reflecting on the strength of the bond market, it was reported today that delay of the coming $238,000,000 equipment trust certificates which the government is to issue for the railroads was being considered to obtain more advantageous price.

Word is still awaited at the Berkeley Federal Farm Loan Bank of the plans to market $30,000,000 or more million of bonds for that organization. It is understood, however, that the bonds when they appear will be 20-year maturities, to carry not above 5¼ per cent interest. The Joint Land Bank bonds have set a precedent in the present California $1,000,000 offering in that they are 30-year maturities.

FRUIT DRYING ACTIVE; RICE MOVES TOWARD HARVEST.

Reporting the progress of crops for the week ended Tuesday the weather bureau summary on California, and especially the northern and central sections, says:

The past week was marked by sub-normal temperatures throughout the greater part of the State, particularly in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. Light showers occurred over the central portion of the State.

Most crops made good progress, although, owing to cool nights rice and corn matured slowly. Rice continues in excellent condition and preparations are being made for draining off the water prior to the harvest which still promises to be earlier than usual. A warm spell is needed for this crop. Tomatoes stayed green due to the cool weather. More heat is wanted and also for watermelons, which are not as sweet as usual. Truck and vegetables are in vigorous condition. The cool weather was favorable for beans and beets. Some damage was done to beans stacked in the field by showers.

Prune picking and drying is going on normally and much fruit is [illegible] rain was apparently very slight. Adequate warning made it possible for fruit to be stacked in most of the area affected. A few peaches were wet and required resulphuring. Some damage was done to figs by splitting and souring, but the extent of loss has not been determined. They are dropping fast and the harvest of dried figs is at its peak.

Most of the Thompson raisin crop is now on the trays in the San Joaquin Valley, but picking continues. Grapes in this and most other sections did well, and the vines were benefited rather than otherwise by the showers.

CEMENT COMPANY HANDICAPPED BY RATE.

Complaint was made by the Pacific Portland Cement Company, Consolidated, today to the Railroad Commission against the Southern Pacific and [illegible] Co. [illegible] rate from the company's plant at Cement, Solano county, to San Francisco, is excessive and discriminatory. The complaint says 70 cents a ton on crude rock from Flint to Tolenas and $1.50 a ton on cement from Cement to San Francisco must be compared with $1.50 a ton on cement from a competitor's plant at Davenport to San Francisco. A rate of 50 cents a ton on rock from Flint to Tolenas and $1 a ton on cement from Cement to San Francisco is asked.

MORE ACTIVITY FOUND IN IRON AND STEEL.

Discussing the iron and steel situation in a manner to indicate a better tone, Iron Age, in its review, today says:

An upward turn in output, after nine months of steady decline, is shown in the pig iron statistics for August. The total was 954,195 tons, or 30,760 tons a day, against 864,555 tons in July, or 27,889 tons a day. The outlook is for further improvement in September.

In finished steel the rate of mill operations has not changed, yet there are not a few reports of better business in August than in July.

Competition is sharper in the heavier products — plates, shapes and bars. The leading sheet and tin plate interest showed a gain of 45 per cent last month over July orders and shipments, August being the best month since February.

TREASURY ADVISES OF REDEMPTIONS.

The following notice is received today from Governor Calkins of the Twelfth District Federal Reserve Bank, relative to treasury certificate redemptions:

Secretary Mellon announced that he has authorized the Federal Reserve Banks on and after Thursday, September 8, and until further notice, to redeem in cash before September 15, at the holder's option, at par and accrued interest to the date of such optional redemption, Treasury certificates of indebtedness of series TS-1921, dated September 15, 1920, and series TS-2-1921, dated March 15, 1921, both maturing September 15, 1921.

WESTERN PACIFIC GIVEN CROSSING OVER S. P.

An important decision, in connection with the Western Pacific Railroad company's feeder line from Niles to San Jose, was made by the Railroad Commission today, when that company was authorized to construct a crossing over the Southern Pacific tracks near San Jose. The order is to permit the operation of work trains pending the installation of an interlocking system.

LUMBER RATES CUT ON COAST SCHEDULES.

More reductions on both eastbound and westbound transcontinental rates were announced today. These new rates represent reductions as high as 30 per cent. Hardwood lumber and second-hand wooden crates are included. The rates will become effective as soon as the tariffs can be published. Transcontinental roads also are to publish a rate of 75 cents a hundred on vegetable oils and copra in carload load lots from Pacific coast points to points in Ohio, Indiana, the southern peninsula of Michigan and points in the southeast served by the Illinois Central railroad. The date when the rates will go into effect has not been determined.

OVEN COMPANY FILES FOR HALF MILLION HERE.

The Bake Oven Products Corporation filed articles of incorporation here today, specifying $500,000 as capital. The offices of the company are on the top floor of the Federal Realty building. Shares are of $10 par, 25,000 shares of preferred, and the same amount of common to be issued. Incorporators, who are also named as directors, are E. K. Sturgis, Henry E. Skinner, Jesse Robinson, E. F. Ritchie and Monroe Friedman. The incorporation is to have a life of fifty years. The company proposes to manufacture baking ovens of all sorts, both gas and electric, and handle general accessories for these ovens.

NEW YORK SUMMARY

By E. F. HUTTON & CO. WIRE.

Utah Copper directors and Southern Railway directors met today.

Howard Elliott says there was no discussion of dividend action at the Northern Pacific executive committee meeting yesterday and declares August earnings will show improvement and that the outlook for remainder of the year is good.

Raw sugar price expected to improve. Free sugar pretty well cleaned up and refiners will probably have to meet the committee price of 3¼ for Cubans before long as there is little Porto Rico or Philippine for near-by delivery according to expert opinion.

Studebaker reduces price of pleasure cars $125 to $175. President Erskine says lower costs resulting from large production at their South Bend plant permit of reduction.

COFFEE AND SUGAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. — Sugar: Raw, [illegible] 4.61; granulated 5.86.

LOW RECORD FOR 18 MONTHS MADE BY GERMAN MARK

British Exchange Strengthens and Market in N. Y. Goes Up and Down.

NEW YORK, Sept 8.—Resistance to the recent rise in the Stock Market was indicated at the opening of today's session, but the list strengthened after the first hour. Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel, Pan-American Petroleum, General Asphalt, Chandler and some of the rails were firm to strong.

Early quotations for foreign exchange showed a strong upward movement in the British rate, while marks or German bills fell to their lowest quotation in eighteen months.

The market reversed its course before noon, however, when Studebaker and the cheaper motors reacted. Mexican Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, American Sugar and United Drug became heavy, the latter repeating its recent low record. American Car preferred, Pullman, Northern Pacific and "Soo" fell 1 to 2 points. U. S. Rubber and Kelly Springfield were the only issues to show consistent strength. Call money opened a 5½ per cent on the exchange, but outside offerings were made at 5 per cent.

Oils, equipments, sugars, chemicals and tobaccos sustained further losses during the intermediate session. Shorts were active in general asphalt, Royal Dutch, California Petroleum, General Electric, Harvester, American Sugar, Sumatra Tobacco and Virginia Carolina Chemical common and preferred, these showing losses of 1 to 2 points.

Minor steels and rails were brought forward later, but the list gave way in the final dealings when oils and motors were subjected to greater pressure. The closing was heavy.

Total sales: Stocks, 493,000 shares; bonds, $15,929,000.

PACIFIC FOOD PRICES AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

ANOTHER SHORT DAY'S TRADING DUE TOMORROW

Oakland Produce Operations Continue Brisk; New Offerings.

After having practically decided to close the Oakland produce market on Admission day, commission houses reconsidered in the face of necessity of caring for considerable deliveries expected and it was determined today that a three-hour morning session should be held, duplicating that of Monday. Little active trading is expected however.

Trading today continued very brisk, the week, particularly because of the shortened trading time, but more because of stimulation of trade by weather and other conditions, having greatly heartened both commission sellers and growers who are beginning to look gloomy.

Today prices were firm except on melons and tomatoes. The latter weakened to $1.25 a lug on wide delivery and there were sales as cheap as 75 cents. Cannery buyers have begun to take actively from the produce stalls, but at restricted prices as yet.

Two new offerings were in the stalls today, the first of the year's dates and Nevada honey. A carload of the dates was received yesterday quoted at $7 less discount, which brought the market quotation today to $6.75. The dates were Dromedaries in the usual pack. The new price is an advance of about 50 cents over that on the old. The honey was quoted up to $7 a case. Local honey is expected soon and probably will bring lowered prices.

New advances have been made on citrus offerings following elevations in the quotations on both Valencia oranges and lemons at southern shipping points. The increase is about 50 cents. Oranges now are quoted here at about $5 to $5.50 a crate and lemons have marked an increase to $6 and $6.50.

Oakland's first full carload of Belleflower apples is expected to reach the market from the Watsonville district tomorrow or Saturday. Thus far there have been scattered offerings only. The initial prices are expected to be about $2 a box or slightly more, the car being of fancy pack.

C. W. Browne has been appointed secretary of the Oakland Retail Grocers' association to succeed the late E. S. Hogan. Browne has taken up his new duties at the Franklin street headquarters, where his capacity is managerial as well as secretarial.

Eggs Take 3c Jump Under Export Call

A sharp rise in the price of extra fresh eggs on the Dairy Exchange today, from 47½ cents to 50½ cents per dozen, was attributed by dealers to a shipment of 1600 cases of the best grades to the United Kingdom.

Extra firsts gained only 1 cent, however, and there was a decline in the less fancy grades. Butter kept pace, advancing 2½ cents to 47½.

No Markets for Vast Stocks Shipped Before Armistice: Many a Total Loss.

By HOLLAND.
Exclusive to The TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—There remain in various places in some of the South American nations and also in Central Europe and even the Far East vast accumulations of commodities exported from the United States in the expectation that there would land a ready sale and furnish a very profitable business for some corporation which were organized to facilitate foreign trade.

The president of one of the larger New York banks said this morning that it still is a serious problem, in what way these accumulated stores of commodities can be disposed of. Many of them are not confined in storage warehouses. Some of them are in open fields, scantily protected against weather and other dangers. Some of them are already so greatly impaired that it is not possible to market them.

This banker estimated the aggregate amount measured in dollars of these vast accumulations at not less than a hundred million dollars. Sooner or later these must be settled, ultimately with the government, because the foreign trade corporations in many cases received aid from governmental authorities.

A MISTAKEN OUTLOOK.

Several years ago the disposition was very strong to organize corporations whose business was to be the financing and facilitating of our foreign trade. There seemed to prevail a lapse in judgment, for the belief was strong that the war might be continued for several years. Therefore commodities were rushed to foreign markets in the expectation that the demand for them would be heavy and payments based upon adequate credits would be certain.

But the sudden termination of the war disarranged all these plans. After the armistice was signed it was discovered that commodities in enormous amounts had been sent to South America and some other nations. But by reason of the embarrassments occasioned by fluctuations in foreign exchange and also for other reasons it was impossible to market these commodities. Some will entail a complete loss. Some of them may be marketed by and by.

WITHDRAWING FROM BUSINESS.

This experience has taught a lesson which some of the corporations have thoroughly learned. The foreign trade banks are gradually withdrawing from this business, and the probability is that within a few months many, if not all, of the corporations organized to finance and facilitate foreign trade will cease to do business of that kind.

When J. P. Morgan postponed his departure for Europe, the reason commonly given was his desire to remain in New York until the contemplated surgical operation for the relief of his partner, Henry P. Davison, had been performed. But there was another reason why Morgan delayed his departure, and he made acknowledgment of it by publishing a brief statement in which he asserted that it was necessary still further to assist a banking corporation organized to finance foreign trade, and in which banks were the stockholders, and furthermore that this assistance had been given.

Perhaps the time has come when it may be properly reported that there was a moment of peril due to the embarrassments with which this foreign trade financing bank had met. These embarrassments were not only facing this corporation, but they were shared in by some of the banks which were stockholders in the corporation. It was discovered that many millions were involved.

NOT BAD MANAGEMENT.

These embarrassments were not occasioned by bad management. When the institution was organized there was associated with it every indication that it was to enter upon a large and very profitable undertaking. But South America and some of the nations of Europe were unable to accept the American commodities which had been sent to them, the export of which had been financed by this institution.

There are rumors that attempts are now in progress, which if they are completed, will result in a very large and powerful combination of financial strength and recognized business ability, whose influence upon our foreign commerce will be satisfactory and whose management will be careful to avoid the dangers which our foreign trade corporations at last found themselves confronted with, dangers so many and great that gradually foreign trade banks are retiring from that business.

The ship Star of Russia also arrived from Bristol Bay with 58,200 cases of salmon for the Alaska Packers' Association. She was 26 days on the voyage and brought fishermen and cannery employees home.

The steamer Ioleos, a Greek craft of 5192 tons, was chartered today by the Northern Grain and Warehouse Company to load wheat on the Columbia river for the United Kingdom at the rate of 65 shillings.

The Dutch steamer Hilversum, 2254 tons, will load barley at this port for the United Kingdom at 63 shillings per ton.

MONONGAHELA SOLD.

It has been rumored in shipping circles today that the ship Monongahela has been sold at auction at Manila and that the crew are en route home by steamer. The Monongahela was a German interned ship, taken over by the American government at the outbreak of the war. She sailed from this port on January 23, 1920, and has been away ever since. On board were twenty-five cadets, most of them from Alameda county, whose parents recently have requested Washington to have the boys sent home, which was granted.

In all three vessels were sold, the others being the Chillicothe, Auctioned to John E. Blake of Seattle for $25,000, and the Moshulu, which brought $29,500 when she was sold at auction at Oakland harbor to the Charles Nelson Company. The price or the name of the purchaser of the Monongahela was not given, but it was rumored that a shipping firm from this port bought the big windjammer and will send her to this port.

The steam schooner San Pedro, with lumber for this port, is reported in distress near the Golden Gate and is being towed into port by a tug.

Change of masters registered at the United States customs house: Captain L. P. Harvey, steam tug Sea Eagle; Captain J. H. Evans, steam tug Traveler.

FONT DESCRIBES MANY BEAUTIES OF SOUTH LANDS

"This place is fertile and beautiful country with rose bushes, grape vines, blackberries and other plants that give one great pleasure in seeing them so green. In a word, all this country from the Puerto de San Carlos forward, is a land that does not produce thorns and thistles. Nor did I see in the whole country I traveled over as far as the port of San Francisco, either trees or shrubs of a thorny sort such as are found in the country outside, except a few cacti and some nettles which I saw near the port of San Diego. Nor are any thorns to be found on the plants except the roses and blackberries. In short it is a land totally different from any that I have seen in America and in the plants and flowery aspects of the meadows it is very similar to Spain. It is also so in the fact that its rains occur in the winter.

"It has a very clear and a most delicious aspect. . . . It seemed to me that there were excellent places for large settlements with good conditions for raising fine crops, besides horses, cattle and sheep. In short this land seems to be very good and if the small hills in these valleys had trees on them there would be nothing left to desire."

ARRIVAL AT SAN GABRIEL A JOYOUS AFFAIR.

The party was awarded a most joyous welcome when it arrived at the mission of San Gabriel Thursday, January 4, 1776. The feeling was fully reciprocated by the immigrants as they considered the arrival at this place the culmination of the worst section of their journey, which it was.

Font's diary states: "Our arrival at San Gabriel was a cause of great joy to everybody and the escort of the mission received us with a salvo, while the other two fathers who were there, Fray Antonio Cruzado and Fray Miguel Sanchez, rang the bells continuously with special demonstrations of happiness."

The party decided to rest up at this mission before proceeding and Anza and Commandante Don Fernando J. Riveray Moncado, commander of all of California, talked over the plans for punishment of the Indians who the month previously, had destroyed the mission of San Diego, killing one of the priests and a couple of the attendants.

Irrigation was early practiced in California. At the mission of San Gabriel Father Font was shown the conduit which carried the water from the springs to the fertile fields of the institution. This conduit passed through the Indian quarters and near the house of the fathers. The mission itself was picturesquely situated. Father Font writes: "It commands all of the adjoining meadows which are suitable for planting.

FIRST DESCRIPTION OF SAN GABRIEL.

"San Gabriel is a mission with such great advantages for raising crops and with such good pasture for cattle and horses that nothing better could be desired. The cows that it has are very fat and give delicious milk from which a great many cheeses are made and very good butter. The fathers raise pigs and have a small flock of sheep. They also have some chickens. There is sufficient timber of oak and other trees for building and consequently for firewood. The only lack is lime which has not been found yet, but perhaps by looking well it will be found for improving the buildings which are made at present some of adobe, but mostly of sticks and tule, for which reason they are very dangerous, especially when exposed to fire. At this time the only buildings are a very long hut, all of one floor, and divided into three rooms which serve as a dwelling for the fathers, a granary and for everything. A little distance from here is another square hut which serves as a church. Near this last is the guard room as they call it, or the barracks of the soldiers who are at the mission as an escort, eight in number; and then some tule huts which are the habitations of the Indians. In short, as Father Paterna says, it is like the land of promise."

According to the information given Father Font, at that time there were 500 Indians domiciled at Mission San Gabriel, doing the work of the mission and receiving the religious and secular instruction from the missionaries. The neophytes were clothing while the gentiles, as he calls the wild Indians, did not. They were required to remain right at the mission and were only rarely allowed to go into the hills to hunt, under special permit.

It was decided that Anza, Father Font and twenty soldiers were to accompany Commandante Rivera and ten soldiers to San Diego to investigate the uprising at that mission. This side trip is particularly interesting to Californians from the fact that it was the means of giving the world the first description of the California poppy, later to become known to the Spaniards as Copa de Oro, and by botanists as Escholtzia. The party passed the pleasant rolling stretches of land extending away on both sides of the Santa Ana river and which, from all accounts, must have been a carpet of gold from the freshly blossomed spring flowers. Font describes the future state flower as "yellow tulips which covered great fields." He also describes the well known children's friend, Johnny Jump-up, as a species of yellow pansy. The venerable Father Font was a keen nature lover and his diary pages are full of the natural history descriptions and names are most apt as in the case of the woodpecker. While crossing the oak enshrouded plains of the Salinas river near where is now situated the town of Paso Robles, he heard them hammering away on the limbs of the trees.

"There are some birds here, the carpenters, which make round holes in the trunks of the oak trees and in the hole they put an acorn so skilfully that it can scarcely be taken out. In this way they lay away their provisions and harvest and some of the oaks are all sprinkled over with the acorns in their trunks."

His observing eyes also gave a report upon the existence of both oil and bitumen. "In one place he found a spring from which the black substance was exuding and he secured reports of the existence of similar springs into other nearby localities from the Indians. This is thought to be the very first report of the existence of oil in California. This observation was made January 4, 1776.

Lost Pages in California History

By FRANCIS CLIFF.

The story of the De Anza Expedition across the Colorado Desert and to San Francisco Bay is told for the first time in the words of the old Commandante and of Padre Pedro Font. Diaries of De Anza and Font, found in Mexico by Dr. Herbert Bolton, have given a new chapter in California history to the world. The story is published here for the first time, this being the fourth installment.

A cliff dwelling on the heights above the Pass of San Carlos. MRS. PADEN is shown looking down the trail into the Colorado Desert. This particular dwelling was a sort of watch-tower, from which the trail could be observed for many miles in either direction.

SCOUTS TO HAVE LARGE SHARE IN INDUSTRIAL WEEK

Boys to Guard Exhibits and Also Stage Special Stunts for the Visitors.

Boy Scout organizations of Oakland and other Eastbay cities will play an important part in the forthcoming Industrial Week and Exposition to be held October 1 to 9 inclusive at Idora Park according to an announcement today by the executive committee of the Associated Manufacturers of the Eastbay cities who are sponsoring the first annual exhibition.

C. A. Withington, Oakland, field executive of the Boy Scout main organization, today completed arrangements with the committee for Scouts' part in the exposition. According to Withington, 1500 Boy Scouts, representing 45 troop units in Oakland alone, will be active in the affair. Several hundred other scouts from Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont, Emeryville and other Eastbay cities are to be enrolled.

Withington and other Scout executives of the Eastbay cities will meet sometime this week with the executive committee and final plans for the scouts' participation in the exposition will be formulated. The executives plan to visit Idora Park this week and designate space near the stadium, where the scouts will conduct their demonstrations and exhibitions.

"Like the Eastbay manufacturers we, too, have something to sell the public," Withington said today. "It is the Boy Scout idea."

The scouts will be utilized to guarding the exhibits and to act as guides to the thousands who will visit the park during the exposition. One of the features in connection with the boy scout activities at the exposition will be the installation of a radio telephone equipment to be utilized in relaying concerts to the park from the Fairmont hotel. All paraphernalia will be supplied by Eastbay manufacturers.

The Boy Scout band will give concerts between exhibitions put on by the scouts, and a model camp will be constructed. An effort is being made to interest the campfire girl organizations in a similar exhibit during the exposition.

1000 Guests At Wedding; 'Class' Affair

BELLAMY, Ala., Sept. 8.—Alabama is talking today about an enormous wedding. The minister who started to tie the knot was in an airplane, which crashed into a tree; a blast from a siren at a lumber plant announced the arrival of the wedding party at the altar; a thousand wedding guests were seated at a table in a frame church built for the ceremony, and the table was so long that those at one end could not hear speakers at the other. Those who did not dance were entertained by motion pictures.

Miss Kathryn Allison, daughter of the president of the Allison Lumber Company, was the bride, and Allen Grubbs of Eutawa was the bridegroom. The Rev. Henry M. Edmonds of Birmingham started to fly to the ceremony, but after the accident, found himself unable to reach Bellamy in time.

Frank Willis Barnett, representing the Birmingham Age-Herald, is an ordained minister, so he stepped into the breach and performed the ceremony.

It all happened last night, and the guests said a pleasant time was had by all.

Truant Girl, Boy Gathered In By Police

Policeman Raymond Husted of the Harbor station, making the rounds of the waiting rooms at the Ferry Building in San Francisco at an early hour this morning, saw two huddled sleeping figures curled upon a bench and began to investigate. As he approached closer he saw that a small boy was slumbering with his head resting on the lap of a girl a few years his senior, whose head had fallen back on the bench in sleep. Arousing the youngsters Husted found that he had come upon a pair of repentent runaways. They were Margaret Tuckett, 14 years old, of 2016 Thirty-third avenue, Oakland, and her 11-year-old cousin, Dudley Brooks, of the same address.

Husted took the pair to the San Francisco Juvenile Detention home for the night. Margaret, telling her story to the matron, declared she had been reprimanded last night at the supper table and had decided to run away. She feared to make the trip alone and little Dudley was easily persuaded to accompany her.

She said that when they reached San Francisco she went in search of an aunt living in the vicinity of the Presidio. After looking for the house for several hours, they gave up the search and decided it would be best to go back home. When the ferry was reached the last boat had gone. They were returned to their parents today.

WIFE'S HOARDED GOLD IMPERILED AS HOUSE BURNS

That a woman can save money out of her household allowance without her husband's knowledge was proved last night when the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Rinehart, 9221 Foothill boulevard, was partly destroyed by fire.

When the blaze was discovered Mrs. Rinehart told her husband to rush into the pantry and get a leather bag in which she had some money hidden in. He could not find it, but did not worry much, as he thought it contained only a few dollars. Meanwhile his wife was rescuing valuable papers in a strong box in another room.

So busy were both that they forgot to turn in a fire alarm. A passing autoist notified the fire deparment.

When the couple got out of the house, Mrs. Rinehart gave her husband a real thrill when she told him that the missing bag contained $900 in gold.

When the fire was out Rinehart and Battalion Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead waded through the water and found the gold scattered all around the pantry. The fire in the rear of the house was so that it melted several of the gold pieces together.
